St. Bonaventure, Doctor of the Church

FEAST DAY: JULY 15

St. Bonaventure, who is known as the “seraphic doctor,” was healed of a dangerous illness through the intercession of St. Francis when he was a child. He later entered St. Francis’ Order of Friars Minor in the mid-1200s and studied, as well as taught, at the University of Paris. He received the degree of Doctor, together with St. Thomas Aquinas, both on the same day in 1257.

St. Bonaventure wrote what is considered the definitive biography of St. Francis and was a dear friend of St. Louis of France. He governed the Order of the Friars Minor and was named both a Cardinal and Bishop. He also played a key role in the Council of Lyons in 1274 though he died during the proceedings. According to his secretary’s writings, he was poisoned.

Many miracles have been attributed to his intercession, and portions of his body were found incorrupt 150+ years later. His head, which had been preserved, sadly disappeared during the French Revolution.

Clergy Corner: Me and Time

Fr. Matthew Kalu

to be lived; we are not to just exist.

It's a mistake to think that time is going and that time is here for eternity. Or that we don't waste time, because it's infinite. It's rather US that are going; we grow old and pass away; therefore, we must make better use of our time before then, because humans have an expiration date, but time doesn't. I think that the most expensive thing in life is time. Every other thing can be replaced: money can be returned; lost opportunities could come back, but time never comes back. Time is like real currency, so don't waste your time thinking that you have plenty of it. Life is

Our living consists in three parts: yesterday, today and tomorrow. There is always OPPORTUNITY in our lives.

Yesterday: There is no "O" for opportunity in the word "yesterday." In "yesterday," all opportunities not attained or achieved are gone, because it doesn't exist again.

Today: In "today," we have only one "O" in the word. Today is the one opportunity to achieve whatever we need. Therefore, here and now is very important. Never miss the "O" of today. The perfect moment is the "here and now." Invest your time wisely and spend time with people you love. Learn new things, take care of your health (especially spiritual health), do something meaningful and don't postpone your happiness, love, gratitude or apologies, especially in your relationship with God. Use time and don't waste it. Time is not forever for us.

Tomorrow: God, in His providence and goodness, provides three "Os" in the word "tomorrow." Commit YOUR tomorrow to God's providence.

The Lesson: Forget yesterday, because there is no opportunity in it. Make good use of the chances God has given you today, and prepare for more opportunities tomorrow. Spiritually, being in good relationship with God NOW is more important to Jesus than times when we were estranged from Him in the past. Don't allow the past to weigh you down. We are capable and have the freedom to change our minds and hearts for a better relationship with the Lord Jesus.

Remember, forever was never promised; it's only real in God. Commit your past to God's mercy, your present to His love and your tomorrow to His providence.

HEART OF A PARISH

Living Generously Challenge

Plant a tree. Give this gift to the children of today and tomorrow. The air we breathe provides the oxygen we need to live. It also rids the body of waste and toxins. So, breathe deep, plant a tree, and give the gift of fresh air to the people of tomorrow. Being generous with the environment is a way of being generous with future generations.

Increase Your Prayer Life This Year

This year, St. Alphonsus is offering multiple opportunities to help parishioners grow closer to God in prayer.

JULY 26 9:30AM OR JULY 30 6:30PM

Whether you’ve been praying for decades or are just getting started, come learn, practice and pray with our parish community. Join us in person as we dive into the different ways the Church has been praying for hundreds, if not thousands, of years. In July, we’ll explore Ignatian Imaginative Prayer

Monthly through November, we will learn about a different form of prayer. In May, we’ll focus on the Liturgy of the Hours/Divine Office. Choose from July 26 in Parish Hall or July 30 in Weitzel Hall. To learn more, visit ZionsvilleCatholic.com/HowtoPray.
