St. Pio of Pietrelcina (Padre Pio)

FEAST DAY: SEPTEMBER 23

A follower of St. Francis of Assisi, St. Pio, known to many as "Padre Pio," was born in 1887 in Pietrelcina, Italy. At 16, he entered the Capuchin Friars, taking the name Brother Pio and eventually ordained a priest. He was sent to San Giovanni Rotondo where he remained until his death.

He was devoted to the sacramental reconciliation of penitents and to the celebration of the Eucharist. He also committed himself to relieving the pain and suffering of many, especially through the foundation of the Casa Sollievo della Sofferenza (House for the Relief of Suffering).

Padre Pio is known for his miraculous cures, bilocation, prophecy, conversion, perfume and his reading of souls.

Though he lived to be 81, he endured various sicknesses throughout his life, as well as spiritual sufferings. He is the only priest to bear the Stigmata, the five wounds of Jesus Christ Crucified.

Pope John Paul II canonized him a saint in 2002.

Clergy Corner Special Guest: Fr. Antony Jean Baptiste

I was a young seminarian in the Archdiocese of Port-au-Prince. During summer vacation, as is customary, seminarians spend some time in their home parishes. That is why I was in Duval, my home parish, in July 2008.

During that stay, one situation caught my attention and left a deep impression on me. It was around noon when a woman rang the doorbell at the rectory and asked to see the priest. I was sitting on the rectory balcony with the parish priest, preparing for a meeting with the chapel sacristans.

The housekeeper told the woman that the priest was not available. The woman insisted, saying "I don't really need the priest. I am hungry and looking for something to eat. My children are hungry at home, and I would like to help them." The housekeeper told her, "No, ma'am, I cannot help you."

Father Isaac Nazaire, the parish pastor, heard the entire conversation and replied from upstairs. "Let the woman in and give her whatever food we have ourselves," he said. "If she goes to the police station, they will beat her. This is the only place she can come to complain in complete safety." That day, Father Isaac went without food so he could feed this poor woman and her children.

This is what priests do in Haiti. Someone might ask, "Where does my money go, or why should I send my money to this country plagued by gang violence?" Your money will go toward caring for the poor who believe in human values and who reject violence as a means of survival. Many poor people in this country uphold human and family values such as honesty, sincerity, frankness, truth, consideration for others, mutual aid, respect and a love of work, etc.

Amid gang violence, the Catholic Church has faced an unprecedented wave of persecution in Haiti. Priests and nuns have been murdered, including Joseph Simoly, André Sylvestre, Sr. Isa Solá Matas (a Spanish missionary), Sister Luisa Dell'Orto (an Italian missionary), Sister Evanette Onezaire and Sr. Jeanne Voltaire (both Haitian); others have been kidnapped, and still others have been forced to leave the country (I am one of these).

Many families and priests have had to relocate to escape gang violence. They are living in tents on land that was not designated for that purpose. Unemployed, they face great hardships. The latest UN reports indicate 600 deaths in downtown Port-au-Prince alone during the month of July. On the night of August 23-24, a massacre took place in Kenscoff. Forty-seven people were killed, 50 were kidnapped, and 22 were injured (see United Nations, August 28, 2026).

Currently, Haiti needs security, healthcare, clean drinking water, food and above all, education. Education will transform the lives of Haitian citizens. There is no hope for Haiti without education.

The partnership between parishes in the United States and those in Haiti is of paramount importance to Haitians. I speak from personal experience. Thanks to the support of St. Elizabeth Seton Parish in Carmel, Indiana, I was able to go to school, study at the major seminary, become a priest, earn a master's degree in education, and now I am serving this parish that changed my life. I am grateful and proud of the support I received and of my presence in this parish. I am convinced that the faithful of Saint Elizabeth Ann Seton are proud of me. I thank them from the bottom of my heart. We are four priests from Duval who received our education thanks to this partnership: Josué, Savio, Ronald and myself. May the Lord bless the faithful of this parish.

Thank you for supporting St. Anthony of Padua Parish in the Diocese of Hinche. Thank you for supporting education in this parish. It is the most pressing need. Educating a young Haitian means helping him approach life in a different way, steering him away from gangs as a path to success; it means helping him aim far and high and fostering a vision of excellence. God alone knows how many lives you have saved through your help. Mother Teresa said, "Love is never too great. Jesus is the same in the poor as in the Eucharist." With this thought in mind, I can conclude: To help the poor is to help Jesus himself. May the Lord reward you a hundredfold for your help; may He bless you and be with you always and everywhere!

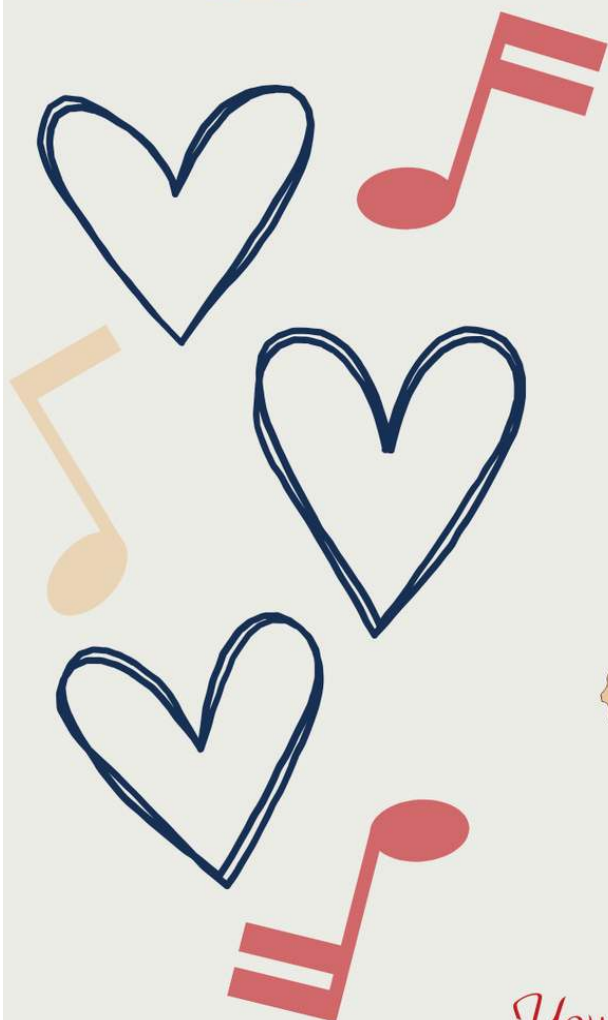

Fr. Antony Jean-Baptiste

Increase Your Prayer Life This Year

This year, St. Alphonsus is offering multiple opportunities to help parishioners grow closer to God in prayer.

St. Francis and the Franciscan Way of Life With Fr. David Huemmer

SEPTEMBER 30, 6:30PM

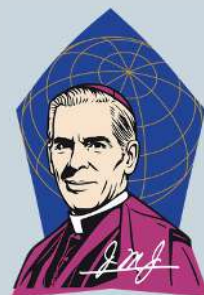

St. Francis gave up everything to follow Christ and heard God's call to "Rebuild My Church." Fr. Huemmer will discuss this great saint and encourage us to ask the question: How is God calling me to rebuild His Church?

One way He has called some is through Secular Third Orders, lay people who follow rules of life stemming from religious orders such as the Franciscans, Dominicans and Benedictines.

Learn about that way of life from our own local Third Order Franciscans from St. Alphonsus, who will also be there to answer questions and offer information about the Secular Franciscan way of life.

Look for a related Hallow prayer challenge coming Oct. 4!
