THE SPIRIT MOVES – SOMETIMES IN MYSTERIOUS WAYS

This Sunday, August 9th, we finally get to belatedly celebrate the Sacrament of Confirmation for this year's 8th grade Religious Education classes – from both St. Joseph and St. Emeric. Because there was no way for the Bishop-Vicars to catch up with all the parishes they were scheduled to visit since March, all the pastors of the Archdiocese were given the "faculties" to confirm by Cardinal Cupich. So, minus mitre or crosier, I'll have the rare privilege of confirming these young men and women in the hope that they will allow the Holy Spirit to transform their lives with the seven gifts that can enable them to truly live their faith in all the years to come. Please keep all of them in your prayers.

But the Spirit has also been busy moving in other ways these past few weeks. Perhaps you've heard "through the grapevine" of a change in our Renew My Church grouping which had included five parishes in our area: St. Anne, St. Emeric, Infant Jesus of Prague, St. Lawrence O'Toole and, of course, St. Joseph. But St. Lawrence O'Toole will no longer be with us and has been moved to a fairly large group that includes the Chicago Hts. parishes. I only learned of this change from a parishioner who had read St. Lawrence O'Toole's bulletin a few weeks ago which included a letter to the parishioners from Bishop Perry announcing the revised grouping. Unfortunately, neither I nor the other pastors were informed of this in advance. I hadn't planned to write anything about this until I had heard directly from someone – anyone – at the Archdiocese; but as of August 1st, that hasn't happened. Also included in that letter from Bishop Perry was the news that our own group's "activation" – the time when the real work of assessing parish viability and structuring begins – is being moved up from January, 2022 until sometime in 2021, though no start date was given. And with my own retirement date firmly set for June, 2021, I hope the folks doing the planning for Renew My Church will have the good sense to take that into account. Anyway, now you know as much as I do!

I have to admit that it's a bit disheartening to be kept in the dark about something so important, but I'll try to be charitable and chalk it up to the strange and complicated times in which we're living, which now includes the downsizing of Archdiocesan offices and the departure of some key officials. But looking at this in another way, it can also say something about how the Holy Spirit does indeed move in mysterious ways in our lives and in our world. So I suspect the best thing to do for now is to pray that we'll be able to follow where the Spirit leads and trust that wherever that may be is where God wants us and needs us to be.

Gospel Meditation

19TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Be still and know that I am God. Silence is sacred. Silence speaks the language of the soul and is the foundation of all life and eternity itself. Silence takes us beyond the limits of our minds and allows us to seek and to love the essence of all love, perfect love, and being. In silence, we can be non-verbally present to things and to God in ways that words cannot accomplish. We can discover, encounter, and be present to truths that our minds struggle to conceive and then set aside the boxes we put around things when comprehending them is challenging. We can know the unknowable and touch eternity when we encounter the core silence in our souls.

We can do this even on a noisy street and in the midst of the greatest distraction. Once we have made friends with silence, the rambling noise of the world no longer seems to matter, and we can carry a deep forgiving peace within us, even when physical silence cannot be found. We know that we are loved, cared for, sustained, nourished, embraced, and carried. There is nothing to fear in silence, and I can be present to myself in the same way that God is present to me. I can see myself as God sees me. All of my faults, weaknesses, imperfections, failings, and sinfulness melt away in the abundance of God's mercy. All of the worldly things we see as being important no longer are.

It is in silence that all of the barriers that divide us disappear. There is no more "yours" and "mine" but only the oneness of "ours." There is no longer a need to "figure things out," and we tap into our desire to simply let things be. Silence is creative and powerful and gives us hope. Silence is God's greatest blessing. God became one with humanity in silence. It allows us to be one with all of creation, with the moon and the stars and all of the creatures God has made. The smallest particle of creation radiates with beauty. Silence allows us to soar beyond ourselves and connect in ways that the mind can only imagine. When all is quiet, we begin to see that it is only our fear that keeps us from the Lord. It is our fear that causes us to sink and to fail. We can hear the gentle whisper that tells us to reach for God's hand. We discover that we yearn for the salvation and wholeness that only God can give to us. Be still my soul and be at peace.

BEING HUMAN IS TO DOUBT

Humans doubt. It's what we do. We doubt ourselves and we doubt others. Before any of us say anything about Peter's doubting the words of Jesus that told him he could get out of his boat and walk on water, we need to get real with ourselves: How would I respond in the same situation? I remember when I was child taking swimming lessons. One day I simply tightened up my muscles and sank. The lifeguard pulled me up and asked what happened. I said I did not know. The truth is that I was sinking under the weight of my own doubt. I did not believe I could do what clearly, I was told I could. That was only in five feet of water in a pool! Now that I'm older, I can look back and laugh. But an adult, the swimming pool is life, and I would be lying if I said that there are no longer times I find myself sinking due to new doubts.

Much of our doubt comes about because of a lack of trust in God. We place our trust in material things, wealth, or imperfect people instead of the One who is worthy of our trust 100 percent of the time. Our stewardship is often hampered by our doubt that God will provide all that we need. If I give more, I may not have enough to survive! When we place all our trust in God, not only do we find that we have been given all we need – our doubt that cause us to sink in the pool of life fades away. We don't suddenly become perfect in our trust, and there will be times when we find ourselves with concerns again. However, it is in those moments we find that He is still there, speaking the words we need to hear: "Take courage, it is I; do not be afraid."

For Your Information

CAN YOU REALLY CATCH UP ON SLEEP OVER THE WEEKEND?

It's a common cycle. You don't get enough sleep during the week. That leads to a weekend "catch-up," which leads to not getting enough sleep during the week, and so on and so on.

But can you really catch up on all that sleep debt on the weekend? Research examined the data, and the short answer of their findings: No.

The research was published in Current Biology. The researchers assigned young, healthy adults to one of three groups – one that was able to sleep nine hours a night for nine nights, one that was able to sleep only five hours each night for nine nights, and a third group that was allowed to sleep five hours for five days (weekdays) followed by a weekend of unlimited sleep followed by two more days with limited sleep (five hours).

They then looked at factors impacted by insufficient sleep like weight gain and insulin sensitivity.

The findings? For both sleep-restricted groups who slept five hours consistently or during weekdays, the researchers saw an increase in weight gain and late-night (after dinner) snacking. While the third group whose restrictions were lifted on the weekends did consume fewer calories during that time, their after-dinner consumption and weight gain rose when they returned to insufficient sleep during the week. Both sleep-restricted groups saw a decrease in insulin sensitivity.

"Changing your sleep habits on the weekends can actually be detrimental for your health as you're are changing your sleep architecture and circadian rhythms," says Dr. Yelena Tumashova, a sleep medicine specialist at Advocate Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge, Ill. "It's extremely important to follow the same sleep schedule during the week and on the weekends. Ideally all adults would sleep between seven and seven and a half hours a night, but for those that have a sleep debt and are looking to catch up on the weekend, a much more effective measure is keeping the same sleep schedule and adding a short nap, an hour at most, on the weekends."

So what about the study findings and the impact of poor sleep on one's health?

Dr. Tumashova is not surprised by the findings, as poor sleep affects your metabolic rate, which regulates during deep sleep. This can slow your metabolism, cause weight gain and even lead to Type 2 diabetes.

"Poor sleep also can cause daytime tiredness, leading to less exercise, less energy and when people are tired they tend to eat more unhealthy foods," she adds. "It also can cause REM deprivation which can lead to depression or other mood disorders."

But what if you can't get in those important hours of sleep during the week?

"We often find excuses for why we can't get sleep," says Dr. Tumashova. "I encourage all my patients to make their sleep a priority. Oftentimes when we sit down and talk through those excuses, we'll find that they aren't relevant. For example, if you have to wake up early for work, try going to bed earlier."

Having trouble getting to sleep early?

Start training your body. Create a positive sleep environment, without the TV or other screens and devices that distract us and keep us awake, Dr. Tumashova says.

"Make sure you're only sleeping in the bedroom. Reserving that space for sleep trains our bodies to go to bed when we're there," she says.

ST. JOSEPH'S RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The archdiocese has advised religious education programs to develop the capacity to offer classes in both virtual and in-person formats. To do this we need catechists who can teach both virtual classes or 'at-home formation' and in-person classes. For in-person classes to be executed safely we need a new cadre of volunteers to monitor safety measures such as social distancing upon entry/exit and in the hallways, and that all persons in the school building are wearing masks. Catechists and other volunteers associated with the religious education program must complete archdiocese compliance requirements including Virtus training, mandated reporter training, and a background check.

If you can help in any way please contact Karen Shifflett at kshifflett@posjhomewood.org or 708-798-6311.

Thank you.

A SCAM ALERT

The Archdiocese recently sent out an alert regarding e-mail scams which purport to be from parish staff members soliciting gift cards for the needy. At least one parishioner here fell for such a scam a few months ago and lost several hundred dollars to a supposed plea from me to help a needy person in the community. Someone else received an e-mail from "me" asking for money to help my "brother" who was experiencing financial difficulties – definitely a red flag, since I'm an only child. He wisely phoned me to verify the legitimacy of that plea.

So, be clear: neither I nor anyone on our staff will ever e-mail or text you to request a donation for anything. In fact I will never text you since I've only sent two or three texts in my entire life from little my flip phone! I will thank you for your generosity in bulletin articles as I've done today or ask you to be generous in the future, but that's all. I often think that, if the people who perpetrate these scams would use their cleverness to find a cure for cancer or global warming, the world would be a much better place. But alas, that's not to be. And if you're suspicious about any kind of online request for financial help, a good old-fashioned phone call to the person supposedly making that request is always the best way to sort that out.

Gospel Reading

Matthew 14:22-33

Jesus walks on water, and the disciples acknowledge him as the Son of God.

BACKGROUND ON THE GOSPEL READING

Today's Gospel directly follows last week's account of Jesus feeding a crowd of more than 5,000 people with just five loaves of bread and two fish. For the sake of the crowds, Jesus had postponed his time of solitude. Now, at last, Jesus finds some time for quiet and prayer. He sends his disciples ahead of him by boat, dismisses the crowds, and then withdraws to the mountain to pray.

The disciples do not fare well. They struggle to weather the wind and waves, making little progress in their journey. We are reminded of a previous story in Chapter 8 of Matthew's Gospel, when Jesus calms the seas. This time, however, Jesus does not calm the seas, and the disciples do not express fear until they see Jesus walking toward them on the water. In this story it is not the storm that is feared but the sight of Jesus before them, whom they mistake for a ghost.

Clues like these suggest that this story is about the disciples' growing understanding of the identity of Jesus. In continuity with last week's Gospel about the feeding of the multitude, today's Gospel is also about what the disciples' faith in Jesus will enable them to do. In last week's Gospel, when the disciples see the crowds, they ask Jesus to send the crowds away. Jesus turns the situation around, telling the disciples to feed the crowd with the provisions that they have. Both of these Gospels tell us much about ministry.

Jesus calls to the disciples and calms their fears. He is not a ghost. The impulsive Peter seeks proof that the person is indeed Jesus. He asks Jesus to call him out onto the water, and Jesus grants this request. Peter's fear and doubt overtake him, however, once he is walking on the water. Jesus reaches out to Peter and saves him. When Jesus and Peter enter the boat, Matthew reports that the wind ceases, and the disciples confess that Jesus is the Son of God.

Faith in Jesus will enable the disciples to do the work that Jesus has done. Peter walks on water. The five loaves and two fish feed a multitude of people. The disciples can and will participate in the work of the kingdom of heaven. When Peter fears and doubts the person of Jesus, however, he falters. Peter's example teaches us that true Christian ministry emerges from the faith that Jesus is the Messiah, God's only Son.

19th Sunday in Ordinary Time • Matthew 14:22-33

After he had fed the people, Jesus made the disciples get into a boat and precede him to the other side, while he dismissed the crowds. After doing so, he went up on the mountain by himself to pray. When it was evening he was there alone. Meanwhile the boat, already a few miles offshore, was being tossed about by the waves, for the wind was against it. During the fourth watch of the night, he came toward them walking on the sea. When the disciples saw him walking on the sea they were terrified. "It is a ghost," they said, and they cried out in fear. At once Jesus spoke to them, "Take courage, it is I; do not be afraid." Peter said to him in reply, "Lord, if it is you, command me to come to you on the water." He said, "Come." Peter got out of the boat and began to walk on the water toward Jesus. But when he saw how strong the wind was he became frightened; and, beginning to sink, he cried out, "Lord, save me!" Immediately Jesus stretched out his hand and caught Peter, and said to him, "O you of little faith, why did you doubt?" After they got into the boat, the wind died down. Those who were in the boat did him homage, saying, "Truly, you are the Son of God."
