Growing New Feathers

1. Imagine you are a bird. You eat food and fly every day. As you grow, your feathers begin to change. Some old feathers fall out so new feathers can grow.
2. Birds do not lose all their feathers at once. They lose a few feathers at a time. New feathers grow underneath to keep the bird warm and safe.
3. Many birds change their feathers during different seasons. This helps them stay strong and ready to fly. Sometimes you may find a feather on the ground where a bird has been.
