ST AGATHA, VIRGIN AND MARTYR

Died: 251

This holy virgin and martyr, St Agatha, is held in great veneration by the Greek as well as the Latin Church; and although her original Acts have not been preserved, many well-authenticated facts concerning her martyrdom are found in the Bollandists, Surius, and others.

St Agatha was a native of Sicily and descended of a noble and opulent family. These circumstances, added to her extraordinary beauty, inflamed Quintianus, a man of consular dignity, with such love of her, that he resolved to compel her to become his wife. The edicts of the emperor Decius against the Christians having been published, he ordered Agatha to be arrested as a Christian, and conducted to Catania, where he then resided.

St Agatha replied: "God is my life and my salvation." The governor then put her to the torture, which was executed with barbarous cruelty.

Quintianus then remanded the saint to prison, commanding that her wounds should be left undressed, in order that she might expire under the torture.

But at midnight St. Peter appeared to her in a vision, perfectly cured her wounds, and freed her from all pain; during the entire of that night there appeared in the interior of the prison so resplendent a light that the guards fled in terror, leaving the door of her dungeon open, so that she could have escaped, as the other prisoners advised her, but that she was unwilling, as she said, to lose by flight the crown which was being prepared for her in heaven.

Quintianus, nothing moved by her miraculous cure, but on the contrary more irritated, after four days devised new torments for the saint.

He commanded that she should be rolled over broken tiles, mixed with burning coals; but she endured all with constancy; and while the tyrant was planning fresh torments, the saint, perceiving that her life was drawing to a close, made the following prayer:

"O Lord, my Creator, who hast preserved me from infancy, hast given me strength to overcome these torments, and hast taken from me the love of the world, receive now my soul. It is time that I should at last pass from this miserable life to the fruition of Thy glory."

Just as she had finished these words, she tranquilly expired, and went to be united to God, to praise him and love him forever. This happened in 251. Her name is mentioned in the Canon of the Mass.

Serving over 1,000,000 Catholics, the mission of the Archdiocese of Atlanta is to proclaim the Gospel of the Lord, and grow all of North Georgia in faith, hope, love, and service to others. Together, we are God's hands and feet, sharing God's compassion and mercy, and demonstrating,

"Go, therefore, and make disciples."

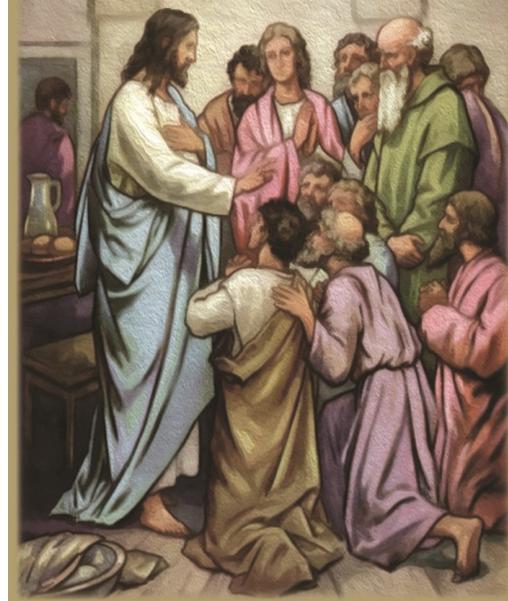

Your gift to the 2018 Archbishop's Annual Appeal helps makes it possible by supporting the ministerial, outreach, education, formation and discipleship work of the Archdiocese of Atlanta.

Please give prayerful consideration to your level of support to help fund the essential ministries and services supported by the Appeal. This weekend, we heard a recorded message from Archbishop Gregory about the Appeal and everyone who has not yet made a gift to the Appeal had the opportunity during our in-pew process this weekend. If you did not already make a pledge to the 2018 Archbishop's Annual Appeal, please prayerfully consider doing so over the next few weeks. You may drop your pledge envelope into the collection basket and we will mail your pledge commitment to the Archdiocese for you.

To learn more about the appeal, and to donate online, visit appeal.archatl.com.

A video of Archbishop Gregory's Appeal message is also available online. There is also a link on our website (www.cokas.org). Go to: PARISH INFO AND NEWS and click on Archbishop Annual Appeal.

He commands even the unclean spirits and they obey him.

SAMUEL

As a child, he served God and was placed under the care and training of Eli, the priest and judge of Israel at that time. Samuel received a prophecy from the Lord denouncing Eli and his family for many sins. Eventually, Samuel would become one of Israel's most well-known and respected prophets.

DANIEL

The book of Daniel shows that he was a faithful man of God, even from a very young age. His faithfulness caused him to end up in the lions' den and his detractors were sure that he would be devoured. But God sent an angel, who "closed the mouth of the lions" and Daniel was miraculously protected from harm.

Learn. Serve. Lead. Succeed.

The mission of schools is to develop a sense of truth, of what is good and beautiful. And this occurs through a rich path made up of many ingredients. This is why there are so many subjects — because development is the results of different elements that act together and stimulate intelligence, knowledge, the emotions, the body, and so on. - Pope Francis
