Slot machines and salvation

The boring reaction of society

Pictured: A lady playing a slot machine hopes for a bonus round or free spins

16th Sunday in Ordinary Time
July 18, 2021

This week, I'm in Las Vegas. Actually, I'm technically writing this in Henderson, which is where my in-laws live, but Anthony and I did spend a few hours on the strip just to see what it was like in a COVID sort of world.

No surprise - it's much the same, just with fewer people. Same smells, same noises, same fluorescent faux sky ceilings, same thousand-degree, oven-blast street crossings.

And the same zombies sitting at the slot machines.

I don't understand how when you walk through the casinos, you can hear people winning, sometimes see their tally of credits or coins or whatever increasing on a giant lit screen, and there is absolutely no outward reaction that I can discern! Now, maybe there's a secret gambling code that I don't know (as someone who prefers to spend her "fun money" on plants and fabric rather than slot machines), and maybe this secret code includes not gloating about a win in front of others... but I somehow doubt it. I think it's more a sense of the inevitability of winning - put in enough quarters and you'll hit a jackpot eventually, right? That attitude rather takes the joy out of winning. It's not a surprise, and it's not something that feels like a bonus, but is instead something the winner feels rather entitled to after putting in so many coins.

Now here comes The Bulletin Article Question - do you ever recognize that same sort of attitude in your view of salvation?

Really, we hit the salvation jackpot here with Jesus taking on the guilt and punishment for our sins, but I think many times we sit around and almost think we've rather earned it ourselves. After all, we go to Mass, we give to the food pantry - we've put in our spiritual quarters, done our holy time. It's about time we got something back, right?

Holy Moley, what a sad, graceless, and uninspiring view toward salvation.

The truth is, we would never be able to “earn” salvation - that’s part of the human condition. We do the good we do out of love for the Lord, and as an expression of our gratitude and freedom to be who He created us to be, not to earn a place at anyone’s right or left hand. Salvation came as a gift freely given because God was tired of His children dying and being disconnected from Him. The Jesus Solution as a way to make a new and eternal covenant that wouldn’t result in our doom was so simple, so straightforward, and so very, very precious that if we really understood it, we would probably be falling on our knees every moment in gratitude for its grace and example of God’s never ending ocean of love for us.

So whether you’re gaming on vacation or you’re considering the eventual fate of your eternal soul, take a moment and breathe some gratitude. It’s not only healthier for you, but it also makes life a little more joyful and fun.

Pope Francis and the Life Issues

Pope Francis's tendency to use colorful expressions and abrasive adjectives in commenting on ideas, habits, and practices of which he disapproves have puzzled Catholics for over eight years now. Is this how popes talk? From my own study of papal history, I can easily believe that Pope Pius XI had a few choice (even brutal) words to say on occasion.

But his verbal smackdowns were always delivered behind closed doors, while many of Pope Francis's most memorably deprecatory locutions have been quite... Click here to read more!

Time to get school supplies for formerly homeless students!

Kickstart the upcoming school year for formerly homeless and low-income students by donating a backpack and school supplies before July 24!

Hope Solutions is working with the Sydney Paige Foundation to deliver 400 backpacks to their students in Contra Costa County. They are at about 50% of their goal!

Over the years, Social Justice has supported Hope Solutions, and many of our parishioners have volunteered with them, including when they were formerly known as Contra Costa Interfaith Housing!

Help these students get ready for the school by clicking here - your generosity is greatly appreciated!

Do you have any calla lily bulbs?

If anyone might have some calla lily bulbs in their garden that they would like to donate to the parish, we would be very appreciative!

We're doing some planting in a semi-shaded area behind the Rectory, and calla lilies would be a nice addition - particularly since our resident deer don't particularly care for them!

You can drop them off at the Parish Office any weekday between 10am and noon, or bring them to the church on the weekend when you come to Mass. We would be most grateful!
