November 1, 2020 All Saints Day

"Blessed are you when they insult you and persecute you and utter every kind of evil against you (falsely) because of me." - Matthew 5:11

We are all at different points on the path to holiness, on getting to Heaven and becoming a saint. Part of the journey is being mocked and ridiculed by others. When this happens, how do you respond? Do you become silent? Do you react in anger or do you react with love? Fortunately, as one Body of Christ, we are united with the saints already in Heaven. Ask your favorite saint for guidance in defending the Faith.

for the purchase of the new Paten in memory of Judy Mans that was used for the first time last Saturday evening. It is greatly appreciated.

Summary of Parish Pastoral Council

The council met October 8 at 7:00 pm. Present were Fr. Andrew Obel, council members, Lynn Erickson, Lois Thiessen, Mary Marvin, Andrew Dignan and Nancy Ellenson. Absent was Bruce Beisel. No meetings have been held since March.

The new baptismal font has been worked on but is temporarily on hold since the new exterior sign project has taken priority. Two sign designs were presented for review. We will get clarification to concerns then make a recommendation to the Finance Council. The goal is to be in place before snow. The automatic door locking system has been installed; unlocked hours are 6:00 am to 10:00pm, working well. The cemetery survey was completed; questions still remain for lighting there. Religious Education has begun. All age levels meet on a staggered Wednesday evening schedule for in-person learning. Families have the option to teach at home and materials will be provided to them. Sign up for additional liturgical ministers and nominations and election of Parish Pastoral Council member are delayed until mass attendance restriction have been lifted. Mass of Light will be November 23. The next meeting is Dec 3. Submitted by Lois Thiessen, PPC Secretary

Saints, Here and There: Scott Hahn Reflects on the Solemnity of All Saints

Readings:

Revelation 7:2–4, 9–14

Psalm 24:1–6

John 3:1–3

Matthew 5:1–12

The first reading focuses us for today's solemnity. In the Book of Revelation, St. John reports "a vision of a great multitude, which no one could count, from every nation, race, people, and tongue."

This is Good News. Salvation has come not only for Israel, but for the Gentiles as well. Here is the fulfillment of God's promise to Abraham, that by his seed all the nations of the world would bless themselves (see Genesis 22:18).

The Church celebrates many famous Christians on their individual memorials, but today she praises God for all His "holy ones," His saints. That is the title St. Paul preferred when he addressed his congregations.

Divinized by Baptism, they were already "saints" by the grace of God (see Colossians 1:2). They awaited, however, the day when they could "share in the inheritance of the saints in light" (Colossians 1:12).

And so do we, as the Scriptures give us reasons for both celebration and hope. In our second reading, St. John tells us that to be "saints" means to be "children of God"—and then he adds: "so we are"! Note that he speaks in the present tense.

Yet John also says that we have unfinished business to tend. We are already God's children, but "what we shall be has not yet been revealed." Thus we work out our salvation: "Everyone who has this hope based on him makes himself pure, as he is pure" (1 John 3:3).

We do this as we share the life of Christ, who defined earthly beatitude for us. We are "blessed," He says, when we are poor, when we mourn, when we are persecuted for His sake. It is then we should "Rejoice and be glad, for [our] reward will be great in heaven" (Matthew 5:12).

Until then, we pray with the Psalmist: "Lord, this is the people that longs to see your face." Salvation has come through Abraham's seed, but it belongs to all nations. For "the Lord's are the earth and its fullness; the world and those who dwell in it" (Psalm 24:1).
