She will be in the atrium after all masses next weekend so we can say "thank you" for all that she has done in our parish. There will be a message from Linda in next week's bulletin as well. We'll announce her successor later this month.

Pope Francis' Advice for College Students

BY NORA BRADBURY-HAEHL MAY 11, 2016

1. Be open to new people. “Befriend those who disagree,” Pope Francis urges. Talk to people who see things from a point of view different than yours. Make a special effort to engage with a diverse group of people, and you might be surprised what you’ll learn....Dialogue is born ... from a conviction that the other person has something good to say. It assumes that there is room in the heart for the person’s point of view, opinion, and proposal.”

2. Consider new ideas. Pope Francis encourages students to engage in rigorous study and to embrace challenging ideas, debate, and dialogue: “Do not be satisfied with partial truths or reassuring illusions....Welcome an increasingly full comprehension of reality in your study.” He frequently warns against arrogance: “Doing this requires the humility to listen and a far-sighted vision.”

3. Science is good. So is faith. They’re not mutually exclusive.

We do not have to think of God as a “magician, with a magic wand,” Pope Francis says, but we can understand evolution and other scientific thinking in the context of faith. Pope Francis studied chemistry in college and even worked as a chemist before he entered the seminary. He embraces science (as did his predecessors) and encourages others to do so as well.

4. The internet is a gift. “The internet ... offers immense possibilities for encounter and solidarity. This is something truly good, a gift from God.” But the pope also warns against isolating ourselves: “We need tenderness,” he advises. The internet can help keep us close to loved ones, but break up your social media marathon with active time outdoors or in-person human contact. The internet can be a great tool, but don’t let too much screen time consume your life.

5. Take care of others. “If you withdraw into yourself, you run the risk of becoming egocentric. And stagnant water becomes putrid.” Go through life with a generous spirit and care for those in need. If you’re feeling down, one of the best things you can do is help someone else. Every campus has service opportunities and doing good can be a real anchor point when studying begins to consume your life. Tutoring at an elementary school, volunteering at the soup kitchen, or helping a friend can keep you connected and caring.

6. Don’t use religion to condemn. The pope warns against using religion to hide from the world or as a way to be critical of others. When we do this, religion becomes “a little convent of words, of prayers, of ‘I’m good and you’re bad,’ of moral regulations.”

7. Be courageous! “In Argentina, we say, ‘Don’t be wimpy.’” Yes, you will face challenges and problems, but “Don’t fear the difficulties. Be prudent, be careful, but don’t fear.” Beginning college can be intimidating, but remember, you’ve worked hard and learned a lot already, this is just the next step on your journey.

Today is the Solemnity of Corpus Christi—the Body and Blood of Christ, for which our parish is named. The Gospel reading for this celebration tells the story of the Last Supper, the first time Jesus gave us the gift of his Body and Blood in the Eucharist.

Whenever we celebrate Mass, we remember what Jesus did for us, what he gave us, and what he calls us to be.

- When you celebrate Eucharist each week, what are some things for which you are thankful?

Hackettstown, NJ will be the location of the 9th Save Our Adolescents from Prostitution (SOAP) outreach in NJ. This nationwide initiative was launched out of a 2009 CAN and Calvary Temple meeting in Wayne NJ. SOAP has been to every Super Bowl and many large events since. CAN has been mobilizing NJ to do SOAP outreaches ever since! Each time at least one of the missing children pictured on the missing children's posters has been identified by hotel staff while volunteers were present. Consequently, children have been rescued by law enforcement during SOAP outreaches.

In a SOAP outreach, teams of 3-4 are given posters with pictures of area missing children, packets of indicator information, and bars of hotel soap labeled with the national human trafficking hotline number to give to hotel staff. Participants can expect to finish in less than 3 hours.

This year SOAP will infiltrate hotels in the Bethlehem/Easton area in advance of the Musik Fest in August. This event has had over one million attendees in the past, and is potentially the largest SOAP outreach in the nation. When hotels are filled, demand for victims goes up as does the supply. This gives hotel staff ample opportunity to supply possible victims with a way of escape.

CAN exists to empower church and community to do abolition including prevention, detection, action, advocacy and survivor care. CAN is based out of NJ and has been Nationally Appointed. To learn how you can participate and partner, visit CANfreedom.org, to receive more info.

AL-ANON MEETING

Al-Anon meets every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. This is open to any persons in the community who are family members or friends of those suffering from any type of chemical dependency, such as alcohol, etc. The meeting is held in the double classroom area. Enter the parish center through the main doors from the rear parking lot. This is not affiliated with the parish, but the facilities are offered as a service to the community. The participants are to maintain strict confidentiality and require anonymity.
