Are Migrant Children Welcomed in Jesus' Name?

by Jeanne Christensen, RSM

World Refugee Day is June 20. Today, refugees and migrants are fleeing violence, persecution, poverty, natural disasters, and political upheaval. The U.S. Catholic Sisters Against Human Trafficking have an excellent educational resource, "Intersectionality of Human Trafficking with Migrants, Refugees, and Internally Displaced People."

Mark 10:13-16: People were bringing little children to Jesus, for him to touch them. The disciples scolded them, but when Jesus saw this he was indignant and said to them "Let the little children come to me, do not stop them; for it is to such as these that the kingdom of God belongs." Additionally, Jesus said, "Anyone who welcomes such a little child such as this in my name welcomes me..." (Mark 9:37)

Migrant children arriving at the U.S. southern border are not welcome. How would Jesus respond to how these children and their families are treated? What is your response? What does Jose's story call you, challenge you to do?"

This is a typical story of a young migrant boy, a child. "My name is Jose and I am 12 years old. I left Honduras with my mother, two sisters, and Miguel, my uncle. We do not know where my father is. Our goal was to travel in a larger group, eventually arriving at the United States border. We hoped to cross over to a new and better life. We hoped to feel safe, find shelter and have food to eat. We were escaping from violence and poverty, at home we had nothing—barely enough to eat and we never felt safe.

We traveled for many days and struggled to find food, water and a place to stay. My little sisters cried a lot because they were tired, hungry and scared. I tried to be strong and to help my uncle. My mother cried when we weren't watching. She didn't know I saw her.

Finally, we arrived at the border, but it wasn't at all like we expected. There were hundreds of people jammed in small spaces, on bridges, under bridges. The armed men (like ones we left behind in Honduras) separated us. My little sisters stayed with my mother and the men took my uncle and me to a detention center. We had food and water, but they took our shoelaces away from us. Pretty soon, we were separated and they took me to another part where there were hundreds of boys like me. I was cold and scared. After a few weeks, they took about 25 of us away in a van.

They drove to someplace far away. And when we got there it was hot and sunny—like at home in Honduras. We were forced to work long hours in fields without shade picking strawberries. Where we slept and what they gave us to eat was awful. We also didn't get much water while we worked.

When there weren't any more strawberries to pick, we were packed in a van, but it was stopped by the police. When they found all of us inside, they arrested those taking us. We were taken to another shelter. I don't know what comes next, but I hope I get to be back with my family—wherever they are now." EIGHTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Free yourself

The longer we own something, the stickier it becomes—in terms of its reverse-possession, that is. We all have items under beds or in boxes that don't come out of hiding, carried through countless moves yet never utilized. It could be that college guitar that's no longer strummed, canning equipment we always meant to master, gifts we don't want but feel obliged to keep, books we faintly hope to read one day. The longer things take up space, the more they seem to have a right to do so. Take a risk this week. Liberate yourself from a "legacy" possession.

TODAY'S READINGS: Ecclesiastes 1:2; 2:21-23; Colossians 3:1-5, 9-11; Luke 12:13-21 (114). "And the things you have prepared, to whom will they belong?"

Monday, Aug 05, 2019

MEMORIAL OF THE DEDICATION OF THE BASILICA OF MARY MAJOR

Stay close to Mother

The fourth-century Basilica of Mary Major is one of four basilicas in Rome that are recognized as the first centers of the church. It is the oldest and largest church in the world dedicated to the Blessed Mother. In fact, around the time it was consecrated in 434, there was debate about the nature of Mary's motherhood of Jesus, as some objected to her title "Mother of God." But believers won out and even took to the streets of Constantinople chanting the Greek word for it, Theotokos. How do you affirm her role in your own life?

TODAY'S READINGS: Numbers 11:4b-15; Matthew 14:13-21 (407). "Looking up to heaven, he said the blessing, broke the loaves, and gave them to the disciples."

Tuesday, Aug 06, 2019

FEAST OF THE TRANSFIGURATION OF THE LORD

Be transformed

Jesus took Peter, James, and John up a mountain to pray. But it was not a typical prayer time for these friends as they watched Jesus' appearance change, saw him talk to the long-dead Moses and Elijah, and heard a voice from a cloud tell them to listen to the chosen Son. Whether this is a mystical experience, a symbolic story, or a misplaced Resurrection account is open to interpretation. It is clear that Jesus was unlike all others and they—and we—are to follow him. Today's memorial of Hiroshima provides the opportunity to "transfigure" our world through prayer and the practice of peace as we follow our Lord.

TODAY'S READINGS: Daniel 7:9-10, 13-14; 2 Peter 1:16-19; Luke 9:28b-36 (614). "While he was praying his face changed in appearance."

Wednesday, Aug 07, 2019

MEMORIAL OF SIXTUS II, POPE AND MARTYR

Where everyone belongs

Before his martyrdom in 258, Pope Sixtus II faced a leadership dilemma that Jesus had also faced during his public ministry. Who belonged in the fold of believers and who did not? For Sixtus, it wasn't a case of Canaanites versus Israel. It was a worldwide controversy over Baptism: whether those baptized by heretics could be welcomed as true Christians—or whether they needed to be re-baptized. The Asian and African church insisted on a do-over, while the Roman church said no. Sixtus upheld the Roman view but mended fences with the other—allowing both. There's wisdom in the old hymn "There's a Wideness in God's Mercy." How wide is your own?

TODAY'S READINGS: Numbers 13:1-2, 25-14:1, 26-29a, 34-35; Matthew 15:21-28 (409). "O woman, great is your faith! Let it be done for you as you wish."

Thursday, Aug 08, 2019

MEMORIAL OF DOMINIC, PRIEST

We all need guidance at some time

A sect of Christian leaders in the south of France in the 13th century stumbled into gnostic and dualist heresy. The Cathars, as they were called, argued that human beings were inherently evil. Therefore, Jesus, the Son of God, couldn't possibly have been fully human. Dominic de Guzman, a Spanish priest, preached convincingly against the error. Sadly, when his efforts failed, church leaders followed with brutal suppression. As for Dominic, he focused on building up the Order of Preachers, known as the Dominicans, dedicated to preaching and praying the Rosary. Renowned for his holiness and eloquence, he was elevated to sainthood a mere 13 years after his death in 1221. Guiding the misguided was full-time work for Saint Dominic. What's your saintly work?

TODAY'S READINGS: Numbers 20:1-13; Matthew 16:13-23 (410). "Who do people say that the Son of Man is?"

Friday, Aug 09, 2019

The good in group think

Today is International Day of the World's Indigenous Peoples, the kind of new commemoration that tends to get overlooked. Catholics have a long and sometimes fraught history with native peoples, however, so we may want to give pause. Many aspects of indigenous culture fit snugly within a Christian worldview, particularly the emphasis on the group (Catholics call it the "common good") and on sharing available resources ("feed the hungry"). Learn one thing today about the native peoples from your corner of the world.

TODAY'S READINGS: Deuteronomy 4:32-40; Matthew 16:24-28 (411). "What profit would there be for one to gain the whole world and forfeit his life?"

Saturday, Aug 10, 2019

FEAST OF LAWRENCE, DEACON, MARTYR

Take nothing for granted

Often we take faith for granted, especially our ability to practice it freely. Today's feast reminds us that there have been times in our history when such was not the case. Lawrence, one of the most widely remembered martyrs of early Christian history, was killed on August 10, 258 when Emperor Valerian decreed all clerics be put to death. Lawrence lived a long time ago, and the stories about him—his care for the poor and his manner of death—come from an oral tradition that has inspired the faithful for generations. Say a prayer of thanks for the ability to practice your faith free of persecution.

TODAY'S READINGS: 2 Corinthians 9:6-10; John 12:24-26 (618). "Unless a grain of wheat fall to the ground."

Invest just five minutes a day, and your faith will deepen and grow—a day at a time
