Looking Back in Time: The James Webb Space Telescope

This past week, we witnessed the first images from the $10 billion dollar James Webb Space Telescope. Launched on December 25, 2021, it is the most complex telescope ever developed. Its goal was the impossible task of looking back as far as possible to the very beginning of the universe. It didn't disappoint! The picture above looks like a regular cluster of stars, no different than what we see when we look up at the night sky. Yet, this image is different because in this image we are getting a glimpse to the ancient past.

When we look at the sky, the closest star to us is named Proxima Centauri. Since light travels at 186,000 miles per second, when we look at the light from this star, it is really the light that began its journey from the star four years earlier. In the same way, when we look at the first image from the James Webb telescope, we see the faint light from stars that began its journey from those stars 13.5 billion years ago. It is literally looking back in time almost to the beginning of the universe, 13.8 billion years ago. Until this week, the light from these stars was only available to us through our imaginations.

These images show us the majesty and power of God. Before God created the universe, he had each one of us in his mind and heart. He knew and loved us, looking forward to the time when we would come into being. He thought about his plans for us, to love us, to teach us about himself, to prepare us for his coming, to send his Son, Jesus, to redeem us, and to look forward to the day when we would be gathered into one in our permanent home in heaven.

The light that came from those first stars when God created the universe, and thought of us, has been traveling towards us for billions of years. As we glimpse this dim light, it is a gift and reminds us that God will never leave or abandon us. More than this, it is a symbol of God's ageless love for each of us.

CARNIVAL

Thanks once again to everyone who was involved in the carnival. It was true community a effort and it was wonderful to see our Corpus Christi family together on such a large scale. It was a successful "fun"raiser as well as a fundraiser for our community. Although we are still awaiting some final invoices, we estimate that the carnival netted a profit of approximately $33,000. We look forward to continuing this tradition with your help and support next year.

Corpus Christi Music Ministry is introducing our 2022-2023 Concert Series. The Series is an extension of Corpus Christi Music's mission of evangelization through beauty, while serving our community.

Concerts will feature performances of various genres with spoken commentary. Those who enjoyed our Christmas and Holy Week musical performances will not want to miss the Concert Series!

Our Summer concert will take place on Sunday, July 31 at 3 pm. The program, which features members of our music program, will include the Fauré Trio op. 120 and Mozart Trio K 498 "Kegelstatt", with other works of contemporary composers.

Admission open to the public, including families.

A free will donation will be accepted.

Pro-Life

Rooted in Church teachings, the Knights of Columbus are staunchly pro-life. We defend the sanctity of human life in all stages, from conception through natural death.

Anyone who has been to the March for Life annually in Washington, DC has seen the thousands of signs provided for free by the Knights and the hundreds of Knights serving as March Marshals, as well as the Council banners and brothers present from around the country.

Knights of Columbus councils have donated over 1,500 ultrasound machines to crisis pregnancy centers so that mothers can see their babies in the womb.

Globally and locally, K of C Life programs include partnering with Special Olympics, supporting persecuted Christians around the world facing genocide, visiting the sick and veterans in hospitals, and a myriad of others that address local needs.
