We Are Called...

Happy Easter! How amazing is the Word of God! It is awesome to hear Jesus speak to us that He is the Shepherd and He knows His flock and they follow Him! I am reminded of the Apostles being called by Jesus at the sea, the customs post, and from the other places that He said, "Follow Me." That is our invitation also, that statement is one of the most amazing things that He says. This should cause us to get excited about heaven! It is like a personal conversation with Jesus about how much He loves us and how we will know His love. In God's majesty, it may be hard to see intimacy in the vast number of people that will be with us in heaven, but He is so magnificent that He can be intimate with a multitude that cannot be counted! In one way it may seem strange to think of intimacy in the multitude, but this understanding shows the majesty of God.

The Shepherd is a person of love. God tells us many times about how a shepherd cares for the sheep and tends to them, cares for them, and loves them. He cares for them with His life. They follow because they know where they will be safe and cared for. That is a great thought for us about our lives here on earth, but even more about our journey to heaven. God will take care of us and give us what we need as long as we follow Him. This life is not about what we accumulate or just about what we do for ourselves. This life is about how we can follow Jesus and do His will, and His will is to be in communion, to be in love. He wants us to follow Him; to be where He is and to do what He does. His example is to love as He loves.

The willingness to follow Him is the call of our hearts. He wants us to go where He leads, and

He leads us to goodness and grace. To do this we must be attentive to His voice and follow His example of giving and caring for others. We imitate His actions so we can experience His presence. We can have an experience of being like Him. We can experience His power. It is not just a matter of being like the crowds that followed from a distance, but to follow Him in word and deed. We must act in the power of love if we want to follow Him. Walking in grace is our practice for heaven. We make choices in this life for life to come. We choose to follow Him here so we can enjoy the immense beauty of heaven. We must go where He leads to be where He created us to be for eternity.

Two words are meant to change our lives forever. Two words that lead us to surrender. They call us to put God first and others ahead of ourselves. They call us to imitate our Lord and Savior. "Follow Me."

God Bless,

Bidding Holy Angels a Fond Farewell

It has been my joy and privilege to serve the last twelve years in ministry at The Church of the Holy Angels. Working with our teens, watching them fall in love with Christ, seeing them in prayer and community, it has been an honor to be your youth minister.

One of the truly beautiful gifts of this parish is our ability to preach the Gospel without words. I have loved teaching your children, but watching your children teach my own has been nothing short of humble. My sons and my daughter have watched and learned from your sons and daughters. How to serve the Mass, how to proclaim the Word, how to dress for Church. For these and many other reasons, Kathleen and I will forever be grateful for our time here.

Youth Ministry is much more than the work of one person, our accomplishments in youth ministry over the last 12 years would not have been possible without our Core team. Mike Doyle, Mike Girolamo, Mike Holder, Erin Gdaniec, Julie Gustafson, Nanett Shirdon, and the teens from HAYgroup Lead Crew. You guys are the best! Thank you for all the 2am Saturday nights, overnights, 3-hour Adorations, ice cream & dance parties, rafting, camping, and service projects. You have been a blessing in my life and for our church.

Most importantly, I thank my wife. This life in ministry would not be possible without her constant support. As much, if not more than I have, she has loved, supported, and prayed for your children. Happy Mother's Day, Kathleen.

As I begin a new chapter of ministry at St. Francis Parish, I am grateful to have a moment to bid you a fond farewell. The Lord has wonders in store for this Church. Holy Angels is home, and you remain in my heart and in my prayers.

AMDG,
Alex Yates

Allison B. Jung, PA, NFPMC, CFPC

Fertility Awareness 'Not your Grandmother's NFP'

Allison Jung has been a Physician Assistant in Ob/Gyn and Family Medicine for 24 years. She was taught there was no way to treat hormonal imbalance including endometriosis, PMS, irregular cycles, painful periods, postpartum depression, or even acne without birth control. When she faced her own struggles with infertility, she realized the causes of her symptoms were never treated, but ignored and masked over.

She found the Creighton Model System and NaproTechnology in 2013, and within 6 months, the underlying disorders causing her symptoms were discovered and cured. After this, she enrolled in 2 years of training in NaproTechnology and the Creighton Model of Fertility Awareness. She worked in a NaproTechnology, Functional Medicine, and Natural Fertility clinic for 3 years, helping women and couples discover and truly cure the underlying causes of chronic miscarriages, infertility, hormone imbalances, and more. She moved to Ohio in 2017, where she used her experiences to create her own business in Private Hormone Consultation. She has furthered her education in Restorative Reproductive Medicine, including in Functional Medicine, FEMM Medical Management and NEO Fertility.

She is a blessing, helping women and couples find hope in answers, empowered through education, and to take control of their own health and experience freedom in their fertility. All of the Fertility Awareness and Restorative Reproductive techniques she employs are in line with the directives of the Catholic Church.
