Dear Friends in the Lord,

Today's Gospel passage is the familiar story of Jesus having dinner at the home of Martha and Mary. This is one of the passages that exemplify the truth that the Bible is "the living word of God." Each hearing of the story remains interesting and instructive. Likewise, the liturgy accompanies it with the story of the "Visitors" to Abraham and Sarah. If not as familiar as the Gospel passage, nonetheless it is interesting and instructive. Like Martha, Abraham quickly busies himself serving the three visitors. Like Mary, he comes to discern the divine presence when he hears the prediction of the miraculous birth of a son for him and Sarah.

Sarah's reaction to this prediction is especially interesting. She laughs! As we know, this could be out of joy or in mockery. For the biblical scholars, Sarah is usually seen as doing so in mockery. The context certainly suggests as much. Sarah knows what it takes to conceive and bear a child and, as seen in the longer passage than we read today, knows that neither she nor Abraham are capable at their age of producing offspring. Abraham, too, laughed when the Lord first made the promise to him.

Moving ahead only a few chapters and we read: "The Lord took note of Sarah as he said he would, he did for her what he promised." Fittingly, the child is named Isaac. The name means, "he laughs." As did Sarah! The Lord responded to her first laugh by asking, "Is anything too marvelous for the Lord to do?" Sarah herself responds to this promise fulfilled by proclaiming: "God has given me cause to laugh, and all who hear of it will laugh with me."

At various stages of our own faith journey, we all have had to deal with doubt. At times, a doubt so strong that it mocks God and the promises that have been made to us. It is especially at those times that we must, like Mary, assume the position of a disciple by sitting at the feet of the Lord. It is there that we can remember that nothing is impossible for God. So we might look at the challenges and difficulties of life and laugh.

In Christ's Peace,
Fr. John Madden

Word of Life

“The parable of the rich man and his bountiful harvest is graphically clear and pointed. Once we pause to think about it, however, we realize that greed can take many subtle shapes... impulsively taking the biggest slice of fresh apple pie, the most comfortable chair in the family TV room, the end of the pew at church to ensure a fast get-away during the last song at Sunday Mass... greed remains one of the seven capital sins and takes many forms, some of them very down home and all too familiar. Jesus is very astute therefore in warning against ‘all greed (v. 15),’ for the physically impoverished can be very greed too!”

-- Bishop Richard J. Sklba
