19th SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

“I am the bread of life. Your ancestors ate the manna in the desert, but they died; this is the bread that comes down from heaven so that one may eat it and not die.” - Jn 6:48-50

August 8, 2021—19h Sunday in Ordinary Time

The "Come & See Talks" have begun. They are intended for all parishioners, including any of your friends, neighbors or associates interested in learning more about the Catholic faith. When you are accompanied by an interested person, be sure to enter for a chance to win a $50.00 gift certificate to a local restaurant. Next session at St. Joseph campus, August 9 at 6:00pm in the Family Room: the next topic "Jesus—Who Is He?" . Contact Bonnie for more info: 603-893-8661 x103

TAKE A STEP IN FAITH! God will never be outdone in His generosity! The proportion of our gift becomes sacrificial when it comes from our substance rather than our abundance. When we give out of substance, we are changed in the process: we have given away something we thought we needed for ourselves, thus changing our lifestyle, and we have acted on our belief that our security lies not in our material resources but in God. Our intentional response to God's generosity should ensure that we give the "first fruits" - those gifts given first and not only after other obligations have been satisfied . And they are proportionate to what God has given us. As such, our gift of money is appropriately presented at the Offertory at Mass. The celebration of Christ's sacrifice is a fitting context for our own sacrificial offering which is a grateful response to the unfathomable love God has shown for us!

August 8, 2021—19h Sunday in Ordinary Time

I am the bread of Life

Sometimes we are so discouraged. What is your discouragement? Many people, especially as they age, have chronic pain and illness. Your discouragement might be a mental illness, a bad family situation, a child with a disability such as a learning disability or autism. The discouragement may not be the most terrible thing. If we had this for only an hour, it would be easy to bear, but everyday we get up and it is still there. It will never go away. After the weeks and months pass, we become so discouraged bearing this suffering. If it were only for a day or two, we could bear it, but it seems the suffering is endless. People try to help us endure by offering trite sayings, but nothing seems to help. In the first reading, Elijah finds himself in this situation. He just lies down under a tree and asks God to take his life because he thinks the situation is hopeless, but God feeds him bread. After eating the bread, Elijah is revived and continues the mission that God has commissioned him for. In the Gospel reading, Jesus says that "I am the bread of life." When we eat this bread, Jesus gives Himself to us as bread to strengthen us and remind us that he is with us in our mission and our suffering. He reminds us that our suffering is not meaningless. When we give Jesus our suffering, He can make something beautiful out of it.

Bonnie Barlow

Healing Mass at Mary Queen of Peace Church on Wednesday, August 18 at 7:00pm

Our Lord insists that we come to him even when things seem hopeless, when we are painfully aware of our limitations. In moments of trial and suffering, how easily we begin to demand that the Lord quickly make our difficulties go away. But Jesus wants us to come close and place ourselves into his hands because this is precisely how we will best experience the love of his Eucharistic heart. "However small and insignificant you think you are," he says, "however unprepared you feel, unite yourself to me with confidence in my love for you." All are welcome to come and experience God's deep love through prayers, anointing and laying on of hands!

Eucharistic Adoration: "We have come to do Him homage."

Those words, spoken by the Magi from the East as they searched for the infant Jesus, resound through the centuries to be echoed in the heart of every person who makes a visit to the Blessed Sacrament. The presence of Our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament is as real today as the infant Jesus was to the Wise Men who sought Him by following a star rising in the East. As Pope St. John Paul II affirms in his encyclical on the relationship of the Eucharist to the Church, "....the gaze of the Church is constantly turned to her Lord, present in the Sacrament of the Altar, in which she discovers the full manifestation of his boundless love." (The Church and the Eucharist, 1)

Special vocabulary:

Monstrance: Sacred Vessel used for the exposition and adoration of the Blessed Sacrament

Luna: Glass enclosure that holds the Blessed Sacrament in the monstrance

Cope: Ornate cloak-like vestment worn over a white alb and a stole by clergy at Benediction and processions

Humeral Veil: Scarf-like liturgical garment about eight or nine feet long and two or three feet wide, worn over the shoulders. The minister covers his hands with the ends of the veil so that it, not his hands, touches the monstrance at Benediction or during the procession of the Blessed Sacrament.

Incense: Granulated or powdered aromatic resin that, when sprinkled on glowing coals in a censer (thurible), becomes a fragrant cloud of smoke to symbolize prayer rising to God. Incense is used whenever there is Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and during processions with the Blessed Sacrament.
