Discerning God's Will For who can learn the counsel of God? Or who can discern what the Lord wills? For the reasoning of mortals is worthless, and our designs are likely to fail. (Wisdom 9:13–14)

Adults: How do you try to discover what God is asking of you?

Kids: When is it hard for you to know the right thing to do? Who helps you know?

"Everyone of you who does not renounce all his possessions cannot be my disciple." LUKE 14:33

When we first hear this statement, it seems that Jesus is making an unrealistic demand upon us. How can we renounce all of our possessions? We need them to live. However, what we must renounce is the belief that they belong to us. Everything that we have belongs to God alone. All of our resources are entrusted to us not only for our own use, but also so that we can help others. Once we renounce the idea that we possess or are entitled to anything, it is much easier to share the many gifts that God has given us. Then we truly are His Disciples.

New Life through the Tender Compassion of our God

The Eucharist as the Source and Summit of Evangelization

Evangelize by inviting others to discover new life in Jesus Christ and his Church. We need to educate ourselves on the mission we have. We need to learn practical skills. But most of all, we need to learn how to surrender our lives to the Holy Spirit. If we can teach Catholics to activate the gifts of their Confirmation to help them spread and defend the faith in our world today, then we will see many conversions to the faith. God will not disappoint us if we surrender our lives to him with generosity.

"The fruit of strong families who live the faith will be an increase in vocations. The question of vocation is central to every person's life."
