Eighteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

August 5, 2018

FROM the PASTOR'S DESK ...

We've been going through Pope Francis' Apostolic Exhortation, Rejoice and be Glad (Gaudete et Exsultate). In particular, we have been reading about The Beatitudes." We close out the Holy Father's reflections this week.

"Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God"

This Beatitude speaks of those whose hearts are simple, pure and undefiled, for a heart capable of love admits nothing that might harm, weaken or endanger that love. The Bible uses the heart to describe our real intentions, the things we truly seek and desire, apart from all appearances. "Man sees the appearance, but the Lord looks into the heart" (1 Samuel 16:7). God wants to speak to our hearts (cf. Hosea 2:16); there he desires to write his law (cf. Jeremiah 31:33). In a word, he wants to give us a new heart (cf. Ezekiel 36:26).

"Guard your heart with all vigilance" (Proverbs 4:23). Nothing stained by falsehood has any real worth in the Lord's eyes. He "flees from deceit, and rises and departs from foolish thoughts" (Wisdom 1:5). The Father, "who sees in secret" (Matthew 6:6), recognizes what is impure and insincere, mere display or appearance, as does the Son, who knows "what is in man" (cf. John 2:25).

Certainly there can be no love without works of love, but this Beatitude reminds us that the Lord expects a commitment to our brothers and sisters that comes from the heart. For "if I give away all I have, and if I deliver my body to be burned, but have no love, I gain nothing" (1 Corinthians 13:3). In Matthew's Gospel too, we see that what proceeds from the heart is what defiles a person (cf. Matthew 15:18), for from the heart come murder, theft, false witness, and other evil deeds (cf. 15:19). From the heart's intentions come the desires and the deepest decisions that determine our actions.

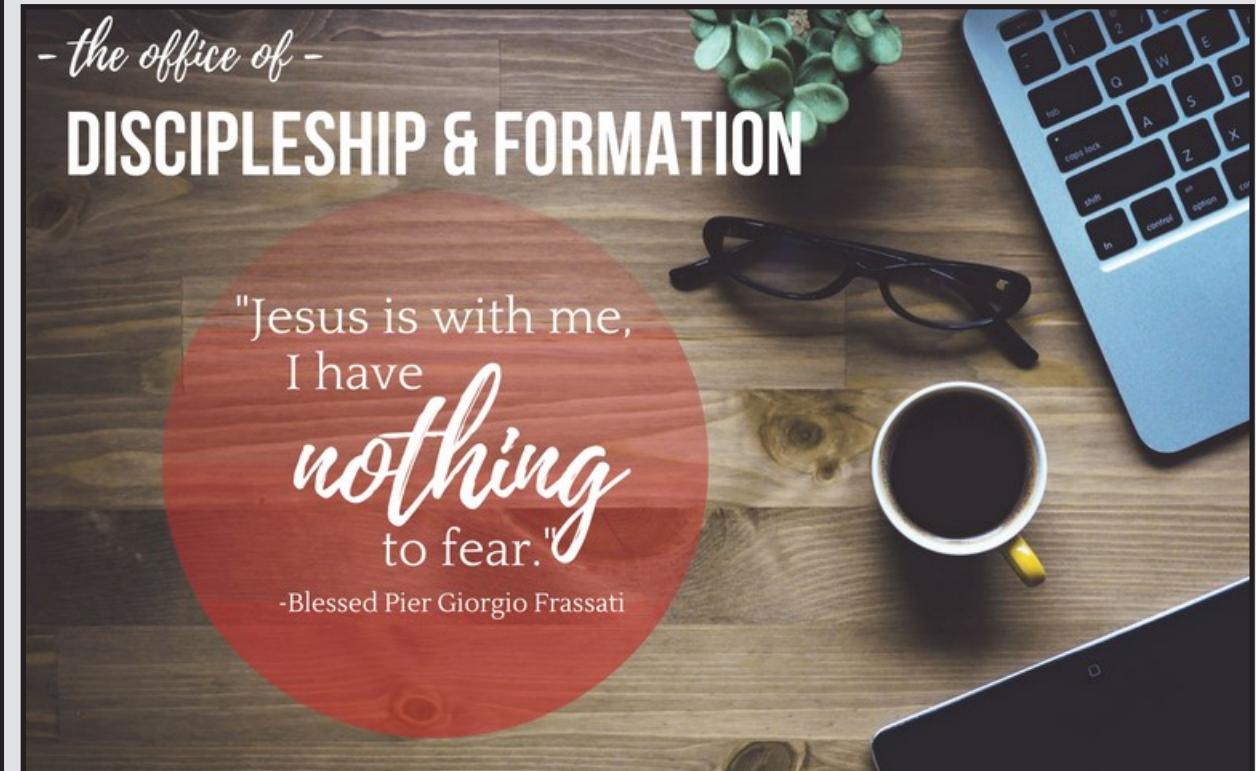

A heart that loves God and neighbor (cf. Matthew 22:36-40), genuinely and not merely in words, is a pure heart; it can see God. In his hymn to charity, Saint Paul says that "now we see in a mirror, dimly" (1 Corinthians 13:12), but to the extent that truth and love prevail, we will then be able to see "face to face". Jesus promises that those who are pure (Continued on Page 4)

NEWS and ANNOUNCEMENTS

FROM the PASTOR'S DESK...

in heart "will see God".

Keeping a heart free of all that tarnishes love: that is holiness.

"Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God"

This Beatitude makes us think of the many endless situations of war in our world. Yet we ourselves are often a cause of conflict or at least of misunderstanding. For example, I may hear something about someone and I go off and repeat it. I may even embellish it the second time around and keep spreading it... And the more harm it does, the more satisfaction I seem to derive from it. The world of gossip, inhabited by negative and destructive people, does not bring peace. Such people are really the enemies of peace; in no way are they "blessed".

Peacemakers truly "make" peace; they build peace and friendship in society. To those who sow peace Jesus makes this magnificent promise: "They will be called children of God" (Matthew 5:9). He told his disciples that, wherever they went, they were to say: "Peace to this house!" (Luke 10:5). The word of God exhorts every believer to work for peace, "along with all who call upon the Lord with a pure heart" (cf. 2 Timothy 2:22), for "the harvest of righteousness is sown in peace by those who make peace" (James 3:18). And if there are times in our community when we question what ought to be done, "let us pursue what makes for peace" (Romans 14:19), for unity is preferable to conflict.

It is not easy to "make" this evangelical peace, which excludes no one but embraces even those who are a bit odd, troublesome or difficult, demanding, different, beaten down by life or simply uninterested. It is hard work; it calls for great openness of mind and heart, since it is not about creating "a consensus on paper or a transient peace for a contented minority", or a project "by a few for the few". Nor can it attempt to ignore or disregard conflict; instead, it must "face conflict head on, resolve it and make it a link in the chain of a new process". We need to be artisans of peace, for building peace is a craft that demands serenity, creativity, sensitivity and skill. Sowing peace all around us: that is holiness.

"Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven"

Jesus himself warns us that the path he proposes goes against the flow, even making us challenge society by the way we live and, as a result, becoming a nuisance. He reminds us how many people have been, and still are, persecuted simply because they struggle for justice, because they take seriously their commitment to God and to others. Unless we wish to sink into an obscure mediocrity, let us not long for an easy life, for "whoever would save his life will lose it" (Mt 16:25).

91. In living the Gospel, we cannot expect that everything will be easy, for the thirst for power and worldly interests often stands in our way. Saint John Paul II noted that "a society is alienated if its forms of social organization, production and consumption make it more difficult to offer this gift of self and to establish this solidarity between people".[78] In such a society, politics, mass communications and economic, cultural and even religious institutions become so entangled as to become an obstacle to authentic human and social development. As a result, the Beatitudes are not easy to live out; any attempt to do so will be viewed negatively, regarded with suspicion, and met with ridicule.

Whatever weariness and pain we may experience in living the commandment of love and following the way of justice, the cross remains the source of our growth and sanctification. We must never forget that when the New Testament tells us that we will have to endure suffering for the Gospel's sake, it speaks precisely of persecution (cf. Acts 5:41; Philippians 1:29; Colossians 1:24; 2 Timothy 1:12; 1 Peter 2:20, 4:14-16; Revelation 2:10).

Here we are speaking about inevitable persecution, not the kind of persecution we might bring upon ourselves by our mistreatment of others. The saints are not odd and aloof, unbearable because of their vanity, negativity and bitterness. The Apostles of Christ were not like that. The Book of Acts states repeatedly that they enjoyed favor "with all the people" (Acts 2:47; as well as Acts 4:21.33; 5:13), even as some authorities harassed and persecuted them (cf. Acts 4:1-3, 5:17-18).

Persecutions are not a reality of the past, for today too we experience them, whether by the shedding of blood, as is the case with so many contemporary martyrs, or by more subtle means, by slander and lies. Jesus calls us blessed when people "utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account" (Matthew 5:11). At other times, persecution can take the form of gibes that try to caricature our faith and make us seem ridiculous. Accepting daily the path of the Gospel, even though it may cause us problems: that is holiness.

A MEN'S WEEKEND WITH FRIENDS & JESUS TOO

Since 1999 I have enjoyed the company of a fine and friendly group of men and Jesus Christ too during the first weekend after Labor Day at the Malvern Retreat House. I look forward to this weekend every year as an ideal way to wind down summer, kick off fall and get closer to myself by getting closer to God. So what I offer to you is the opportunity to share with me and my Malvern friends this special experience by joining us on September 7th.

9th for the annual Nativity BVM retreat. Go to: <https://www.malvernretreat.com/events/nativity-bvm-2/> to join us or call me, Jack Warnock, for more info at 610.722.2673. See you at Malvern!

CONTEMPORARY MUSIC MASS

You are invited to attend the 5:00 pm. Mass on Saturday, August 18th. We are pleased to welcome Stephanie Twohig and musicians from the parishes of Saint Monica and Saint Katharine's who will lead the music. We will blend hymns you know performed in more contemporary style with hymns that have been written more recently by Matt Maher, Steve Angrisano and Jesse Manibusan. Our goal is to offer you a different way to pray and participate in the Mass. We hope you will mark your calendars and join us for this joyful experience.

LIFE IS BEAUTIFUL

Prayer for those with Alzheimer's disease

Almighty God and Father, we thank You for the dignity You have given to all human life, even when it is marred by disease.

We pray for those who have Alzheimer's disease. Grant them, in their confusion, the consolation of Your Presence. Give to their families strength, compassion and patience and show them the way to perfect charity. Help us all to trust that You bring good out of all things and that our suffering is nothing compared to the glory You have prepared for us. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.—EWTN Family Prayers
