SPECIAL COLLECTION: RESPECT LIFE

Our Respect Life Committee seeks to foster greater awareness of the sanctity and dignity of human life through prayer and service efforts, especially through assisting women in crisis pregnancy situations.

1. Praise, my soul, the King of Heaven;
To His feet Thy tribute bring;
Ransomed, healed, restored, forgiven,
ever-more His praises sing.
Praise Him! Praise Him! Praise Him! Praise Him!
Praise the everlasting King.

2. Praise Him for His grace and favor to our fathers in distress;
Praise Him still the same as ever,
slow to chide and swift to bless.
Praise Him! Praise Him! Praise Him! Praise Him!
Glorious in His faithfulness.

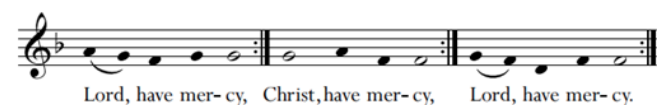

3. Father-like He tends and spares us;
Well our feeble frame He knows;

In His hands He gently bears us,
rescues us from all our foes.
Praise Him! Praise Him! Praise Him! Praise Him!
Widely yet His mercy flows.

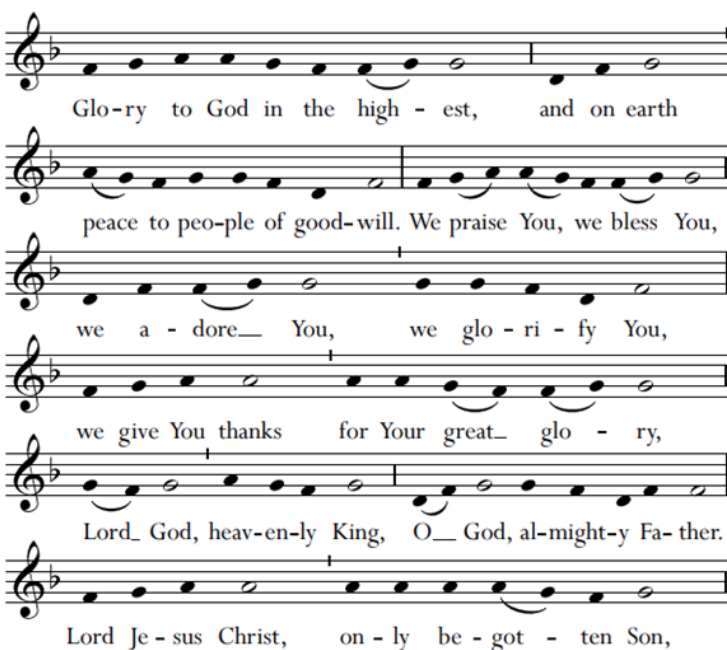

4. Angels, help us to adore Him;
Ye behold Him face to face;
Sun and moon, bow down before Him,
dwellers all in time and space.
Alleluia! Alleluia!
Praise with us the God of grace.

CELEBRATING CATHOLIC SCHOOLS WEEK & SAINTLY EDUCATORS

The Catholic Church possesses a rich legacy in the area of education, with countless holy men and women throughout the history of the Church dedicating their lives to enriching the minds and souls of youth through vibrant and faithful teaching. Catholic Schools Week (Jan. 26-Feb. 1, 2025) is an invitation not only to celebrate the tremendous gift of Catholic education in our community, but also to celebrate some of the great saints who serve as models for the Catholic education system today. This year, Catholic Schools Week coincides with the feast days of three exemplary Catholic educators: St. John Bosco (Jan. 31st), St. Thomas Aquinas (Jan. 28th), and St. Angela Merici (Jan. 27th). Each of these holy individuals has much to contribute to our understanding of faithful Catholic education.

St. John Bosco was born in 1815 in Turin, Italy. Shortly after being ordained to the priesthood, John Bosco began to work with poor young boys from the area, providing them with the education that he had not received in his youth. In addition, the first shelter he founded served as a space for recreation and, crucially, spiritual formation for the boys. Bosco had a special reputation for being an excellent preacher and using magic tricks to capture the attention of his young audience. He also placed high importance on helping his boys obtain apprenticeships and grow up to find successful work in society. John went on to found the Salesians, an order of priests and nuns dedicated to continuing the work John Bosco began among children in need. The saint is quoted as saying, "Without confidence and love, there can be no true education" (salesiansisterswest.org).

St. Thomas Aquinas, a 13th century Italian Dominican priest and a Doctor of the Church, serves as another exemplary model of a Catholic educator. Thomas showed a thirst for knowledge from a young age, leading him to become well-versed in grammar, logic, rhetoric, music, mathematics, and astronomy. Aquinas went on to be a professor in Paris and to direct Dominican schools in other parts of Europe. However, Aquinas is perhaps most famous for his eloquent and detailed writings defending the truths of the Catholic Faith. These writings, especially his Summa Theologiae, continue to be used after centuries to teach Catholic doctrine.

Finally, St. Angela Merici, born 1474 in Italy, is distinguished as the founder of the first uncloistered community of consecrated women, today known as the Ursuline Sisters. Angela imbued this religious order with her passion for the teaching and formation of girls, a mission she received after witnessing the lack of education available for young women in her local community. Angela went on to found schools and orphanages which saw great success and which now span thirty-seven countries. St. Angela, like St. John Bosco, urged her sisters to prioritize kindness, love, and faithfulness to God's calling in their mission of education.

St. John Bosco, St. Thomas Aquinas, St. Angela Merici, pray for Holy Family Academy & for all Catholic schools!

A 'THANK YOU' FROM OUR SEMINARIANS

Dear Families of Holy Family,

On behalf of myself and all the seminarians who stayed at the Nazareth House this past January, I would like to thank you all for your generosity. We are so grateful that while outside of the seminary we were still able to live in fraternity and keep striving to be anchored in Christ. While at the Nazareth House, we never needed to worry about food and got to spend our time focused on prayer, rest, service, and fraternity. The gentlemen staying there were blown away by the beauty and generosity of the parish. Many of the guys agreed that the highlights for them were visiting the students at school during lunch and recess, getting to join events such as coffee and donuts, high school youth group and the young adults, and especially getting to know the staff at Holy Family and Father Moriarty. Again, thank you for all your generosity, and know that we are keeping you and your families in our prayers. Please continue to keep us in your prayers as we begin our studies again. Thank you, have a blessed winter/spring, and praised be Jesus Christ!

In Christ,

Johnathan Lanz

2nd Year Seminarian at Saint John Vianney College Seminary.
