GOSPEL MEDITATION

Encourage Deeper Understanding Of Scripture

Not long ago, I was called to a hospital to anoint a woman in her early 80s. She was dying, and visibly in pain. But what struck me most wasn't her suffering — it was the atmosphere in the room. She had eight children and 30 foster kids, and many of them were gathered around her. You'd expect sorrow, fear, maybe even despair. But the room was filled with something else entirely — a quiet strength, a kind of sweetness. It was as if she was suffering not just with them, but for them. And they, in love, were suffering for her. The pain was real. But so was the peace. I didn't want to run. I felt as if I was in a little paradise, beeping machines and all.

I think of that moment when I hear today's Gospel. Jesus, hanging on the cross, doesn't look like a king. But one of the crucified, dying men beside him sees through the suffering and says, "Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom" (Luke 23:42). That word — remember — literally means to make someone a member again. He's asking to be joined to Christ, to become part of his Body. And Jesus says, "Today you will be with me in paradise."

He doesn't say, "I'll take your suffering away." He says, "You will be with me."

That's the strange power of Christ the King. He doesn't rule by avoiding suffering. He reigns by entering into it, and transforming it with love.

What are you suffering right now in your life? Likely you want it to stop. But if we are willing to suffer with him — paradise begins even today.

— Father John Muir

STEWARDSHIP

"...giving thanks to the Father, who has made you fit to share in the inheritance of the holy ones in light."

-Colossians 1:12

God wants us to be happy! Instead of looking at the Ten Commandments as being restrictive and telling us what we can't do, look at them as guides for living a joy-filled and peaceful life. Most of our problems arise when we put our own needs first or we spend most of our time trying to acquire more stuff. Instead, try putting God first in all things. We were made for God. Open your heart and let Him in!

NATIONAL COLLECTION FOR THE ARCHDIOCESE FOR THE MILITARY

On behalf of His Excellency, the Most Reverend Timothy P. Broglio, Archbishop for the Military Services, USA (AMS), thank you to all those who contributed to the National Collection for the AMS last week. Thank you for supporting the men and women, and their families, from our own parish and diocese who serve and protect this great nation, and who defend the freedoms we hold dear. Please pray for an increase in vocations to the priesthood and military chaplaincy.

FROM THE PASTOR

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

This week we celebrate a national holiday that is a time to come to the table with family and friends to feast on turkey and all the other special dishes. We come to the Thanksgiving table to do more than fill ourselves with good food before we sit down to an afternoon of football. We have a very special national holiday that is about giving thanks to God for all the good things we have been given.

We will also begin the season of Advent next week and while our thoughts will turn to Christmas in celebrating the birth of our Savior, we have been besieged by decorations and Christmas carols in the stores and on the radio, invitations to parties and television commercials and programs declaring that the "holiday season" is already here to be celebrated.

For us Catholics and many other Christians, November 30th will mark the beginning of the liturgical season of Advent, not Christmas. The next four weeks of Advent are a time of expectation, of quiet longing and preparation for the coming of the Messiah, and commemoration of the birth of Jesus.

Preparation is part of Advent. Advent is an excellent time to take stock, to see how we can spend more time with loved ones, speak more charitably at work, be more giving and help those less fortunate, including the sick. Hopefully, the Season of Advent will engage us in the kind of prayer that helped Mary prepare to give birth to the Messiah, and the kind of activity that will make room in our hearts for the Christ Child so that we will know him when he comes.

I would like to wish everyone a very Happy Thanksgiving Day, may it be a time of gratitude and joy with your family and friends. May our expression of gratitude to God help us move into the opportunity for prayer and preparation that the season of Advent will offer us.

Your brother in Christ,
Fr. Tom

As the hustle and bustle of the holidays approach, do you find yourself unable to "Break Through the Darkness?" Attending services during the holidays can often be very emotional and painful. "Break Through the Darkness" is a non-denominational service for families and friends of loved ones who have died. This service of light, scripture, music, and anointing will celebrate you, the life of your loved one, and what the holidays will mean to you without that special person at your side. We hope this service will help you find comfort, peace and healing.
