The recent hurricane has devastated large areas of the Southeast United States. Countless homes have been damaged and hundreds of thousands of lives have been disrupted. We will take up a special second collection next weekend, October 15-16, to support the work of Catholic Charities USA who are serving the needs of people of all beliefs who have been affected by this destructive hurricane. Please be generous in this collection so that assistance, housing, food and other immediate aid may be given to our suffering brothers and sisters.
