REFLECTING ON THE GOSPEL

Matt 11: 25-30

As we journey with Jesus in the Gospel of Matthew, we encounter him teaching, preaching, praying, and praising. In today's gospel, he seems to do all at once!

The passage opens with Jesus addressing God as "Father, Lord of Heaven and Earth." In some ways this prefigures the language later creeds will use and that we proclaim in the Nicene Creed when we say, "one God, Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth." The phrase "heaven and earth" may also call to mind the opening verse of Genesis, though there the first term in plural: "heavens and earth." the phrase is used to mean all of creation. The Father is the Lord of all creation. It is his handiwork and there is nothing that stands apart from it that is not under his dominion. The relationship between the Father and Son is intimate and dynamic. Jesus beckons the disciples into this relationship with the invitation "come to me." The term "yoke" that follows would have conjured up the image of Mosaic Law. Of course, a yoke is a type of wooden harness, bar, or frame used to keep oxen (or cattle) driving in the same direction, at the urging of a master. Wisdom is sometimes referred to as a yoke, as is the law, but not in a negative way. In the New Testament, Jesus' ways are also referred to as yoke. Jesus tells his disciples that he himself is the yoke, meek and humble of heart. The rest he promises comes ©Religious Graphics, Ltd.

from emulating his ways his attitudes, his dispositions, and his general way of being in the world. The disciple is yoked to Jesus and the disciple finds this to be lightness in his or her way of being. The yoke is not burdening or overbearing. When we are followers of Jesus when we imbibe his attitudes, our lives will not be burdened but filled with joy or, as Pope Francis might refer to it, the joy of the gospel. Living Liturgy year A Happy Fourth of July weekend!

Father,
Today we think of our nation's Independence.
The ability that we have to worship you freely, openly, and without the threat of persecution.
We ultimately thank you for bestowing that freedom on us
as a nation.
May we use that freedom to help lead others to the true freedom that comes from knowing Your son,
Jesus, our Lord.
May we forever praise
and honor Your name.
Amen

LIVING THE PASCHAL MYSTERY

Bearing a yoke would not seem to be an enjoyable experience. But Jesus gives us this image in today's gospel reading and nearly subverts it. The yoke of Jesus, the one who is meek and humble of heart, is itself easy; the burden is light. This seems to be a different image than "take up your cross and follow me." In today's gospel, we learn that when we are true disciples of Christ, we conform to the person himself. So conformed, we find any burden not to be a burden at all.

To live the paschal mystery with Christ is to live with the knowledge that we are his. He has already won the victory. Secure in this relationship with him we need only act as he would in the world, as another Christ to serve the needs of those around us. Any setback or death we experience will find new life due to the same Christ we serve. This is good news, and a spiritually rewarding way to live the paschal mystery.

LIVING THE WORD THIS WEEK

How can I make my life a gift for others?

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION FOR 2020 – 2021

Due to Covid-19, our religious education program for the 2020 – 2021 year may look a little different. However, we are committed to providing our families and youth with age appropriate materials and resources that will meet the needs of our youth and families during and after this restricted time. As we plan for the future, please know we are committed to teach the truths of the Catholic faith while drawing our students into a loving, personal, and joyful relationship with Jesus Christ. We are here to inspire and foster a desire in our youth to live a Christ-centered life by participating in the sacramental life of the Church and living out the Gospel in their daily lives. For more information or if you have questions, please contact Heriberto Aguilar (Hispanic Minister), Jody Patershall (Elementary English Program), or Frances Parker (Junior/High School Program).

REGISTRATION FOR OUR RELIGIOUS EDUCATION PROGRAM

Religious education registration forms are now available for pick-up in front of the church. Registration forms can also be emailed by request. Early Bird registration will run through August 16th.
