

Summer Reading Challenge

Dear Middle School Students and Parents:

“Reading is to the mind, what exercise is to the body” (Sir Richard Steele). We would like the students to continue to exercise their minds over the summer. The Middle School Literature teachers would like to encourage all students to continue reading over the summer.

To help with this, we are including grade level reading lists with this letter. This reading counts as a part of the Summer Reading Challenge.

Please see the booklist specific to next year’s grade level. Each student is required to read one of the books, located on their incoming grade level list, by the time school starts. There will be a graded project on the book of their choice shortly after school resumes. This will count as their first graded assessment. Of course, I encourage students to read as many of the books on the list as they can. They are great stories recommended by kids their own age.

We appreciate your support in helping your children keep up on their reading so they are well prepared for the start of the new year.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Reuter
