SPIRITUAL COMMUNION

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament. I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul. Since I cannot at this moment receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separated from You. Amen

Our cluster parishes wish to offer our graduates prayers and blessings as they begin the next phase of their young adult lives. May the faith instilled in them continue to grow and flourish and shine forth in all their endeavors.

GOSPEL REFLECTIONS:

ACTS 2:1-11; PS 104:1, 24, 29-30, 31, 34;
1 COR 12:3B-7, 12-13; JN 20:19-23

Throughout our readings today, we see the amazing truth that the Holy Spirit gives us gifts and guidance in a very personal way. We are meant to use these gifts to build up the Body of Christ in a way that is unique to each one of us.

Our first reading, from the Acts of the Apostles, recalls the dramatic moment when the Holy Spirit was poured out upon the apostles.

“Suddenly there came from the sky a noise like a strong driving wind, and it filled the entire house in which they were. Then there appeared to them tongues as of fire, which parted and came to rest on each one of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in different tongues, as the Spirit enabled them to proclaim.”

Notice how personal and individual is this outpouring of the Spirit. This personalized way of “gifting” the apostles allowed them each to reach different people, sharing with them the “mighty acts of God.” Embracing the stewardship way of life means that we allow the Holy Spirit to guide us in the best use of the unique gifts He has given to each of us, to accomplish the particular mission entrusted to us.

Jesus gives us this mission in our Gospel passage from John. “As the Father has sent me, so I send you.” But we must not let this responsibility overwhelm us. Jesus Himself, tells us so — “Peace be with you.”

As this Easter season comes to a close, let us be at peace. And let us resolve to lean on the Holy Spirit more and more as our guide through the stewardship way of life.

RETURNING TO MASS

I request that we can act in supportive and prayerful solidarity, even when opinions differ on the best way to proceed. Our reopening does not mean an immediate return of all of our worship, sacramental, and social practices. Items basic to our advisories are:

- Anyone who has fever symptoms should stay home
- Communion in the hand is what we are asking out of charity for our extraordinary ministers, the next people in procession, and our clergy
- Necessary social distancing between people of different households means that numbers admitted for a single Mass may be limited
- An expectation that worshippers will wear face masks
- People will not congregate before or after Mass inside or outside church

The precautions that we exercise are not expressions of fearfulness, but of love of neighbor and care for the vulnerable. It is understood that churches will take care to observe a standard of cleanness, but are not able to provide a sterile environment. Until we can gather more freely, trust that Our Lord has always really been present in the reading of Scripture, in our daily prayers and private devotions.

In Christ, Bishop Timothy Doherty

SUNDAY REFLECTION:

By: Douglas Sousa, S.T.L.

That first Pentecost Sunday found the apostles in the upper room gathered in prayer. In many ways, we find ourselves in a similar situation as the apostles did on that first Pentecost Sunday.

Just so, the apostles experienced a longing for the Lord. Only ten days earlier, Jesus had ascended into heaven. He was taken from their sight and their only consolation was his promise, “You will receive power from on high.” With longing for their Lord, they prayed fervently until the promise was fulfilled on that first Pentecost Sunday.

We have good news for a world that is growing weary of division, hatred, and negativity. It is the saving message of a God who is with us, who brings good out of all situations, and who loves us unconditionally. It is the good news of a God whose Spirit empowers us to bring light to the dark places of this world and hope to those who despair. He leads us out of confinement, out of fear, to embrace new possibilities.
