THE NEW COVENANT

© J. S. Paluch Co., Inc.

Today's first reading is an enormously important passage, not only in the history of the Jewish people, but also for us as disciples of Jesus, who see in it a foreshadowing of the Christian dispensation. The prophet announces that God has chosen to forgive the people, and that as a sign of divine forgiveness a new covenant will be established. Contrasting the new covenant with the one made with Moses on Mount Sinai, Jeremiah says that the new covenant will be written on the people's hearts rather than on tablets of stone. No longer will the community's tradition be the sole bearer of the covenant; henceforth, God will speak directly and personally to each individual, forgiving sin and calling for a return to God in faithfulness. No longer will mere outward compliance with the dictates of the Law suffice; henceforth, God asks for an obedience that springs from the depths of one's heart.

Precisely that kind of obedience is highlighted in today's second reading, where the author of the Letter to the Hebrews describes Jesus as the mediator of the new covenant whose obedience has made Him the source of salvation for all who, in turn, obey Him.

FEAST OF FAITH THE FIRST READING

Each Sunday, we listen to three scripture readings. The first reading usually comes from the Old Testament. "The New Testament lies hidden in the Old; the Old Testament comes fully to light in the New," we read in the Introduction to the Lectionary. "Christ Himself is the center and fullness of the whole of Scripture" (5). On Sundays, these readings usually have a close connection to the Gospel. In this season of Lent, for example, the Exodus account of the thirst of the Israelites in the desert is paired with the Samaritan woman's encounter with Jesus at the well. Ezekiel's vision of the Lord raising people from their graves is paired with the narrative of Christ raising Lazarus from the dead.

The readings are taken from many sources—historical books like Judges, Kings and the Acts of the Apostles, prophets like Isaiah and Ezekiel, wisdom literature like Proverbs or Ecclesiastes. But no matter its genre, the first reading always ends with the same acclamation: "The word of the Lord." The scriptures are written by human authors who wrote in widely different cultural and historical contexts, but these human authors are also divine instruments through whom God speaks to us. And so we say, "Thanks be to God."

The current regulations for Lent are as follows:

Persons between the ages of 18 and 59 are required to fast on Ash Wednesday and Good Friday by having only one full meal and two smaller meals that together are not equal to a full meal.

All over the age of 14 are required to abstain from meat on Ash Wednesday and Fridays during Lent

In addition to the above traditional forms, try fasting from social media, technology, gossip and excessive screen time. Fasting reminds us of our hunger for God.

Scripture References for Fasting: Jl 2: 12-14; Is 58:6-7; Mt 6:16-18; Mk 1:12-15

Today's Readings

First Reading—I will make a new covenant; I will write my law upon their hearts. (Jer 31:31-34)

Second Reading—Christ learned obedience and became the source of eternal salvation. (Heb 5:7-9)

Gospel—If a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it produces much fruit. (Jn 12:20-33)

Pope Francis' Intention for March

Let us pray that we may experience the sacrament of reconciliation with renewed depth, to taste the infinite mercy of God.

A STEWARDSHIP MOMENT

Proclaimed this weekend is the Gospel story of Jesus inviting His disciples into a great mystery with curious pronouncements: Those who love their lives just as they are will lose them. If a grain of wheat dies, it will bear much fruit...What does Jesus mean? The climatic event of Jesus' passion and death is drawing closer; a time when the great confrontation between Jesus and the powers of darkness take place. When Jesus is lifted up, He will draw all to Himself. The Christian steward knows life can not be lived in complacency. We are called to die to self, bear more fruit, be raised up with Jesus. Jesus brings discomfort to those who are comfortable. Jesus urges us to give witness in His name. How will we respond?

Letters from Heaven

Start with the letter in the shaded square. Draw a path from letter to letter to complete the Biblical statement. Move one square at a time, up, down, right, left and diagonally until all letters are used once. Ignore any black squares.

SEMINARIAN EDUCATION FUND
SECOND COLLECTION MARCH 20-21, 2021

“Dear Brothers and Sisters... I urge all the faithful to assume their responsibility for the care and discernment of vocations.”- Pope Francis (Evangelii Gaudium)

NOLAPRIEST.COM
NEW ORLEANS PRIEST

- Few realize that the Archdiocese has to pay for men to attend Notre Dame Seminary and St. Joseph Seminary College. This constitutes one of the largest line items in the annual budget for our local Church.
- One seminarian costs about $124 per-day, $3800 per-month, $45,000 per-year. We have 30 men.
- Out of the hundreds of seminarians at both seminaries, these 30 men will be serving in our local Church, serving our children and grandchildren as priests for generations to come. We need them.
- Why is it so expensive? They receive the very highest levels of training and formation, from academic and pastoral care along with services to aid their personal development. We are committed to this mission and believe now more than ever that the faithful need and deserve the very best the Church can provide.

The prophet Jeremiah, in today's first reading, is looking beyond the often-messy history of Israel and Judah to a time when the people will no longer be disobedient to God, because God's law will be "written on their hearts"—that is, their natural inclinations and desires will be oriented toward God's will.

The psalmist gives voice to the sorrow that Israel and Judah experienced in their separation from God "Have mercy on me, O God . . . A clean heart create for me." According to Saint Paul, the earthly Jesus, "Son though He was," like His ethnic ancestors, He "learned obedience from what He suffered." The Gospel reading is part of Jesus' discourses not long before the Last Supper. Instead of a social encounter with Philip's friends who had come to see him, Jesus is grappling with His approaching death and its ultimate meaning for the world.

JEREMIAH: LOOKING BEYOND EXILE AND SUFFERING

The readings today remind us how close we are to Easter—only two weeks from now. They also remind us that the path to resurrection and Easter always includes suffering and death. The prophet Jeremiah spent his whole life proclaiming the word of God to kings who would not listen. As an old man, he saw Jerusalem defeated and the inhabitants taken into exile. Jeremiah himself suffered in being left behind, but in today's reading, he is looking beyond those sufferings to a time when the previously disobedient people would be transformed and live in harmony with God's law.

The Altar Society is now accepting dues for active and auxiliary members. Dues are $10.00 and can be placed in the envelopes in back of church and dropped into the collection basket or the drop box outside of the office.

LOOKING FOR JESUS, FINDING THE CROSS

© J. S. Paluch Co., Inc.

In the Gospel reading, friends of Philip come to him and ask about meeting Jesus. When Philip and Andrew take the request to Jesus, He begins a cryptic discourse on discipleship, transformation, and divine judgment. We never hear whether Philip's friends got to personally meet Jesus. Perhaps they simply blended in with the crowd.

Jesus says, "[When I am lifted up from the earth, I will draw everyone to Myself." The narrator says that Jesus' words indicate how He will die; the readers already know Jesus will be crucified. Jesus also speaks of divine judgment driving out the world's rulers and of the need to be transformed, like a seed growing into a productive plant. He warns about loving our life and losing it. Unlike Jeremiah's detailed vision, Jesus only hints at what kind of transformed life His death will bring.

What if we, like Philip's friends, want to get close to Jesus? Does that mean that the discourse on death and judgment is addressed to us? If Jesus will draw everyone to Himself as He is "lifted up," does being closer to Him mean joining Him on His cross? (Do we want to be that close to Jesus?) Do we want to be transformed? If we say "yes," the liturgy these next two weeks can show us the only way the Church knows to get closer to Jesus: to be willing to be "lifted up" with Him in His suffering—and in our own.

Order your personalized memorial brick to be placed in the Stations of the Cross garden. Bricks are only $50.00 and can be personalized with 3 lines of text, 18 spaces each line. Order forms are in the back of the Church and in the office.

Sts. Peter & Paul parish Knights of Columbus Council 11814 is now accepting Youth Leadership Award/Scholarship applications from graduating high school seniors who wish to continue their education. Applicant must be an active member of Sts. Peter & Paul Parish. Applicant's family must be registered and supporting parish members. Forms are available in the church office during regular business hours. Deadline for the completed applications is April 15th, before office closure. The council thanks our parishioners for their support and donations which have made this possible.

SCRIPTURE INSIGHTS

The short passage from the Letter to the Hebrews casts unusual light on Jesus. The Gospel accounts tell us that Jesus prayed (Mt 14:23, Mk 1:35, Lk 6:12) and what He prayed about (Mk 14:36; Lk 22:22), but here we read that Jesus prayed “with loud cries and tears.” John’s account tells us that Jesus was confident that God heard His prayers (Jn 11:41-42), perhaps because He was God’s Son; here we read that Jesus “was heard because of His reverence.” The Gospel accounts tell us that Jesus remained in constant communion with the will of God (Mt 26:39; Jn 8:29); here we read that “He learned obedience from what He suffered.” The Gospel accounts tell us that at Jesus’ baptism He was already “My Son the beloved” in whom God was well pleased” (Lk 3:22), but here we read that Jesus was “made perfect.”

The letter’s frank statement that Jesus progressed toward perfection stands alongside a Christology equal in majesty to any in the New Testament: this same human Jesus is the “heir of all things and through whom [God] created the universe,” “the refulgence of [God’s] glory, the very imprint of [God’s] being,” the One who “sustains all things by His mighty word” (Heb 1:2-4).

This writer grasped what many views of Jesus lack: a clear understanding of Jesus’ humanity. Human beings develop over time, feel doubt and pain, do not know their fate, aspire to achieve. Hebrews makes explicit what the Gospel accounts imply: Jesus progressed toward God by suffering.

The Jeremiah passage speaks of the new covenant where rule-keeping cannot pass for true devotion and God will write God’s law “on their hearts.” Jesus’ moment-by-moment practice of obedience fulfilled that prophecy by engraving God’s covenant into the human heart forever. He wrote this inner law on our hearts with the stylus of His passion.

FATHER, FORGIVE THEM

The promise made by the LORD in the first reading is very bold. He says that all people shall know Him, without having to be taught by others. He does not restrict the promise to only the holiest people: He says that the way people will know Him is through forgiveness of their sins. Remember, He is speaking to the Israelites, who had so many laws and commandments, they needed scribes and Pharisees to keep track of them. When they broke a commandment or law, they were isolated from the community. So the promise that God would place His law in their hearts meant they would be free to do God’s will because they want to, not because they feared punishment or rejection.

Jesus says something similar in today’s gospel. He tells the disciples that His crucifixion would draw everyone to Him. Now, Jesus’ death showed that He took on the punishment for sins in place of us, who deserve it. In Luke’s gospel He even prays for those who crucified Him, asking God’s forgiveness. (Lk 23:34) By dying on the cross, Jesus shows how much God loves us. By rising from the dead, He shows that we can rise from sin to a new life of faith and love.

Getting back to the first reading, we experience that promise when we bring our sins to God. When we forgive people who have hurt us, we also help them to experience that love. After all, if I can forgive someone, surely God will forgive them. We also help others to know God when we share or experience of being forgiven. Still not sure if God has forgiven you? The sacrament of Reconciliation gives us the assurance of God’s forgiveness, as well as the experience. Along with the other sacraments, it helps us keep God’s love in our hearts.

Confessions will be heard Wednesday, March 24th from 5:00-6:15 p.m. in all Churches in our Archdiocese.

TRADITIONS OF FAITH

This week we remember San Isidro (560? 621) the Bishop of Seville who in 2002 was named one of the possible patron saints of the Internet by the Pontifical Council for Social Communication. This Hispanic saint never used cyberspace, but he was the first to do what is good about the Internet, gather information of all kinds in one place to be easily consulted (user friendly). This work of San Isidro is 20 books and called the Etymologiae, or “Origines”. It is the first encyclopedia and tries to give the reader a database of information on all kinds of topics in the form of small flashes.

The Church for centuries has proposed patron saints of all kinds of people, works and hobbies. These are models and protectors of the correct use of our human abilities and to avoid abuse. Unfortunately the Internet is used to spread all kinds of rubbish and slander. However, it must be recognized that this tool can be a valuable instrument to proclaim the word of God and love of neighbor.
