

SAINT LUKE THE EVANGELIST PARISH

Westborough, MA

Twenty-Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

September 15, 2024

Along the way he asked his disciples, "Who do people say that I am?" They said in reply, "John the Baptist, others Elijah, still others one of the prophets." And he asked them, "But who do you say that I am?" Peter said to him in reply, "You are the Christ." Then he warned them not to tell anyone about him. Mk 8:27-30

Our image this week is one of the oldest known depictions of Christ our Savior. It is a Byzantine icon still housed in the remote monastery of St. Catherine's in the Sinai Peninsula, Egypt, and dates to the middle of the 6th century. It is relevant to today's gospel because it deals precisely with the question Christ asks Peter: "But who do you say that I am?" The answer is laid out before us in this commanding portrait of Christ, "the Pantocrator" ("ruler over all"). If you look closely, you will see that the left side of Christ's face is slightly different from the right side (asymmetrical). This is because the left (more idealized) side is a representation of his divinity, and the right (less idealized) represents his humanity. In his left hand he holds a gold gem-encrusted covered book (signifying its sacredness) of gospels that tells his story. However, his right hand is lifted in a blessing gesture, and his two fingers (index and middle) are raised slightly indicating to the viewer his dual nature; he is at once both fully man and fully Christ. The gesture also references Jesus Christ's initials in Greek, further indicating his identity.

Questions: Kathy Lawrence 508-366-6631

During halftime, the high school basketball coach was trying to motivate his team as they struggled to stay in the game. “You’re not really trying,” he said, “you’re just going through the motions. Your bodies are here, but your minds and hearts are a million miles away. Where’s your commitment? Get in the game! Focus on what you are doing. Give it 100% or we are sure to lose.”

Jesus wants to know what the Apostles are thinking about Him. He asks and it is Peter who answers for them all. Ironically, it is Peter who tries to spare Jesus from the cross, and later, Peter will deny even knowing Jesus. His body was there, but his mind and heart were elsewhere. Peter’s faith wavered because of his fear and uncertainty. But once he recovers and is strengthened by the Holy Spirit, Peter will be the first to proclaim the Gospel and the first to lead the Church,

People struggle with faith. Our minds want to understand what we believe; we look for insight into what our hearts desire; we want to be more certain about our values, morals and choices. If you struggle, you are on the right path. Don’t worry about ‘spiritual’ trends in society or how loudly others may speak out against all that is holy. Let your life witness answer the question of faith: who do you say that He is?

James Gaffney
