PASTOR'S REFLECTION

Dear Friends,

St. Louis Parish expresses sincerest gratitude to Father Paul Dudzinski for his 7 years of service! He has provided invaluable pastoral care during the past 7 years while earning his doctorate in philosophy from the Catholic University of America.

Father Dudzinski, thank you sincerely for all the Masses you have celebrated (in English and in Spanish), all the sermons you have preached, all the baptisms you administered, all the sick and homebound that you have served and anointed, the thousands of confessions that you have heard, your priestly presence, and your example of faith. You will be missed here by all of us at St. Louis Parish! You have especially given your heart to the Poor Clares and we know that they will miss you dearly.

We wish Father Dudzinski well in his new assignment!

Next weekend there will be a reception after the 10:30am Mass in the school cafeteria. Please take the opportunity to thank Father Dudzinski personally for his seven years of service and wish him well in his new assignment.

Ad multos annos, Pater!

Your Pastor,
Father O'Hare

Prayer for the Homebound

Lord, you have a special love
for those who are weak, infirm, and dependent.
Bless the homebound parishioners of our parish as they carry their daily crosses.
May our prayers bring them strength and consolation,
and the Sacraments sanctify and inspire them.
We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

This week we pray especially for the following homebound parishioners:
Amir Kalil, Bob Kopaz, Melinda Kramer, Mary Lassanyi, Francisca Leynes, and Virginia Masse.

What is Purgatory? Why do we pray for the dead?

A common description of Purgatory from Church tradition speaks of a cleansing fire. In particular, St. Paul records: “If anyone builds on this foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, or straw, the work of each will come to light, for the Day will disclose it. It will be revealed with fire, and the fire [itself] will test the quality of each one’s work. If the work stands that someone built upon the foundation, that person receives a wage. But if someone’s work is burned up, that one will suffer loss; the person will be saved, but only as through fire.” (1 Corinthians 3:12-15)

The imagery St. Paul uses is that of the refining of metals. Fire is used to test and refine precious metals by bringing them to their melting point. At this high temperature, anything impure which has not melted can then be removed. In a similar way, in Purgatory, anything inauthentic in a person’s soul is removed. The pain is caused by being separated from God. We can imagine this as the refining fire of divine love, which purifies a soul and prepares it to enter heaven.

The Church today refers to the souls in Purgatory as “our brethren ... who having died are still being purified” (Lumen Gentium, No. 51). They continue to be important members of the Church, of the Mystical Body of Jesus Christ according to the belief in the communion of saints. We are able to assist the faithful departed by our prayers, just as they can also help us by their prayers (Catechism of the Catholic Church, par. 958).

Prayers for the dead have been offered for many centuries. The earliest reference in the Bible is found in the second book of Maccabees. Judas Maccabees was an important Jewish general of the second century before Christ. He led his army to success in a hard fought battle. The following day he, along with his soldiers, returned to the battlefield to gather together the bodies of the soldiers who had fallen in battle.

They wished to give them a respectful funeral. Judas Maccabees and the surviving soldiers knew that they had committed a grave sin, an action that was forbidden by the Law. Yet they also knew that these men were otherwise good people, people who had died virtuously by courageously defending the law of God. They immediately offered prayers and sacrifices for these Jewish soldiers who died wearing pagan amulets. The second book of Maccabees states:

Turning to supplication, they prayed that the sinful deed might be fully blotted out... He then took up a collection among all the soldiers, amounting to two thousand silver drachmas, which he sent to Jerusalem to provide for an expiatory sacrifice. In doing this he acted in a very excellent and noble way, inasmuch as he had the resurrection in mind ... Thus he [Judas Maccabees] made atonement for the dead that they might be freed from their sin (2 Maccabees 12: 42-43, 46).

Judas and his companions prayed that God might deliver these soldiers from their sin and assist them on their journey to eternal light. This is the first indication we have in the Bible that the prayers of the living can help deliver the dead from any sin that might separate them from God’s presence and prevent them from finding eternal peace and life.

The Catholic Church has taught for centuries that our prayers are of assistance to those who have died. We commend their soul to God’s mercy and pray for them. We can help them not only by our prayers, but also by offering a Mass in their name, by giving alms, by indulgences or other works of penance done for their benefit (CCC 1032).

This November, a month dedicated to prayer for the Holy Souls in Purgatory, let us remember to keep them in our prayers out of love. Let us remember that prayers can be extremely powerful in assisting the souls of our loved ones in their journey to attaining eternal life and peace.

Building Better Families

ST. LOUIS SCHOOL

Rooted in Faith, Growing in Christ

Humility is knowing the truth about yourself. The humble person acknowledges that there are certain things that they do well and there are areas for growth and improvement. The humble person also understands that these strengths are gifts from God and our weaknesses serve as reminders that no one is perfect. For the month of November, students at St. Louis are focusing on the virtue of humility, learning to accept their limitations and God-given talents. St. Padre offers a wonderful example of Humility for our students as he accepted his limitations and chose to utilize his strengths to glorify God.

Save the date! Open Houses for Prospective Families will be held on November 17, 10am-1pm and November 19, 9-11am.
K-8 application packets will be available November 1st — www.stlouisschool.org — and will be accepted beginning Nov. 17th
