Dear Parishioners,

In these Sundays following the Solemnity of Pentecost, we find several special celebrations of the Liturgical Year. It may be Ordinary time, but these special celebrations remind us of what we believe.

Last week we celebrated the Holy Trinity, a great mystery of our faith. Each aspect of the Trinity helps us understand a little bit more about God. Yet we can spend the rest of our life trying to understand each person in the Trinity, but we will never be able to fully understand or comprehend how the Trinity works.

This week we celebrate another of those special Sundays: The Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ. During Holy Week and throughout the Easter Season, we had many readings and Gospels to try to help us understand that we can always find the Lord in the Eucharist. After the Resurrection, we can see how the Apostles always knew right away that it was the Lord when He broke the bread and shared it with them. Any doubts they had immediately went away.

As we gather as a Church community each weekend (and also daily) for the celebration of the Eucharist, we are reminded on this Sunday to not let this be something that becomes too ordinary. But we find that the Eucharist is something that is very far from the ordinary. Although Jesus used very common elements of bread and wine to remind us, we always need to remember what it becomes: His Body and His Blood. There's nothing that is ordinary about that at all.

Yes, the Church celebrates today the food for the journey. As we have been reminded many times during this Jubilee Year 2025, we are Pilgrims of Hope. Our journey of faith continues! The Eucharist helps us to focus on the destination: The Promise of Heaven! There's nothing ordinary about that at all.

Let us see this day and always how the Eucharist helps us to continue to grow in our faith. For each time we receive it, we encounter Christ!

Thanks for reading!

Fr. Mark

Reflection on the Readings

In today's Gospel, Jesus performs a great miracle: from only five loaves and two fish, over 5000 people are fed! This miracle has significant consequences beyond the immediate satisfaction of hunger—later in the same chapter, Jesus will ask his disciples "Who do you say that I am?" and Peter will respond: "The Christ of God." Like the disciples at Emmaus, whose "eyes were opened" when Jesus broke bread before them, so this miracle, a prefiguration of the Eucharist, brings revelation of Jesus' true identity (Gadenz 177).

What can we see at the breaking of the bread? Today's readings reveal two truths: 1. Jesus is a priest forever, not according to the Mosaic law, which required constant atonement and sacrifice, but in the line of Melchizedek—a mysterious figure who "brought out bread and wine" before Abram. Like Melchizedek, "without father or mother or genealogy...neither beginning of days nor end of life" (Heb. 7:3), Jesus stands as a permanent high priest, a Son "who has been made perfect forever" (Heb. 7:28) and who will never die. 2. As often as we "eat this bread and drink the cup," we "proclaim the death of the Lord until he comes" (1 Cor. 26). Every time we witness the sacrifice of the Mass, every time we receive the body, blood, soul, and divinity of Jesus, we are joined to the great sacrifice offered once and for all time—"a single offering [that] has perfected for all time those who are sanctified" (Heb. 10:14).

Yet these truths, revealed in the breaking of the bread, can only be seen by those with eyes of faith. Many of the 5000 did not recognize Jesus as anything more than a prophet or miracle-worker. They pursued him only to be fed again. "Do not labor for the food which perishes, but for the food which endures to eternal life," Jesus warned them—and us (Jn. 6:27). What do we see in the breaking of the bread? Do we recognize Jesus, the great high priest? Or we do crave only what is perishable and earthly?
