From the Desk of Father Chris ….

"Viva Cristo Rey!" – (Blessed Miguel Pro)

After celebrating the Solemnity of Christ the King, we anticipate the beginning of a new Church year – Advent. I'm very grateful for so many of you who have volunteered to help be part of our new Art & Environment committee to make our worship space look and feel like Advent. The Church is our home away from home (our 2nd home).

Speaking of Advent, if you happen to be available on Friday this week (the day after Thanksgiving), we could still use a few extra hands to help with stringing lights across the Church again. If you'd like to help with this, we'll be starting around 9:30am after our daily Mass.

This week you'll also see tags for our Advent Giving Tree. The procedures on how this work are right by the Giving Tree in front of the bulletin board. This tradition went so beautifully last year. I'm grateful for Jerry Joyce and Sr. Denise Marie for heading up this endeavor this year.

Our maintenance staff has been working hard learning about our specific needs here in Chesterland, especially when it comes to the snow. Just recently they learned quite a bit about our roofs and drainage systems here at the parish. They were able to fix or supervise contractors who helped fix these systems. Praise God for the wonderful people in our community who work hard to make sure we're able to do the good work of the Lord. We've got our equipment ready for wintertime. As always, we're grateful also for Jason Abate for the wonderful work he does to make sure our parking lot is plowed and salted. Please keep all of those who work outside in the winter months in your prayers.

On behalf of the staff at St. Anselm, we wish you and your loved ones a very Happy Thanksgiving on Thursday! You'll be in my prayers if you're traveling for the Holiday this year.

In Gratitude,
Fr. Chris

Saint Spotlight of the Week: Blessed Miguel Pro

This time of year, it is hard for Catholics who know the story of the Cristeros and the Mexican Civil War to not think of Saints like St. Jose Luis Sanchez del Rio and Blessed Miguel Pro. Miguel was born in a somewhat affluent family in Mexico in 1891. After discerning his vocation as a youth, he decides he wants to become a Jesuit priest like so many wonderful missionaries he's read so much about. It wasn't long after this decision that Mexico entered into a civil war. The government and affluent fought to secure their power. As often happens in world and Church history, this meant essentially trying to deify themselves. It meant trying to push Jesus out of Mexico. Christ brought much hope to the lower middle-class and poor of Mexico. After the government started using the army to terrorize people who refused to bow down before them instead of Christ, those who loved Christ fought back. They called themselves Cristeros. When the war started, Miguel fled to Europe to finish his formation and studies to become a priest, and soon after ordination, went back to Mexico to help. Public Mass and Sacraments were outlawed in Mexico, but he would lead underground Masses, the Sacraments, and prayer groups. The Mexican government would find out about him and round him up. They falsely accused him of attempting to assassinate the president of Mexico. He would soon be martyred by firing squad, but not before he uttered his last words: "Viva Cristo Rey" ("Long live Christ the King!")

Notes from Sister Noel …

Each month our Confirmation students meet with their sponsor following a lesson in Decision Point designed by Matthew Kelly. The hope is that the sponsor shares their own perspective on the topic of faith being learned. The student listens and shares their own insight or questions around what the sponsor has shared.

Matthew Kelly through his short videos speaks clearly of our call to live out faith. The book's title touches on the importance of decision making as the way we live out our faith. Each chapter has a different facet of the Spirit's assisting us in discerning our choices.

This month's chapter is "The Jesus Question". Through careful watching of the videos, reflecting on the questions that follow and listening to one another much can be learned.

Jesus whole life demonstrated how to live as a disciple, as one who is faithful to the Father and also recognizing we are all one family. The Jesus we have come to know through the Scriptures offers us a way of learning to pray, to reach out and to heal in our own way.

Our smiles, our willingness to assist another and the kind way we speak to one another are just a few ways. Jesus was attuned to those who came to him. His heart often was touched and he acted to benefit them in some way.

By his actions, we learn the way to look at people and events in another way, in the way of Jesus. As Americans and often very educated people, we are led by our heads and that is okay but that is only one facet of who we are. Jesus calls us to lead with our heart as well. The heart is where the Spirit resides.

This chapter puts a light on the importance of knowing Jesus and acting like him. Whenever one needs to make a decision about what to do, I suggest that students ask themselves, "What would Jesus do?"

You may not know what Jesus would do, but from hearing the Scripture you do know more clearly what Jesus would not do. This is a lesson not only for children but for all of us.
