

March Pre-K-3

Newsletter

We wanted to say a special “Thank you” to Mrs. Murphy, our homeroom mom, for organizing our classroom Valentine’s Day party snack. To all of our wonderful Pre-K-3 families, the items you sent in helped to make our new favorite snack so sweet! The Pre-K-3 children had fun being “little cupids” and sharing Valentine Day cards and treats with their classmates. The students enjoyed our celebration where they made two wonderful Valentine’s Day crafts and had a great time playing various Valentine’s Day games and bingo.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO YOU!

Birthday wishes go out to Brixlee who will celebrate her special day on March 19th.

During the season of Lent, the students will be practicing “Silent Hallways”. Please remind your child that they are to go directly into their classroom in the morning quietly, unpack their belongings and then go to their lockers to put their things away.

We will also be using silent voices when the students are in the hallways using the restrooms, getting our snack items, and when we are getting our belongings for dismissal.

In February/March, we will begin an exciting lesson on rhyming words by reading and using stories by Dr. Seuss. Each day, we will read a classic by Dr. Seuss. To help us, a special stuffed character will be picked out of the basket each day by one of the students to help us guess which story we will be reading. We will be doing some familiar stories as well as ones the students might not have heard before. I hope that my students enjoy them and will get pumped up about reading!

We will be doing many new and exciting things in Pre-K-3:

- *Discussing, reading, singing and doing art projects about St. Patrick's Day

- *Larry the Leprechaun will be spending some time in our classroom teaching the students some facts about Ireland and its culture (he may play some tricks and leave some treats)

- *Doing some art projects about the saying "March comes in like a lion and out like a lamb"

- *Talking about and doing art projects to celebrate Spring

- *Discussing and doing projects with the Old Testament stories about Abraham, Joseph, and Moses
