Gospel Reflection: Matthew 13:44-52 (shorter form: Matthew 13:44-46)

Jesus teaches about the Kingdom of Heaven.

Today's Gospel concludes three weeks of readings from the 13th Chapter of Matthew's Gospel. Throughout these three weeks we have heard Jesus teaching crowds about the kingdom of heaven, and we have heard Jesus interpret some of his teachings for the disciples. In this week's Gospel, Jesus offers three more short parables.

The first two parables describe the great value of the kingdom of heaven. In the first parable, Jesus says that the kingdom of heaven is like a buried treasure that is worth possessing even if it means giving up everything else.

In the second parable, Jesus proposes that the kingdom of heaven is like a pearl of great worth for which one will sell everything else to possess. These parables teach us that we are to place everything we value in the service of the pursuit of the Kingdom of God.

The third parable that Jesus proposes in today's Gospel is different from the first two, but it is reminiscent of the parable of the sower heard in last week's Gospel. The kingdom of heaven is compared to fishing with a wide net. After the fish have been collected, the good fish are kept and the bad fish are thrown away; so too, in the final judgment, will the wicked and the righteous be separated.

Today's Gospel concludes with a curious statement about the scribe who understands the kingdom of heaven. Here a metaphor is offered: this scribe is like the head of a household who "brings from his storeroom both the new and the old." The scribes referred to here are experts of Mosaic law. It is possible that Jesus is here instructing the early Christian community on how to proceed in the interpretation of Jewish law with respect to Jesus' "new" teaching. Jesus' teaching about the kingdom of heaven does not replace the Jewish tradition; it interprets it in a different light. *From Loyolapress.com

FIVE COMMON MYTHS ABOUT PRIESTHOOD:

A GUIDE FOR PARENTS

Year after year, in surveys of newly ordained priests, over half report that their families opposed the idea of priesthood when they first expressed interest. Undoubtedly, parents want the best for their children. So, what about priesthood does not fit parents' vision of "the good life"? Let's look at five common myths about the seminary and priesthood. This week we will share the third myth.

MYTH #3 "I WON'T HAVE GRANDCHILDREN."

When a mother of a priest was asked at her only child's ordination if she was sad she would never have grandchildren, she responded, "It's not about me." She was simply grateful that her son had found God's will for his life. Many parents of priests are surprised to find that they gain "spiritual grandchildren"—thousands of people whose lives have been profoundly influenced by their son's priesthood. There is a special joy in meeting people who exclaim, "You're Fr. Jacob's mother? He's such a great priest!"

On Sunday July 16 at the St. Michael's German Mass Fr. Glen blessed and installed the new (new to them) statue of St. Michael the Archangel. Our Rose City Central Catholic of Parishes calls upon St. Michael's protection at every Mass. We thank our German, Polish & Croatian communities for bringing this prayer to our parishes so we may be under the protection of St. Michael the Archangel at all times.

You may have noticed at OLPH that a tree has been cut down. During the ice storm that we had in the winter a few big branches had broken off. We contacted an arborist who came and took a look at our trees. He suggested that we take down the tree that was closest to the driveway. The other tree that was a concern for us is on city property and they have been contacted and we are on a list for an assessment of that tree.

SAINT JOHN VIANNEY'S STORY

A man with vision overcomes obstacles and performs deeds that seem impossible. John Vianney was a man with vision: He wanted to become a priest. But he had to overcome his meager formal schooling, which inadequately prepared him for seminary studies. His failure to comprehend Latin lectures forced him to discontinue. But his vision of being a priest urged him to seek private tutoring. After a lengthy battle with the books, John was ordained.

Situations calling for "impossible" deeds followed him everywhere. As pastor of the parish at Ars, John encountered people who were indifferent and quite comfortable with their style of living. His vision led him through severe fasts and short nights of sleep. With Catherine Lassagne and Benedicta Lardet, he established La Providence, a home for girls. Only a man of vision could have such trust that God would provide for the spiritual and material needs of all those who came to make La Providence their home. His work as a confessor is John Vianney's most remarkable accomplishment. In the winter months he was to spend 11 to 12 hours daily reconciling people with God. In the summer months this time was increased to 16 hours. Unless a man was dedicated to his vision of a priestly vocation, he could not have endured this giving of self day after day. Many people look forward to retirement and taking it easy, doing the things they always wanted to do but never had the time. But John Vianney had no thoughts of retirement. As his fame spread, more hours were consumed in serving God's people. Even the few hours he would allow himself for sleep were disturbed frequently by the devil. Who, but a man with vision, could keep going with ever-increasing strength? In 1929, Pope Pius XI named him the patron of parish priests worldwide.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS
 IN SERVICE TO ONE. IN SERVICE TO ALL.

News from our Rev. Lionel Belanger Council #11090

The Lilly of the Mohawks (1656 – 1680)
 The Ontario State Deputy has dedicated the 2023 – 2024 Columbian Year to the Patroness St. Kateri Tekakwitha. She passed the first step toward sainthood on January 3rd, 1943 when Pope Pius XII bestowed the title of venerable upon her. Pope John Paul II beatified her on June 22nd, 1980. December 19th, 2011, Pope Benedict XVI acknowledged a miracle attributed to Catherine, that of healing a young boy in Washington State in 2006. The boy, Jake Finkbonner, had contracted necrotizing fasciitis; also known as "flesh-eating disease" and was cured after Saint Kateri was asked to intervene through prayer and holding a relic of her to his chest. On October 21st, 2012, Catherine was elevated to sainthood and became the first North American Aboriginal person to be canonized. Saint Kateri is not Canadian, and she is not Algonquin. She is North American because she was part of both the Algonquin and Mohawk tribes which were part of the Six Nations Iroquois Confederation which had, at its apex, run from the shores of the Saint Lawrence River to the Laurentian mountains to the North and Albany, N.Y. to the South.

Please keep in your prayers Fr. Stan, Sr. Elzbieta and a group of youth from Holy Trinity parish who are attending World Youth Day (WYD) from Aug. 1 to Aug. 6. We can't wait to hear all about their experience when they return back to our Family of Parishes.

ALB

Symbolism

The alb is white, symbolizing the purity of heart that the priest must bring to the altar.

Prayer of the priest

"Make me white, O Lord, and cleanse my heart; that being made white in the Blood of the Lamb I may deserve an eternal reward."
