"And who is my neighbour?" Luke 10:30 Jesus makes it clear in this parable that our neighbour is anyone around us, regardless of their ethnic, religious, or socio-economic status. Further, Jesus highlights four actions that practically demonstrate love for our neighbour. What actions do you demonstrate to show your love for your neighbour?

Gospel Background: Luke 10:25-37

The parable of the Good Samaritan

As Jesus continues his journey to Jerusalem, he is confronted by a scholar of the law who wants to test him. In the Gospels of Mark and Matthew, Jesus is asked about the greatest commandment. Here, in Luke's Gospel, the lawyer asks what we must do to inherit eternal life. In the other two Gospels, Jesus answers the question by quoting Deuteronomy 6:5, on loving God with all your heart, and Leviticus 19:18, on loving your neighbour. Here Jesus asks the expert to answer this question, "What is written in the law?" The man is caught and responds with Deuteronomy 6:5. This verse is one of the most important prayers in Judaism, and it was said twice a day in Jesus' time. Love of God and love of neighbour are what is required for eternal life. Jesus' response is simple, "Do this and you will live."

Having been shown up by Jesus, the lawyer tries another question: Who is my neighbour whom I must love like myself? In the society of Jesus' time, with its distinctions between Jews and Gentiles, men and women, clean and unclean, this was a trick question. Jesus responds with one of the most beautiful of all the parables, the Good Samaritan. It is found only in Luke's Gospel.

The road from Jerusalem to Jericho descends 3,300 feet in just 17 miles. Its narrow passes and rocky terrain made it an easy place for bandits to wait for travelers. The traveler in this parable is identified only as "a certain man." Luke uses this phrase in many of his parables so that the audience, Jew or Gentile, could identify with the man. After the attack, the man is left for dead, naked and bleeding on the side of the road. A priest comes along, but rather than helping, as one might expect, he moves to the other side of the road. Another religious person comes along, a Levite who assists in the Temple. His reaction is the same as the priest's. Both of them choose to not even find out if the man is alive. A third person comes along. The listeners would probably expect him to be an Israelite. This would make the parable a criticism of the religious leadership. Instead he is a Samaritan, an Israelite's most hated neighbor. Samaritans were descendants of Jews from the northern part of the country, who had intermarried with Gentiles and did not worship in Jerusalem. The Samaritan not only goes over to the injured man but cleans his wounds, puts him on his own animal, takes him to an inn to recover, and promises to pay all his expenses. The hated enemy is the compassionate neighbour in this parable.

Jesus has demolished all boundary expectations. It is not social definitions such as class, religion, gender, or ethnicity that determines who is our neighbor. A neighbour is a person who acts with compassion toward another. The point becomes not who deserves to be loved as I love myself, but that I become a person who treats everyone with compassion.

When Jesus asks the lawyer who was the neighbour in the story, the lawyer can't bring himself to say it was the Samaritan. All he says is that it was "the one who treated him with mercy." Jesus' response was similar to that of the first discussion: "Go and do likewise." The lawyer, and we, know what is right. The key is to do it. * From Loyolapress.com

At OLPH Church, we were gifted with a donation in memory of Patricia (Pat) Ondracka. Pat was a member of our choir and she sometimes filled in for us by playing the organ. The donation came from her Sorority Sisters— XI Delta Lambda. Between their donation and our cbingo account we were able to purchase 10 choir hymnals of the most updated Glory & Praise hymnal and the musician's accompanist book. We thank Pat's Sorority Sisters for their generous donation. We are happy to say that John has already chosen and used several new hymns from the Glory & Praise hymnal. We know Pat would have loved singing the new hymns at our weekend celebrations.

"Knowing about someone is not the same as knowing a person. Strive to know Jesus more with every passing day."

MATTHEW KELLY
33 Days to Eucharistic Glory

"When Pope Francis proclaimed the Jubilee Year 2025, he encouraged us to pray as Pilgrims of Hope. "May grace of the Jubilee reawaken in us, Pilgrims of Hope, a yearning for the treasures of heaven." Those treasures refer to our ultimate goal of eternal life with God but also to the treasures that God offers us in this life.

The Eucharist is one of those treasures. We think of the sacrament of the Body and Blood of the Lord. We also think of the celebration by which bread and wine are offered and consecrated to be the food and drink for this pilgrimage throughout life, until we gather at the heavenly banquet, the Supper of the Lamb.

Reflecting on the Eucharist that we celebrate and receive is an important part of the focus in the Diocese of London for the Jubilee. Our Rose City Central Catholic Family of Parishes' Pastoral Team has been and will be attending workshops so we as People of God can deepen our understanding of this treasure by the way we celebrate, receive and live this mystery of faith.

Soon those who serve in liturgical ministries in our parishes will be asked to attend workshops reflecting this focus in our Diocese.

They are based on The General Instruction of the Roman Missal (GIRM) and the Pastoral Notes for the Celebration of the Eucharist in Light of the Revised Roman Missal (PN) These documents inform the norms and the changes needed for our liturgies." (Bishop Fabbro)

If you are a liturgical minister in one of our parishes, you will be invited in the Fall to attend one of the workshops.
