A Message from the Pastor

Beloved Church families and Friends;

Welcome back. I hope that you had a safe Halloween. Of course, your favorite "Saints" won the game. Wow! I congratulate you and your favorite team. It is always a pleasure to take some time to talk to you from the heart by expressing our joy to welcome you back as a family. We were away from each other physically, but we were together in thoughts and prayer. Again, I truly hope that Jesus was with you throughout the week.

As we often say, every weekend we come back to class with Jesus as our Teacher by excellence. Let us take every second we have to spend time with our Teacher. Yes, we need to do so because we are called to bear witness to His message. In order to bring others to Him, we need to know Him. Throughout the celebration of the Eucharist, may Jesus continue to guide us always.

In this weekend's Gospel, where He stated: "Beware of the scribes who like to go around in long robes and accept greetings in the market place, seats of honor in synagogues, and places of honor at banquets." According to Jesus, those scribes will be punished severely. Indeed, the scribes did things so that others might see them. Jesus calls upon us to be real and sincere. Yes, it is a challenging message for all of us who are leaving in a world led by fame, power, material possessions. No wonder Jesus invited us to be ready to take up the cross as our important mark of discipleship.

My dear friends, being a Christian in today's world remains a challenging thing. However, we did not call ourselves but the Master called us to follow Him. Unlike the scribes who loved to dress in long robes and who loved to take seat in places of honor, let us ask Jesus to show us how to be humble for He Himself, that the one who exalts himself or herself will be exalted.

As we continue to follow Jesus, and through the intercession of all the saints, let us ask Jesus to continue to order our every step. In all saints day in the Gospel, Jesus said in the sermon of the mountain: " Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the Kingdom of God." Further, Jesus said: " Blessed are you when they insult you and persecute and utter every kind of evil against you falsely because of me; Rejoice and be glad for your reward will be great in heaven."

Beloved friends, I wish you a week filled with joy, happiness, joy, fun, and blessings. Please continue to take good care of yourself. Remember this: In order to be help to others, you must take care of yourself first. Indeed, be sure you mask up first before helping others.

With love and heartfelt of gratitude, I remain yours truly and always.
Father Oswald Pierre Pierre-Jules Jr., S.S.J., Your Pastor
