HIGH SCHOOL LOVE BEGINS HERE 2025

Three high school missionaries from Lumen Christi headed to Kenosha, WI for a 6-day mission trip July 13th-18th, joining 20+ missionaries in the outreach program Love Begins Here, an Archdiocese-based initiative that seeks to serve those in need in our very own communities.

This week of service was extremely blessed with encountering and serving many wonderful individuals, doing big and small things with great love, learning meaningful lessons from those they served and from the core arises doing all kinds of fun games and activities, spending intentional time in personal prayer, having deep team missionaries, doing all kinds of fun games and activities, spending intentional time in personal prayer, having deep conversations, making new and lasting friendships, and overall being open and attentive to each person they met.

Read below some reflections from our missionaries!

"On Love Begins Here, I made a lot of new friends and was surrounded by an amazing community the whole week. I encountered God through the people I met, especially the head of the Italian American Society, Marty, who not only worked alongside us as we served there, but said we gave him hope for the future. My favorite parts of LBH were our beach sunrise/beach time, and getting to worship with other participants who could sing and play piano while I played guitar." - Lanie

"On Love Begins Here, I learned to put others before my own comfort and desire to relax, because that's what God would do. I encountered God in Confession and Adoration when I truly felt His love and forgiveness for the first time. My favorite part of LBH was the connections I made." - Neela

Pillar: Regular Financial Support of the Parish

These weekly Active Membership articles are written by LC parishioners, who are sharing their time and talent. We hope their words inspire you to embrace your active membership at LC to truly become "one family sharing the love and light of Christ."

his Sunday's readings call us to a really hard-to-accept but amazing truth: our worth is not in what we possess, but in what we give away... our Excess, our Selfishness, our Hurt, our Love, our Gifts...

The first reading may feel heavy, but it's really a strong reminder that genuine peace comes when we serve God and use our God-given gifts for His good.

St. Paul urges us to set our hearts "on what is above, not on what is on earth." It's another strong reminder that God loves us for our souls, not for our bank accounts, accumulations, or possessions. This is encouraging!

And in the Gospel, Jesus drives the point home with His parable of the rich man. The man could either aim to accumulate more and more, or wisely find ways to use his already bountiful possessions as gifts of goodness.

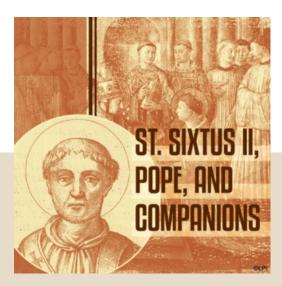

What matters to God? It is not the size of our bank accounts, but the love in our hearts and what we do with the blessings we've received. To be "rich in what matters to God" is to use our gifts - Time, Talent, and Treasure - for His glory and for the good of others.

Supporting Lumen Christi with regular financial contributions is one powerful way to use our gifts for God and for the good of others.

Not because God needs our money, but because we need to give to Him!

Regular giving helps loosen my grip for greedy aspirations, and it reminds me that all I have stems from God. In my heart of hearts, I truly believe Jesus is my very best friend. And who wouldn't want to generously support their best friend's endeavors?!

All of us are called to be stewards of God's blessings, and when we give generously, we echo those blessings for many more to benefit from.

CREATION CARE CORNER: ONE SIMPLE ACT[©] Check your toilets for leaks!

Water leaks account for approximately 14% of all water use in the average American home, and the toilet is one of the most likely places to find them. Put several drops of food coloring in the toilet tank. Don't flush and wait 10-15 minutes. Check the toilet bowl for color. If the color has leaked in, repair your toilet right away!

(PRACTICING) CATHOLIC – BENEATH THE SURFACE

By Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

t's 9:08 on a Saturday morning, and I am too darn busy for confession.

I've probably written before about how hard I find it to get to confession — I say 'probably' because I really can't remember. I whine about it so frequently that it's hard to tell if I've made it the subject of a written piece or if it is simply an oft-recited refrain from the Litany of Colleen's Perpetual Complaints.

During the week, it's tough to get to confession because I have little kids who are attached to me like Velcro, and I don't need them listening in on (and eventually repeating to everyone) my sins. On the weekend it's a little easier, but our parish doesn't offer it before or after Sunday Mass, just on Saturdays. Saturday is when I get most of my work done, so getting absolution usually comes at the expense of productivity.

And that, friends, right here, is my barn. Productivity. That's the proverbial storehouse of my earthly harvest. For the rich man in the parable, it's a literal barn, filled to bursting with sellable crops. For you it might be money or your job title or what your life looks like to other people on social media. For me, it's Getting Things Done. That's my barn, the repository that holds the whole of my worldly preoccupations.

And it's so full I want to tear it down and build a new one. A bigger one. One that can hold more worry, more time for work, more focus on output and crossing things off a todo list. Vanity of vanities, indeed.

If I die tonight, the deadlines will go unmet, and no one will even notice. But God, when He meets me in the world to come, will surely ask me why I couldn't take 45 minutes to accept a gift He tried again and again to give me.

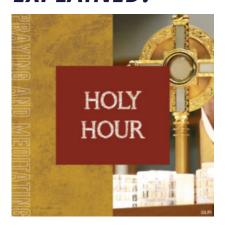

I have to burn the barn, friends. I don't want to, but I have to. I'm closing my laptop and going to church. ©LPi

DEVOTIONS, EXPLAINED!

A holy hour is the practice of spending one hour's time in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament, praying and meditating on the agony of Jesus Christ. ©LPi

The daily examen is a spiritual practice whereby one places himself in the presence of God, prayerfully reflecting on the blessings of the day, the actions he took, and the invitation God has for his future decisions. ©LPI
