JUN 4
The Most Holy Trinity

JUN 11
The Most Holy Body and Blood of Our Lord Jesus Christ (Corpus Christi)
- SEQUENCE: The Sequence “Laud O Sion” is optional in either its short or long form.
- PROCESSION: This year especially as we celebrate the beginning of the Parish Phase of the Eucharistic Revival, please consider planning a Eucharistic procession after a principal Mass.

JUN 16
The Most Sacred Heart of Jesus
- On this, the WORLD DAY OF PRAYER FOR THE SANCTIFICATION OF PRIESTS, prayers for priestly holiness may be included in the Universal Prayers.

JUN 18
Eleventh Sunday in Ordinary Time
- FATHER’S DAY: A prayer over the people for Father’s Day can be found in the Book of Blessings, #1729
JUN 24

The Nativity of John the Baptist

- VIGIL MASS: This Solemnity has a proper Vigil Mass which may be celebrated at any time in the evening the day before.
- The GLORIA and CREED are said.

JUN 27

Optional Memorial of Our Lady of Perpetual Help (OKC)

- Permitted today in the Archdiocese of Oklahoma City is the Optional Memorial of our Lady of Perpetual Help. Any Mass from the Common of the BVM may be used, or, from Collection of Masses of the Blessed Virgin Mary: #42, BVM, Help of Christians.

JUN 29

Saints Peter and Paul

- VIGIL MASS: This Solemnity has a proper Vigil Mass which may be celebrated at any time in the evening the day before.
- The GLORIA and CREED are said.
JUL 3
St. Thomas the Apostle
- The GLORIA is said.

JUL 22
Saint Mary Magdalene
- FEAST: This day was elevated to the liturgical rank of Feast in 2016. The GLORIA is said.
- A proper preface was composed and may be found here.

JUL 28
Optional Memorial of Blessed Stanley Rother
- The Collect and other texts for the Optional Memorial of Blessed Stanley Rother may be found here.
- Per Archbishop’s permission, this may also be observed on the following weekend (Jul 29-30).

JUL 29
Saints Martha, Mary, and Lazarus
- For more information including Mass formulary, the USCCB provides resources here.
Between the Second Vatican Council’s Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy and the solidification of the Roman Rite in the 1969 Missal of Paul VI, an important instruction was published on the Sacred Music in the Liturgy. Musicam Sacram, promulgated in 1967, explores the important element of music within liturgy. This instruction, rich in theological reflection as well as practical advice, introduces the Church to a renewed vision for enshrining Sacred Music in the Liturgy.

Among the innovative frameworks this instruction gives is something called “progressive solemnity.” (cf. MS, 38) This model for liturgy initially was a response to the “all-or-nothing” framework given by the ’62 Roman Missal. There were only two options: “the sung Mass (Missa in cantu), and the read Mass (Missalecta), commonly called low Mass.” Musicam Sacram suggested instead: “Between the solemn, fuller form of liturgical celebration, in which everything that demands singing is in fact sung, and the simplest form, in which singing is not used, there can be various degrees according to the greater or lesser place allotted to singing.” (MS, 7)

The concept of progressive solemnity was initially introduced, then, to invite more music in the liturgy. By doing away with an all-or-nothing attitude, celebrants of the liturgy would be empowered to elevate music progressively in the celebration of the Mass and the Liturgy of the Hours according to circumstances. However, this framework has developed since the publication of Musicam Sacram to apply not only to music, but other elements of liturgical celebration as well.

The persistent danger in this framework is arbitrariness. Including solemn elements or chanting in the Mass “when we feel like it” communicates a disorderliness in the liturgical project of the Church. The idea of progressive solemnity, however, helps us to rightly order our worship of God in the liturgy in celebration of the mysteries of the Life of Christ and the Saints. The Paschal Mystery is always celebrated in the Eucharist and in the Divine Office, but by engaging in progressive solemnity, we allow for our worship to be most fitting to the reality of our earthly lives and fight against the temptation to minimalism.

The main criteria to be considered with progressive solemnity, then, is the liturgical calendar. In a previous article, the “Table of Liturgical Days according to Their Order of Precedence” was referenced as a means for choosing the Mass to be celebrated when multiple celebrations coincide. This same table directs progressive solemnity. Listed from 1-13, the categories of liturgical days are ordered by importance in the liturgical life of the Church. This numbering approximately maps to a scale from most solemn to least solemn. Our celebration of the liturgy should reflect where it falls in the table.

While the “rank” of a liturgical day (Solemnity, Feast, Memorial, Commemoration) should be the primary criterion for determining how to utilize progressive solemnity on a particular day, the circumstances must be considered as well. A weekday Mass at Noon on December 8 for the Solemnity of Immaculate Conception may not advantageously employ incense and chanting throughout the Mass as it could severely inconvenience those who are in attendance during their work lunch hour. Likewise, a festive occasion in the life of the community might elevate a liturgy which otherwise might be simpler. Nonetheless, the framework of progressive solemnity helps appropriately celebrate the liturgy when circumstances allow.

In the articles that follow, we will explore how this framework of progressive solemnity can be utilized in the specific elements of the celebration of the liturgy: music, art and environment, and optional rites. Throughout this study, it is the job of those in charge of planning liturgy in their communities to develop a schema for implementing progressive solemnity appropriately according to circumstances.

Zachary M. Boazman

---

Saturday August 12, 2023

Ordination of Rodrigo Serna to the Priesthood

Cathedral of Our Lady of Perpetual Help

10am
Belief in the real presence of Christ in the sacrament of the Eucharist has always been the heart of our Catholic faith. Participating at Mass and receiving the Lord’s Body and Blood in holy Communion is the most important thing we do each week as Catholic Christians. Christ’s presence is so great and wondrous that we encounter it in multiple ways. Based on the teachings of the Second Vatican Council, this booklet explores the many presences of Christ as experienced in the liturgy: in the gathered assembly, the minister, the proclaimed Word and, most especially, the Eucharist. This resource also reflects upon Christ’s presence in the Body of Christ, the Church, called forth from the liturgy as a sign of his presence in the world.