Celebrating What Our Nation's Founders Cherished

The Fourth of July simply would not be a day for celebration if we were to lose sight of the significance of this day. It is, as we all learned at school and home, our nation's birthday. Happy Birthday, America! Officially, and with good reason, it's also called Independence Day. Think about that. "The Fourth" is, after all, just a day of the month, it could just as easily have been any other day of any other month. But calling this day Independence Day says it all. Independence from what? Independence from unjust rule. Independence from being ruled by those who love their power over others more than they love others. Independence from the state that failed to recognize all the ways in which EVERY person, not just a select group, inherently longs for a personal freedom in keeping with the dignity given to all by our Creator. By Him, said the Founding Fathers, we are ALL endowed with the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. They noted that these truths are indeed self-evident.

For two hundred forty-six years and counting, the United States has been a model to other nations. Consider the lengths to which her founding documents, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, sought to guarantee and defend, the rights and liberties of the individual, properly understood. It is that proper understanding of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness which has seemed more elusive than ever these past fifty years or so. Is the wisdom of the Founding Fathers, the signers of the Declaration of Independence, the framers of the Bill of Rights and the U.S. Constitution so time-bound as to be irrelevant to our nation today? The question that is at the heart of so much sharp debate is that of the foundational principles which produced our Constitution. Should they be left behind in favor of an always-evolving understanding of those principles? In practice, it has left little room for recognizing what these principles were to begin with. We've ended up with the judicial branch of government often usurping the role proper to the legislative branch. That's the branch that formulates, debates and ultimately passes laws. The legislative branch is that which should reflect the majority will of a well-informed, voting electorate on any and all issues brought before the legislative branch-nationally, the U.S. House of Representatives (Congress) and the U.S. Senate.

So often, however, the will of the majority has been thwarted, and legislation impeded by a judicial imperialism the Founding Fathers did not foresee for us. They had clearly declared their independence from such tyranny. So, why are we so quick to accept it? Well, by way of example, it's the only way something as horrific as abortion, for any "reason" could be declared legal across the land. The voice of the people was ignored, the legislative process established by our own Founding Fathers was deliberately circumvented. For this great nation to have many more "Happy Fourth's of July" we must pray for America, and work to retrieve what has been lost by our abandonment of the principles which inspired and guided the framers of our U.S. Constitution.

Begin your celebration of the 4th of July by joining us for morning Mass Monday at 9:00 am.

Have a safe and happy 4th!

Sincerely in Christ,

Fr. Albert

St. Joseph School News

The school year ended with lots of fun activities including an 80's dress day and the ever popular Field Day. In spite of the rainy day and Field Day having to be held inside, the students enjoyed a great day of games, crafts, a special lunch and entertainment by Coach Josh. Thank you to all the parent volunteers who made the day a success and memorable for all the students.

Sunday, July 3 Gospel of Lk 10:1-12, 17-20

At that time the Lord appointed seventy-two others whom he sent ahead of him in pairs to every town and place he intended to visit. He said to them, "The harvest is abundant but the laborers are few; so ask the master of the harvest to send out laborers for his harvest. Go on your way; behold, I am sending you like lambs among wolves. Carry no money bag, no sack, no sandals; and greet no one along the way. Into whatever house you enter, first say, 'Peace to this household.' If a peaceful person lives there, your peace will rest on him; but if not, it will return to you. Stay in the same house and eat and drink what is offered to you, for the laborer deserves his payment. Do not move about from one house to another. Whatever town you enter and they welcome you, eat what is set before you, cure the sick in it and say to them, 'The kingdom of God is at hand for you.' Whatever town you enter and they do not receive you, go out into the streets and say, 'The dust of your town that clings to our feet, even that we shake off against you.' Yet know this: the kingdom of God is at hand. I tell you, it will be more tolerable for Sodom on that day than for that town."

The seventy-two returned rejoicing, and said, "Lord, even the demons are subject to us because of your name." Jesus said, "I have observed Satan fall like lightning from the sky. Behold, I have given you the power to 'tread upon serpents' and scorpions and upon the full force of the enemy and nothing will harm you. Nevertheless, do not rejoice because the spirits are subject to you, but rejoice because your names are written in heaven."
