Safe Environment

During the month of November, our Safe Environment coordinator will be working with volunteers to bring our safe environment records current.

Remember, if your safe environment certification has expired, or you need a background check or paperwork, you are not considered current. According to Diocesan policy you cannot / should not serve until all your records are current.

There is a list of volunteers that are needing information in the "inbox" in the hall outside of Mellow's office.

Church leaders, please come by check your members name; and help us to add the needed information to your files.

Our parish is busy for the last two months of the year., and you do not want to miss out.

Please call the office if you have any questions.

Thank you and God Bless!

If something spills in the rooms when the various groups and classes use them, please help us by cleaning it up. Help us by putting the trash in the trash can, if full, close it, tie it off, and place it in the hall.

Restrooms, in both the church, and the church hall walk way have had toilet paper stuffed down the toilet, & toilet paper on the floor, even the sink left with water running!

Adults, please watch your children, catechists, and volunteers please watch your students.

This is our home, let's keep it clean, and beautiful.

Your cooperation is appreciated .

*CALAVERITAS...
A nuestro querido Párroco*

De mañana a mañana con sus piernas flacas, corre nuestro Feliciano, queriendo la lonja bajar.

Mas no lo puede lograr porque come mucho pan, y, sus patitas le tiemblan al caminar. Hoy no se pudo levantar, su cocinera le envenenó, con tres tamales y dos burros de jamón.

En camposanto canta nuestro cura tripón, con vítores y aplausos en homenaje a su sermón.

Envidiosa de su triunfo la muerte lo quiere regresar, pa' que vuelva a sus dibujos, pues aquí no quiere trabajar.

Desconsolado el pastor ruega a la muerte oportunidad, con el siguiente sermón:

La muerte es segura para los hijos de Adán.

También la vida eterna si aprendes a amar.

Son estos los caminos que al cielo van a dar.

La muerte es astuta, a todos confunde ya. A unos ofrece pan, a otros mezcal, pero a todos lleva en su poderoso costal.

CALAVERITAS...

*A doña Cata - Cociera de los hermanos-Muy temprano doña Catalina, con muchas ganas de trabajar. Ha cocinado unas quesadillas, para hacerlos trabajar,

Tres curas santos nuestra parroquia perdía, lloraba con melancolía. Arrepentida de su osadía, doña Cata se suicidó.

Angeles de Esperanza

Ángeles de esperanza trabajando están, con menudo de vaca flaca pa' colaborar.
Los feligreses no comen más, tienen miedo a enfermar. Muy ladinos los fieles están, devorando con ansiedad. Más no saben que la muerte esperándoles está, y al panteón llevarlos a descansar.

Guadalupanas y su director (Hno. Juan)

Digna y santa la calaca en apretado abrazo, al hermano Juan abraza, para sobarle pansa.
Enamorada se quedó a l sentirlo como un bombón. Mas al oído le gritó, contigo, yo me hago dos tortas de jamón.

Le lloran las guadalupanas, con mucho dolor. 20 misas le dijeron pa' sacarlo del panteón.

Enojada la catrina lo peleó.
A todas, dijo... yo lo entrego, si cambian el corazón. Esto no queda así, muy dispuestas a discutir.

Nosotras claridosas ricos tacos haremos de ti.

CALAVERITAS...
To Our Dear Pastor

From morning till dawn, without rest or delay, our dear Father Feliciano runs each day. With skinny legs and lofty aim, he tries to lose that belly's claim. But alas, it's all in vain — too much bread is to blame! His trembling knees can hardly stand, as he strolls across the land. Today, poor man, he could not rise, for his cook had planned a surprise! Three tamales, two ham burritos — oh no!, a deadly feast to strike the final blow. Now in the graveyard sings our plump priest dear, his sermons echo, loud and clear. Applause and cheers fill Death's domain, as souls rejoice in his refrain. Jealous of his grand success, Death sighed, "I must confess — I'll send him back to draw and preach, for here he works beyond my reach." Heartbroken, the pastor pleads with grace, "Dear Death, grant me one more place, to preach this truth before I part, a sermon flowing from my heart:"
"Death is certain for Adam's kin, yet eternal life begins within.
These are the paths that lead above — through faith, through mercy, through endless love. For Death is cunning, sly, and grand,
she tricks us all across the land.
To some she offers bread so sweet, to others mezcal — her deadly treat.
But all she gathers, one and all, into her mighty, endless shawl

CALAVERITAS...

To doña Cata — Cook for the Brothers

Early each day sweet Cata wakes, her heart alive, her spirit aches. She fries up quesadillas hot, to feed the brothers — quite a plot! For once they're full, they'll work all day, and she might send their souls away. Three holy priests the parish lost, the church lamented, counting cost. Repentant of her fiery spree, Doña Cata took destiny.

Angels of Hope

Angels of Hope are working still, with skinny cow soup — what goodwill! They serve with smiles and helping hands, to raise the funds that God demands. But faithful ones won't eat a bite, afraid they'll sicken overnight. So sly they feast, yet unaware, that Death herself is waiting there — to take them gently to her lair.

The Guadalupanas and Brother Juan

Holy Death, so proud and tight, embraced dear Juan with all her might. She rubbed his belly, sweet and round, and love within her heart she found. "Oh Juan," she sighed, "you're quite the one, a candy man, a honey bun!
With you, my dear, I'd gladly make, two ham sandwiches for heaven's sake!" The Guadalupanas cried and prayed, twenty Masses humbly made.
To pull him from Death's bony hand, back to life in their own land. But Death grew mad, "Enough!" she said, "I'll give him back — if hearts are shed. Change your ways, your hearts renew, or he stays here, away from you!"
"This won't end so easily," the women vowed defiantly. "Speak like that, oh bony queen, and we'll make tacos from your spleen!"
