Notes from the Classroom:

I have a few housekeeping items to address this week.

1. Uniforms- the school uniform includes a sweatshirt for PE days and a sweater for all other days. The children are not bringing these items to school regularly, and are then asking to keep their coat on all day. Please make sure they have the proper clothing for the weather each day.
2. Earrings- While I am a fan of lovely dangly earrings, they are against the school uniform policy and should not be worn, mostly for safety reasons at recess and PE. Please make sure your child is not wearing long earrings- only small studs are allowed.
3. Late work- You may see an increase in homework coming home as some students aren't finishing all their classwork during the day. Please remind your child to double check their green folders each night to see if there is any work they need to complete in addition to the normal homework. If an item comes home Monday and is turned in by Tuesday, there is no penalty. If incomplete work does not come back the next day, we will dock points from the assignment. We are working towards self-sufficiency and responsibility and appreciate your support on the home front.
4. Snacks- Please remember to send in a snack with your student each day. This may also include the appropriate utensils so they can eat the snack.

Partners In Faith: As part of our upcoming celebration of Catholic Schools week, we will be discussing the rosary. We will be making prayer cards to accompany rosaries we will donate to areas in need. Please take some time to talk with you child about the rosary and perhaps pray it together as a family.
