THIRTY-FIRST SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Almighty and merciful God, by whose gift your faithful offer you right and praiseworthy service, grant, we pray, that we may hasten without stumbling to receive the things you have promised. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God, for ever and ever.

GOSPEL MEDITATION ST. LUKE 19: 1-10

Zacchaeus's interest in seeing what Jesus was like was caused by something more than idle curiosity.

Unknown to him, the grace of God was working within him. Jesus already knew what Zacchaeus was like and intended to save him from his pursuit after earthly wealth and offer him eternal riches. Jesus entered not only the home and heart of Zacchaeus that day, but also his whole household. From that day Jesus had devoted followers in Jericho and Christianity had a strong foothold in that ancient city. The story of Zacchaeus' conversion is put before us today, not as a matter of historical interest, but as a matter of spiritual interest. We are all sinners to a greater or lesser degree. Jesus is approaching each one of us today by means of this very lesson. Let each one of us, like Zacchaeus, see what Jesus is like. He is a loving brother who died that we might live, a fellowman who suffered tortures that we might have eternal joy. He was also the Son of God, the God of infinite love. At the same time, let Jesus see us as we really are. Let us expose and confess to him all our earthly weaknesses and injustices against God and neighbor. He will find a remedy for us. He will put us back once more on the straight road to heaven. Today, salvation will come to us and to our house. We will become again true sons of Abraham, true heirs to heaven.
