A COIN: WHAT IS YOUR COIN WORTH???

A young woman, of devout faith, who I spoke to recently, shared that she would very much like to be married and together with her husband, raise children who would give honor and glory to God. I thought this young woman spoke the truth about the noble and virtuous purpose for the sacrament of marriage. This lovely woman recalled for me today's gospel, where Jesus draws into sharp focus our worldly obligations, "Repay to Caesar what belongs to Caesar" against our duties to God, "And give to God what belongs to God."

For most of us, our duties to society and to God will flow directly from our sense of the common good. The teachings of the Church are not an obstacle to living a life where society flourishes. The flourishing of a good society begins with families who love, cherish and honor one another from conception to natural death. As we watch out for each other we make decisions in the world of economics, science and government that contribute to the real growth of her citizens.

Looking out for only yourself is not the way to render to God what belongs to God, nor is it the way to render proper tribute to a just society. We owe it to one another to form our consciences, according to Christian development of thought, and to know that the Church is an unlimited and sacred source of truth that really can meet the challenges of a world often devoid of a moral and religious compass. The Church knows how to stand with the poor, the marginalized and the downtrodden. She knows how to render care to families and the elderly and by so doing she improves society in many ways. The church also understands woundedness and how Christ alone can be the penetrating, healing balm.

At times, the Church has not always held up her principles, but when the Lord asks for a rendering, the Church seeks forgiveness and mercy. These lessons are the most powerful she teaches.

When Jesus holds up the "coin" of our life for us to look at, what will we see? Will He see an automaton paying taxes to society with no thought of the common good, or will the Lord see that joyous young woman or man looking forward to building a sacramental life of Christian faith and raising good citizens to help society flourish and grow.

Saint John Paul II

FEAST DAY — OCTOBER 22

When this popular pope died, crowds in St. Peter's Square chanted "santo subito" ("sainthood now"). The Vatican heard, and the sainthood cause for the jet setting pontiff who helped bring down European communism was put on the fast track; he was beatified in 2011. A strong admirer of St. Faustina and her dedication to Divine Mercy, John Paul II was canonized on Divine Mercy Sunday 2014 by Pope Francis.

A Pole and former actor shaped by World War II and the Cold War, Cardinal Karol Wojtyla of Krakow (John Paul II) was the first non-Italian pope in 455 years. In his 26-year pontificate, he evangelized on trips to 129 countries, upheld traditional church doctrine against dissent, connected with the world's youth, established World Youth Day, and named more than 450 new saints. He also modeled Christian values by forgiving his would-be assassin and living an increasingly frail old age in public.

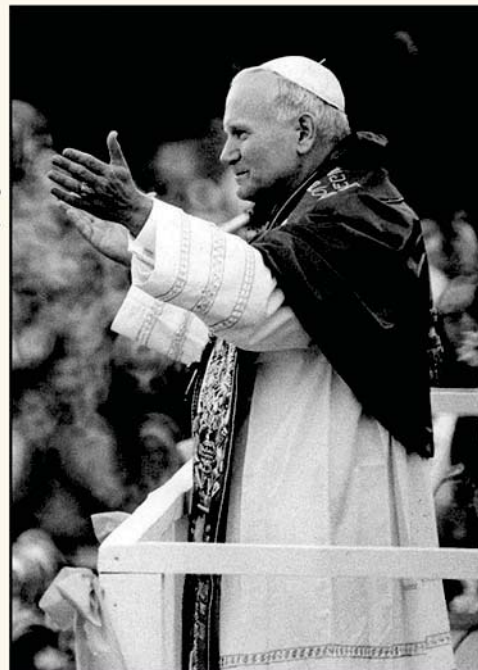

John Paul II established Divine Mercy Sunday as the Second Sunday of Easter for the Church in April 2000, though the feast had already been celebrated in Poland for many years. In that first Divine Mercy Sunday Mass, John Paul II said it was Jesus' love and mercy that must inspire all of humanity:

“ It is this love which must inspire humanity today, if it is to face the crisis of the meaning of life, the challenges of the most diverse needs and, especially, the duty to defend the dignity of every human person. Thus the message of divine mercy is also implicitly a message about the value of every human being. Each person is precious in God's eyes; Christ gave his life for each one; to everyone the Father gives his Spirit and offers intimacy. ”

FALL ADULT FORMATION: ETERNAL REST - THE ART OF DYING WELL

presented by the acclaimed Augustine Institute

Facilitators: Mary Ellen Cassani, Director Pastoral Ministries

Maureen Walsh, Psychiatric NP, Grief Therapist and Educator

Janet Larkin, RN and Specialist in Hospice Care and the Adult Formation Team

Since the state of our soul, at the critical moment of death, will actually determine our eternity, preparing for our end of days is something that is part of everyday life. With God's grace and assistance we will do this task well and spend our lives with Him forever.

This program seeks to look at some of the "big" questions: Why am I here? What is the purpose of my existence? How do I love God in the best way possible?

During this seven week program we will look at various aspects of "The Grace of Dying Well" from the spiritual, to the medical (palliative care and hospice), to legal aspects, to the funeral and all the way through grief, bereavement and hope.

I think you will find it an uplifting seven weeks focused on understanding and contemplating the divine love of Christ that is present here in Holy Eucharist, yet awaits us in our true home, Heaven.

Saints Simon and Jude

FEAST DAY: OCTOBER 28

Listed among the Twelve Apostles in the New Testament, Simon is “the Canaanite” to Matthew and Mark and “the Zealot” to Luke; Jude is “Thaddeus” to Matthew and Mark, “Judas of James” to Luke, and “Judas, not Iscariot” to John. After Pentecost, they disappear. However, according to Eastern tradition, Simon died peacefully in Edessa, while Western tradition has him evangelizing in Egypt, then teaming up with Jude, who had been in Mesopotamia, on a mission to Persia, where they were martyred on the same day. Simon is the patron saint of tanners and lumberjacks; Jude is the patron of desperate causes, possibly because early Christians would pray to him, with a name evoking Judas Iscariot, only when all else failed.

THE SOLUTION FOR YOUR CHRONIC PAIN!

"Ever since I was a teen, I've had debilitating migraines."

"My knee injury is why I gave up sports."

"I've had arthritis for as long as I can remember."

"I get a shooting pain from my lower back that prevents me from walking."

What do all of these people have in common?

They suffer from chronic pain. In the US, it's estimated that more than 20% of adults experience chronic pain – that's roughly 50 million people! Although more common among older adults, young individuals fall victim to this as well.

Chronic pain is any kind of significant pain that's stuck around for weeks, months, or even years after the initial injury or condition that caused it has healed. For patient Rebecca C. of Marshfield, age 38, after being injured in a car accident, this meant the inability to walk for nearly 2 years! "My back and hip pain were so debilitating that I found myself bedridden for the majority of my days until I finally tried acupuncture. With each treatment, I feel like I gain at least a sliver of my life back," she remarks.

At New England Wellness Solutions, Acupuncturists, and brothers, Bryan and Jimmy Duong believe they hold a large piece to the chronic pain puzzle. "Having helped a multitude of chronic ailments, we have seen time and time again how healing acupuncture can be for people. We pride ourselves in working with our patients to come up with the best solution specifically for them. To supplement our sessions, we discuss appropriate lifestyle tips and tricks to benefit them beyond our clinic's walls," Bryan explains.

Managing chronic pain can be challenging. Treatment often requires a personalized multidisciplinary approach. This may include lifestyle modifications, physical therapy, psychological counseling, medications or supplements. Since complete relief may not always be possible for every individual, the ultimate goal is to improve overall quality of life and functionality.

"I may still be unable to dance, but at least now I am able to comfortably stand on two feet! Before I started here, I never anticipated being able to walk again as acupuncture was honestly my last resort in a long line of attempted treatments, but look at me now!" Rebecca shares.

Almost all of our patients come to us with stories similar to Rebecca's. They've been everywhere else. They've been told there's no hope. They've heard, "It comes with aging," shares Lynne, a Patient Care Liaison at NEWS. "It just breaks my heart but I know how much we can help people like Rebecca so I'm always so happy when they come through our door."

Western medicine is often quick to distribute medication as a bandaid or look toward more traditional, costly therapies, like PT, until they end up deeming the chronic pain "untreatable," as they did for Rebecca. This is the point that most people reach right before visiting us, which is why our patients, along with our Practitioners Bryan and Jimmy, embrace NEWS as "the last resort with the best results."

Oftentimes, chronic pain is caused (and exacerbated) by underlying medical conditions, injuries or surgeries, nerve damage, musculoskeletal issues, autoimmune diseases, and psychological factors. Because of this, our patients are generally seeking a hail mary attempt at pain management without the surplus of pills – or as we like to say, they're "choosing points over pills." At NEWS, Jimmy and Bryan help steer you in the direction of the most natural healing methodology to promote the best, and least toxic, results.

You may be thinking: what exactly is this magical solution that Dr. Bryan and Dr. Jimmy offer that can reduce, or even eliminate, chronic pain?

To maximize your results, we take the holistic approach. We'll sit with you to better understand your health background and underlying issue(s). From there, we'll determine the appropriate outlook for your sessions.

The process of Acupuncture Therapy is known to generate the following pain relieving effects:

- (1) Endorphin release, as it stimulates the body's natural pain-relieving chemicals.
- (2) Modulation of pain signals, altering the messages of the central nervous system.
- (3) Anti-inflammatory effects, alleviating pain that stems from inflammatory conditions.
- (4) Improve blood flow, promoting healing while reducing muscle tension.
- (5) Nerve stimulation, releasing neurotransmitters which can block pain signals and promote relaxation.
- (6) Balance Qi (energy) through the body's meridians since blocked or imbalanced Qi is believed to contribute to pain and illness.

When it comes to treating chronic pain, regardless of its origin, early treatment greatly improves the swiftness of your recovery. If you or someone you love are suffering from chronic pain that "just won't go away," it's important to know that there are options. There is hope!

Rebecca started out skeptical, but lives to tell the tale of her remarkable chronic pain recovery through the means of Acupuncture here at New England Wellness Solutions.
