LOVE COMMANDED

ST. PAUL CENTER FOR BIBLICAL THEOLOGY

By Dr. Scott Hahn

Jesus came not to abolish the Old Testament law but to fulfill it (see Matthew 5:17).

And in today's Gospel, He reveals that love - of God and of neighbor - is the fulfillment of the whole of the law (see Romans 13:8-10).

Devout Israelites were to keep all 613 commands found in the Bible's first five books. Jesus says today that all these, and all the teachings of the prophets, can be summarized by two verses of this law (see Deuteronomy 6:5; Leviticus 19:18).

He seems to summarize the two stone tablets on which God was said to have engraved the ten commandments (see Exodus 32:15-16). The first tablet set out three laws concerning the love of God - such as the command not to take His name in vain; the second contained seven commands regarding love of neighbor, such as those against stealing and adultery.

Love is the hinge that binds the two tablets of the law. For we can't love God, whom we can't see, if we don't love our neighbor, whom we can (see 1 John 4:20-22).

But this love we are called to is far more than simple affection or warm sentiment. We must give ourselves totally to God - loving with our whole beings, with all our heart, soul and mind. Our love for our neighbor must express itself in concrete actions, such as those set out in today's First Reading.

We love because He first loved us (see 1 John 4:19). As we sing in today's Psalm, He has been our deliverer, our strength when we could not possibly defend ourselves against the enemies of sin and death.

We love in thanksgiving for our salvation. And in this become imitators of Jesus, as Paul tells us in today's Epistle - laying down our lives daily in ways large and small, seen and unseen; our lives offered as a continual sacrifice of praise (see John 15:12-13; Hebrews 13:15).

Saint Charles Borromeo

FEAST DAY — NOVEMBER 4

Though Charles suffered all his life from a speech impediment, his intelligence and zeal made him an outstanding figure of the Catholic Reformation. In 1560, he was named a cardinal and administrator of the Archdiocese of Milan by his uncle, Pope Pius IV, but was kept in Rome to assist with the reconvened Council of Trent. He helped draft the council's catechism and liturgical books, and in 1563 was ordained a priest and bishop. Finally, in 1566, he was allowed to go to Milan, where he worked tirelessly to reform priestly training and lay catechesis. He also exhausted his own funds to provide relief during periods of famine and plague. He is the patron of seminarians and catechists.

FALL ADULT FORMATION: ETERNAL REST - THE ART OF DYING WELL

presented by the acclaimed Augustine Institute

Facilitators: Mary Ellen Cassani, Director Pastoral Ministries

Maureen Walsh, Psychiatric NP, Grief Therapist and Educator

Janet Larkin, RN and Specialist in Hospice Care and the Adult Formation Team

Since the state of our soul, at the critical moment of death, will actually determine our eternity, preparing for our end of days is something that is part of everyday life. With God's grace and assistance we will do this task well and spend our lives with Him forever.

This program seeks to look at some of the "big" questions: Why am I here? What is the purpose of my existence? How do I love God in the best way possible?

During this seven week program we will look at various aspects of "The Grace of Dying Well" from the spiritual, to the medical (palliative care and hospice), to legal aspects, to the funeral and all the way through grief, bereavement and hope.

I think you will find it an uplifting seven weeks focused on understanding and contemplating the divine love of Christ that is present here in Holy Eucharist, yet awaits us in our true home, Heaven.

THE SOLUTION FOR YOUR CHRONIC PAIN!

"Ever since I was a teen, I've had debilitating migraines."

"My knee injury is why I gave up sports."

"I've had arthritis for as long as I can remember."

"I get a shooting pain from my lower back that prevents me from walking."

What do all of these people have in common?

They suffer from chronic pain. In the US, it's estimated that more than 20% of adults experience chronic pain – that's roughly 50 million people! Although more common among older adults, young individuals fall victim to this as well.

Chronic pain is any kind of significant pain that's stuck around for weeks, months, or even years after the initial injury or condition that caused it has healed. For patient Rebecca C. of Marshfield, age 38, after being injured in a car accident, this meant the inability to walk for nearly 2 years! "My back and hip pain were so debilitating that I found myself bedridden for the majority of my days until I finally tried acupuncture. With each treatment, I feel like I gain at least a sliver of my life back," she remarks.

At New England Wellness Solutions, Acupuncturists, and brothers, Bryan and Jimmy Duong believe they hold a large piece to the chronic pain puzzle. "Having helped a multitude of chronic ailments, we have seen time and time again how healing acupuncture can be for people. We pride ourselves in working with our patients to come up with the best solution specifically for them. To supplement our sessions, we discuss appropriate lifestyle tips and tricks to benefit them beyond our clinic's walls," Bryan explains.

Managing chronic pain can be challenging. Treatment often requires a personalized multidisciplinary approach. This may include lifestyle modifications, physical therapy, psychological counseling, medications or supplements. Since complete relief may not always be possible for every individual, the ultimate goal is to improve overall quality of life and functionality.

"I may still be unable to dance, but at least now I am able to comfortably stand on two feet! Before I started here, I never anticipated being able to walk again as acupuncture was honestly my last resort in a long line of attempted treatments, but look at me now!" Rebecca shares.

Almost all of our patients come to us with stories similar to Rebecca's. They've been everywhere else. They've been told there's no hope. They've heard, "It comes with aging," shares Lynne, a Patient Care Liaison at NEWS. "It just breaks my heart but I know how much we can help people like Rebecca so I'm always so happy when they come through our door."

Western medicine is often quick to distribute medication as a bandaid or look toward more traditional, costly therapies, like PT, until they end up deeming the chronic pain "untreatable," as they did for Rebecca. This is the point that most people reach right before visiting us, which is why our patients, along with our Practitioners Bryan and Jimmy, embrace NEWS as "the last resort with the best results."

Oftentimes, chronic pain is caused (and exacerbated) by underlying medical conditions, injuries or surgeries, nerve damage, musculoskeletal issues, autoimmune diseases, and psychological factors. Because of this, our patients are generally seeking a hail mary attempt at pain management without the surplus of pills – or as we like to say, they're "choosing points over pills." At NEWS, Jimmy and Bryan help steer you in the direction of the most natural healing methodology to promote the best, and least toxic, results.

You may be thinking: what exactly is this magical solution that Dr. Bryan and Dr. Jimmy offer that can reduce, or even eliminate, chronic pain?

To maximize your results, we take the holistic approach. We'll sit with you to better understand your health background and underlying issue(s). From there, we'll determine the appropriate outlook for your sessions.

The process of Acupuncture Therapy is known to generate the following pain relieving effects:

- (1) Endorphin release, as it stimulates the body's natural pain-relieving chemicals.
- (2) Modulation of pain signals, altering the messages of the central nervous system.
- (3) Anti-inflammatory effects, alleviating pain that stems from inflammatory conditions.
- (4) Improve blood flow, promoting healing while reducing muscle tension.
- (5) Nerve stimulation, releasing neurotransmitters which can block pain signals and promote relaxation.
- (6) Balance Qi (energy) through the body's meridians since blocked or imbalanced Qi is believed to contribute to pain and illness.

When it comes to treating chronic pain, regardless of its origin, early treatment greatly improves the swiftness of your recovery. If you or someone you love are suffering from chronic pain that "just won't go away," it's important to know that there are options. There is hope!

Rebecca started out skeptical, but lives to tell the tale of her remarkable chronic pain recovery through the means of Acupuncture here at New England Wellness Solutions.
