Dear Friends in Christ:

Quý Ông Bà và Anh Chị Em thân mến trong Chúa Kitô:
Estimados Amigos y Amigas en Cristo:

Now that the list of clergy credibly accused of sexual misconduct is published, what do we do? First of all, let us continue to pray for all affected by abuse: our children (some whom are now adults), their family members and friends and all persons who have been scandalized by the evil actions of some in the Church. There is no excuse for such acts, and clergy should be held to the highest standard, just as any other person in society, including those who are guilty also of such behavior. With love, respect and counseling, we are to help those abused who brought these grave offenses into the light, always at such great cost to their minds, hearts and souls.

At the same time, we must not allow the sins of a few to discourage our faith in the Church. Contrary to the public perception, it is a very small number of clergy who are guilty of such evil acts, especially as compared to other denominations or other professions. But the Catholic clergy seems to get most of the publicity. Yet even one such clergy abuse is one too many! Our eyes need to be fixed on Christ! That is why we worship, why we come to Mass, why we spread the Gospel in our distinct ways, etc.

Some have become so disenchanted that they are leaving the Church over this issue (or other issues), either joining another Christian Church or they simply quit going to church completely. We have to admit to such disenchantment in healthy ways and deal with it. My response is that sin, including sexual abuse, exists just as prevalently in other denominations and some of their church leadership have responded poorly also. If we think there is some group (whether religious or secular) who will never disappoint us, then we will always be let down since all people and groups are capable of sin or making decisions that we will not agree with. In an analogous way, many people do not always agree with the decisions of our public governmental leaders (national, state or local), yet we do not move to another nation or locality.

And if a person stops going to church completely, then how does that person receive God's nourishment? Yes, one can pray alone in the privacy of one's home, but all of us are "communitarian" in our nature; we are called to be in relationship with one another. That was the model of worship in both the Old and New Testaments, and ever since. "They devoted themselves to the teaching of the apostles and to the communal life, to the breaking of the bread and to the prayers (Acts 2: 42)." We need the graces from the community of worship, even when we do not know everyone in the community. How many times do we see someone we do not know and God can use that person to teach us a lesson, to bring us a grace? The same is true with a hymn, something that is said at Mass, etc. Plus the Eucharist is the supreme act of worship and source of graces. Where else do we receive the Eucharist but in the Church? I am emboldened by the following: Jesus then said to the Twelve when he was teaching on the Eucharist, "Do you also want to leave?" Simon Peter answered him, "Master, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life. We have come to believe and are convinced that you are the Holy One of God (John 6: 67-69)." Please do not let the sins of a few (or any other issue) drive you away from the graces of the Sacraments.

Some have decided to cease any monetary giving to their parish or the larger church. This only hurts the work of the Church's mission to serve the many who come to the Church for help. We minister to those in the parish by providing religious formation for children to adults, providing the means for good worship, etc. We serve those in prisons, hospitals, schools, the elderly, the poor, etc., with soup kitchens, housing, medicine, etc. The work of the Church must continue even in the midst of a crisis. The Mystical Body of Christ is called to love even in the midst of sin and failure. I cannot imagine saying that we should cease good behavior because of the sins of others. Let us rise up in a new wave of great faith and holiness and show our world that sin will not conquer us. Let us not give any more power to evil than it already has. We cannot change what was, but we can bring a renewed vigor to the Church. We began the rebuilding some 17 years ago with the Dallas Charter that began to address this issue. We still have a way to go to restore trust in the Church. Together we will strive for change and conversion as disciples who follow a loving and merciful Savior! Next week, I will continue on where the Church goes from here and what the Church has done positively.

Praised be the Sacred Heart of Jesus! Now and forever, amen!
 Hãy chúc tụng Thánh Tâm Chúa Giêsu đến muôn đời, amen!
 ¡Alabado sea el Sagrado Corazón de Jesús! ¡Por siempre, amen!

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages, God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten not made, consubstantial with the Father; through Him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation he came down from Heaven, and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man.

(We all are to make a bow of the body during the next 2 lines.)

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate; he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead, and His kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the Prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic, and apostolic Church.

I confess one baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come.

Amen.

Organ Recital: Daniel Roth

Tuesday, February 12, 7:30 pm at the Co-Cathedral

Acclaimed French organist Daniel Roth, Titular Organist of St. Sulpice in Paris, will present a recital of organ music on February 12, at 7:30 pm. This program is co-hosted by the University of Houston Organ Program, the Houston Chapter of the American Guild of Organists, and the Co-Cathedral of the Sacred Heart. Admission is free with a suggested donation.

Today's Prelude

The musical prelude prior to 11am Mass this Sunday is offered in Thanksgiving for the marriage of long time CCSH choir alto Melissa Prazak, who now works for the Archdiocese of Boston. This work, Sonata Semplice by Petr Eben (1929–2007) performed by violinist Caroline Ewan and Crista Miller reflected the bride's Czech heritage, but is interesting for us for another reason. Though Eben wrote very harmonically challenging art music, often secretly reflecting his Catholic faith, forbidden under communist rule, he tagged some pieces for the "amateur" musician. But, this piece is not exactly easy, even for professionals! Why? Eben's idea was that music should be interesting, enjoyable, and elevating for all. If you attended the recent conference on Beauty in the Liturgy, you know that "accessible and aspiring" is in line with church documents. Eben, who spent the World War II years in the Buchenwald concentration camp, reflected on the horrors he observed: "Faith and hope cannot be killed. The spirit cannot be defeated by external events."

Music Notes for Today's Liturgy

At the 9am Preparation, Schola Cantorum offers a lovely setting of Ubi Caritas by contemporary composer Ola Gjielo. From Norway, Gjielo has taken the choral world by storm at a fairly young age with his grippingly beautiful minimalist style. He says this about his Ubi Caritas: "The first time I sung in a choir was in high school, and the first piece we read through was Maurice Duruflé's Ubi Caritas. It will always be one of my favorite choral works of all time; to me, it's the perfect a cappella piece. So when I set the same text myself a few years later, it was inevitable that the Duruflé would influence it, and it did. While Duruflé used an existing, traditional chant in his piece, I used chant more as a general inspiration, while also echoing the form and dynamic range of his incomparable setting of the text."

At the 11am preparation, we hear Eternal Ruler of the Ceaseless Round by contemporary American composer Libby Larsen. A very prolific and highly distinguished composer, Larsen was commissioned to write this piece for the 2014 convention of the American Guild of Organists. Eternal Ruler is a hymn and anthem in one composition. The organ part leads with triumphs and restless vitality while the hymn moves in a straightforward way reminiscent of the hymns sung at the birth of our nation.

At the Eucharist, we hear a sublime setting of Ave verum corpus by English renaissance composer William Byrd. A prolific composer of sacred and secular music, Byrd was a student of Tallis; together, they are remembered as two of England's most important composers. Byrd was raised Puritan, but became interested in Catholicism starting in the 1570's, and even more so in the 1580's. Queen Elizabeth reigned at this time, and as tensions heightened between Rome and the Church of England, it was an increasingly dangerous time to be a Catholic. Byrd's Catholic identity can be heard most prominently in his motets, such as Ave verum.

Faith Formation Sunday - February 3

All Faith Formation sessions begin promptly at 9 am with Opening Prayer

This Week's Gospel: Luke 4:21-30

The Gospel for this Sunday is a summary of Luke's whole Gospel. Jesus tells the Good News of God's favor and kindness toward all people. But Jesus' message is rejected because he is just the son of a carpenter. Everyone faces rejection at one time or another. Children can be deeply hurt by rejection. The lesson of today's Gospel is to avoid rejecting others or prejudging them.

Question of the Week?

How difficult is it to listen to those closest to you, especially if they are trying to inform you or correct you?

Feast of the Presentation of the Lord

On Saturday, February 2, the Gospel Reading (Luke 2:22-40) describes Jesus' presentation in the Temple of Jerusalem as a fulfillment of Jewish law. It marked the end of Mary's 40-day confinement after giving birth and the Jewish tradition of the redemption of a firstborn son. Mary and Joseph brought Jesus to the Temple so that he might be "consecrated to the Lord." This event was also a fulfillment of prophecy. The Holy Spirit revealed to Simeon that he would not die until he had seen the face of Jesus the Lord. Simeon took the child Jesus in his arms and prayed:

"Now, Master, you may let your servant go in peace, according to your word, for my eyes have seen your salvation, which you prepared in the sight of all the peoples: a light for revelation to the Gentiles, and glory for your people Israel." Source: Pflaum

Christian Meditation

Wed. Evenings at 6:30 PM Parish Library
 On the first floor of the Cathedral Centre.

What is Christian Meditation?

Christian Meditation is not a study or discussion, but a weekly meeting of Christians coming together to silence their minds/hearts and listen to the quiet voice of God speaking. After a brief, pre-selected Christian message, participants meditate in silence for about 20 minutes. Meditation is an ancient form of Christian prayer practiced by the saints, and religious communities throughout the world.

Stewardship Reflection:

4th Sunday in Ordinary Time: February 3rd

That we may live more “God-centered” lives and live less “self-centered” lives.

“Love is patient, love is kind. It is not jealous, it is not pompous.” (1 Corinthians 13:4)

Do you get jealous? Do you focus more on the things that other people have than on the gifts that God has given to you? Are you pompous? Do you acquire more possessions to impress others? At times we are all guilty of these things. Pray for more humility. Pray to become less “self-centered” and become more “God-centered.”

“To Be a Christian Steward” (Continued)

A Summary of the U.S. Bishops' Pastoral Letter on Stewardship.

Stewards of Vocation

Jesus calls us, as his disciples, to a new way of life—the Christian way of life—of which stewardship is part.

But Jesus does not call us as nameless people in a faceless crowd.

- He calls us individually, by name.
- Each one of us—clergy, religious, lay person; married, single; adult, child—has a personal vocation.
- God intends each one of us to play a unique role in carrying out the divine plan.

The challenge, then, is to understand our role—our vocation—and to respond generously to this call from God. Christian vocation entails the practice of stewardship. In addition, Christ calls each of us to be stewards of our personal vocations, which we receive from God. Stewardship is a part of that journey.

Palabras del Papa Francisco

¡Necesitamos Escuchar la Palabra de Dios!

Las páginas de la Biblia dejan de ser un escrito para convertirse en palabra viva, pronunciada por Dios. Es Dios que, a través de la persona que lee, nos habla y nos interpela a nosotros, que lo escuchamos con fe. El Espíritu, «que habló a través de los profetas» e inspiró a los autores sagrados, hace que «la Palabra de Dios realice efectivamente en los corazones lo que suena en los oídos». Pero para escuchar la Palabra de Dios también hay que tener el corazón abierto para recibir la palabra en el corazón. Dios habla y nosotros lo escuchamos, para después poner en práctica lo que hemos escuchado. Es muy importante escuchar. A veces, quizás, no entendemos del todo porque hay algunas lecturas un poco difíciles. Pero Dios nos habla igual de otra manera. Hay que estar en silencio y escuchar la Palabra de Dios. No lo olvidéis. En misa, cuando empiezan las lecturas, escuchamos la Palabra de Dios. ¡Necesitamos escucharlo! Es, efectivamente, una cuestión de vida, como bien recuerda la certera frase «no solo de pan vive el hombre, sino de cada palabra que sale de la boca de Dios». La vida que nos da la Palabra de Dios. En este sentido, hablamos de la Liturgia de la Palabra como de la «mesa» que el Señor prepara para alimentar nuestra vida espiritual. La mesa litúrgica es una mesa abundante, servida en gran parte con los tesoros de la Biblia, tanto del Antiguo como del Nuevo Testamento porque en ellos la Iglesia anuncia el único e idéntico misterio de Cristo. Ciertamente, no es suficiente escuchar con los oídos, sin recibir la semilla de la Palabra divina en el corazón, para que dé fruto.
