Danke Schön!

A big thank you to Alice & Kathleen Stadelman for coordinating and cooking the Oktoberfest Dinner on Wednesday, as well as Sarah Stadelman who helped decorate, Tom and Mary Duncanson who provided steins and beer, and all who helped make this special evening a fun and memorable event. God bless you all!

Call Kathy Cowan at 347-3031 for more information.

All are welcome!

End-of-Life Issues Seminar

St. Monica Catholic Church, Coos Bay

Saturday, October 27

10:00 am - 2:00 pm

*Are you curious about:
What the Catholic Church teaches about
end-of-life issues?*

*How to plan your funeral?
Legal and medical issues regarding the end of life?*

How to leave your loved ones a Spiritual Will?

Please join Father Robert Wolf and special guests on this day for informative discussion about these issues and more. This seminar will be useful for Catholics of all ages.

Please RSVP to 541-267-7421 or maryanne@saintmonicacoosbay.org

Give Us
This Day

From Sue at Holy Redeemer parish in North Bend: The Magnificat notified us that their discount price for 2019 would be going up to $32.00, so we looked for another resource that would provide us the daily mass prayers at a lower cost.

Give Us This Day - Daily Prayer for Today's Catholic is offered at a discount price of $20.00 for the year, starting January 2019. We hope the lower price will allow more people to subscribe if they wish to.

Those who currently take the Magnificat will receive their last copy January 2019. You may still order the Magnificat as a personal subscription for $47 per year. Information for re-ordering should be in your Magnificat books.

The new order forms are located at the back of the church. Please note, orders and payment must be received at the Holy Redeemer parish office by Nov 30. You may bring your orders to the Holy Trinity office or drop them into the collection basket. Please contact Sue at 541-756-0633, ext. 201, or parishoffice@holyredeemernb.org for more information or answers to your questions about this change.

A Kingdom of Sacrifice and Service

My dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

The First Reading we heard today from the prophet Isaiah was prophesied six hundred years before the birth of Christ. It was one of various prophecies about how the Messiah would save God's people: Through suffering. In other words, God was preparing his chosen people to recognize the promised Messiah by "affliction" and by "being crushed in iniquity." The Messiah is to be known as the suffering servant. These are direct allusions to the passion, crucifixion, and death of our Lord Jesus Christ – six hundred years ahead of time. And it was precisely through those sufferings that Jesus would take all our sins upon himself, atone for them, and re-open the gates of heaven for us.

We can tell from today's Gospel that the apostles were oblivious of the prophecy from Isaiah. Their idea of the Messiah was a powerful political and military leader who would bring Israel back as a player on the international scene. And so, James and John, looking forward to that day, try to reserve their spots in the King's cabinet. Jesus took the occasion to teach them that his Kingdom is about sacrifice and service, not power politics and self-indulgence. Whatever authority is to be exercised by the disciples must, like that of Jesus, be rendered as service to others rather than for personal aggrandizement.

Being a servant does not mean allowing people to walk all over us. Sometimes it calls for us to be firm and stand up for ourselves. A parent who always lets their child have his or her own way would be doing a disservice to their child. A police officer who did not stop traffic violators wouldn't be serving anyone. A teacher who lets a student get by with cheating or not doing their work would be a poor servant as well as a poor teacher. Being a servant is not about popularity. Jesus knew that his service of healing the sick, casting out demons, and teaching would change lives but at the same time be misunderstood, ignored, and hated, yet he was ready to lay down his life in order to serve others, proving once and for all that nothing we can do, no matter how terrible it may be, will turn away his love.

Special Announcements:

On October 10th we had a wonderful Wednesday night dinner sponsored by Steve and Sarah White and their family. I am profoundly grateful to the White family for their generosity and service to our parish community.

Oktoberfest last Wednesday was a great success with many delicacies and good music. I thank Alice Stadelman for her gracious effort in organizing the event and preparing the meal with her daughter Kathleen, Sarah Stadelman for the beautiful decorations, Mary and Tom Duncanson for providing steins and beverages, and everyone who served to make the day memorable for all of us. Thank you very much.

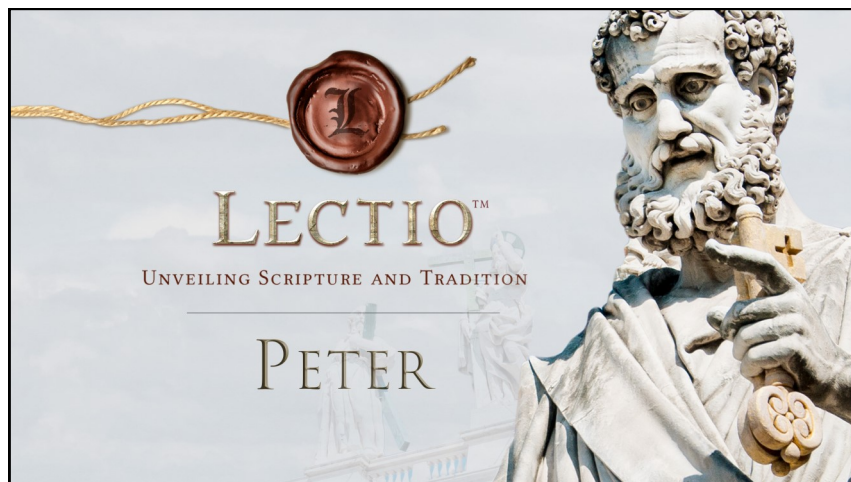

Every year on November 2nd, All Souls Day, we commemorate our brothers and sisters who have died with a Mass of Remembrance. During this year's All Souls Mass at Holy Trinity parish, we will pray for all the faithfully departed, but in a special way we will remember our brothers and sisters who passed between November 3, 2017 and November 2, 2018 – especially those buried from our parish – by lighting a candle for each one as their names are called. We will also light candles for those who died in military service and all veterans who have passed. If you lost a loved one this past year, please send us their name before Tuesday, October 30, 2018. I also invite you to join us for this Mass of Remembrance on All Souls Day at Holy Trinity Church on Friday, November 2, 2017 at 12:00 pm. I am looking forward to praying with you in memory of your loved ones.

May God bless you and your endeavors this week.

---Fr. Anthony Ahamefule

THE CATHOLIC FAITH.
ON DEMAND.

Our parish recommendation on FORMED for this week is in the video study series Lectio, Unveiling Scripture and Tradition: Peter, Session 4 ~ The Primacy of Jesus.

The character of St. Peter is both inspiring and confounding to many of us. How could a stubborn and impulsive fisherman become the "rock" upon which Jesus would build his Church? Bringing together biblical accounts, historical evidence, Church teaching, classical art, and personal insights, Dr. Tim Gray gives a fresh perspective on Simon Peter that is immediately informative and relevant to our lives. After all, if Jesus could bring out the very best in someone like Peter, then there is hope for the rest of us.
