Principal's Perspective

Dear Holy Name of Jesus School Community,

A school is ultimately defined by its people—their commitment, their generosity, and the way they show up, year after year, for the good of the community. It is with great pride and deep gratitude that I announce our Distinguished Graduate for the 2025–2026 school year: Mr. Carson Strickland.

Carson is the very definition of a Holy Name legacy. A graduate of the Class of 1995, he continued his education at Jesuit High School, the University of Georgia, and Tulane Law School. Today, he is a successful Financial Advisor at Hubble Strickland Wealth Management. While his professional accomplishments are impressive, it is his unwavering dedication to Holy Name that truly sets him apart.

To us, Carson is the person who does whatever it takes. He is a founding member of our Alumni Board and has served faithfully on the Advisory School Board, where he focused his talents on development and long-term sustainability. If you have ever enjoyed Gator Fest, you have Carson to thank. He chaired the ticket booth for more than five years, bringing organization, consistency, and joy to one of our most beloved traditions. As PTC Treasurer, Carson applied his financial expertise to establish clear, responsible monetary practices that strengthened our fundraising efforts and ensured lasting impact.

Carson is known for his humility, positivity, and remarkable organization. He does his work quietly and faithfully, always putting the school first. Perhaps the most meaningful reflection of his devotion is this: just as Carson once walked from his home to Holy Name as a child, his own children have followed the same path. This year, his youngest child graduates, beautifully closing a circle of family history and love for this school.

We are deeply grateful for Carson's decades of service. Thank you, Carson, and thank you to all who give so generously of your time and talents. Together, we continue to nurture the next generation of learners and leaders.

God Bless,
Kirsch J. Williams

Counselor Minute Meetings

Dear Parents,

Building a student-counselor relationship is so important when meeting the needs of the whole student. This spring I will be conducting "Minute Meetings". Minute meetings are just that – an individual one or two minute meeting with each student (grades 1st-7th) that serves as a form of social-emotional check-in. Students use a numbered scale to rate their feelings toward school, friends, and family.

Aside from serving to build a relationship with students, Minute Meetings also help to identify those students that may need extra support throughout their school day. Minute Meetings will take place throughout the month of February. Please let me know if you have any questions. I can be reached via email or by calling the front office.

Thanks,

FAMILY DAY at the fest!

Book it!

SUNDAY
MARCH 15
2026

10 AM - 2 PM

Bring the magic of books to life with a full day of stories, activities & discovery.

FREE BOOKS, FREE FOOD & FUN FOR READERS OF ALL AGES!

The New Orleans Book Festival at Tulane University will take place on March 12-15, 2026, featuring local, regional and national authors participating in moderated panel discussions and keynote lectures on the uptown campus. The Festival will continue to engage the local community through specially curated events that highlight New Orleans as a hub for important literary conversations. New in 2026, the Festival will expand to include an additional day of programming on Sunday, March 15, dedicated to young readers and their families. Family Day at the Fest will feature educational activities and special programming in partnership with Scholastic and the City of New Orleans.

In 2010, the New Orleans Book Festival hosted by the City of New Orleans was established to create a free event for the children of New Orleans and their families to celebrate reading. By 2013, the festival had attracted a total of 10,000 attendees and donated 35,000 books to children of the community. In 2026, Family Day at the Festival will continue this tradition and remain a place for people from different backgrounds and neighborhoods to come together for a shared love of reading and learning-.

A single book can change a young person's life. Providing young people in our community with exposure to new voices and giving them access to engaging literary experiences fosters their imaginations and positively affects them and their families. This joyful, high-energy celebration brings literature to life with live author readings, interactive performances, book giveaways and hands-on activities for kids of all ages. Admission is free and open to the public, thanks to generous support of our sponsors.

FAMILY DAY at the fest!

Family Day at the New Orleans Book Festival is a family-centered, free event that will include lively author presentations, book readings, book-related activities and a book distribution. It will be open and accessible to all children of our community and their families, and the Festival will work with public schools to encourage participation. Attendees will enjoy a full schedule of presentations, activities and entertainment.

Family Day is designed to be a dynamic and fun experience for all ages. A diverse selection of authors and presenters will interact with students and sign books throughout the day. Book characters will walk around the festival grounds creating a lively atmosphere. Children will find something that appeals to all reading levels, backgrounds and reading interests. As part of the Family Day programming, the Festival will host outreach programs including author visits to local schools. On the day of the Festival, organizers will engage a bus service to provide all day round trip transportation to and from the festival grounds from various locations throughout the Greater New Orleans area. To participate in programming, the Festival also plans to engage local partners whose mission includes literacy and family-centered initiatives. The mission of the New Orleans Book Festival at Tulane is to support and nurture a literary community by connecting readers of all ages and backgrounds with local and national authors through experiences that celebrate the power of literacy and ideas. The New Orleans Book Festival at Tulane University is housed as a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization within the structure of and is presented in partnership with Tulane University. The Festival is made possible by the support of Tulane University and the generosity of individuals, corporations and literacy and family foundations.
