LIVE THE LITURGY

Inspiration for the week

God is love. These three simple words deserve a great deal of attention. They have the power to transform our relationship with God from something that is static and distant to one that is personal and real. We all know the power of love and how important it is to completing all of the human and divine circuits of our lives. But we do not often consider the awesome fact that it is given to us as a gift and is not simply part and parcel of the human package. God is the author of love and love itself. When we truly love another human being, it is really God being God in and through us. The love to which we are called and the love of which the Gospel speaks is a selfless love that seeks the wellbeing of not only our significant others but of all of our brothers and sisters. This love, which is of God, is a love that will endure all things and bring immeasurable joy when experienced. It is the most sincere form of friendship.

Love
one another

A message from Fr. Matt . . .

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Happy Mother's Day to all of our Moms! Whether you'll be with your Mom today for brunch or dinner, or spiritually because she's in Heaven like my Mom, I hope you spend some time loving your Mom today and being loved by her.

Last week we heard the word "remain" an amazing 13 times. It was a not-so-subtle hint from God and His Church that we should focus on what that word means. This week we hear the word "love" 21 times! So, I guess the Lord wants us to focus on love, right? What do you think Jesus means when He commands us at the end of the Gospel to love one another?

Over the past year we have had to do many things differently or not at all. One of the "not at alls" that I miss is the jersey swap. If you have never seen it, sometimes at the end of a game, usually football or soccer, players swap jerseys. Often, it is a star player on one team swapping with an opposing star player. The jersey swap is a sign of respect or recognition. There is a phrase, "real recognizes real." I saw a picture of D.K. Metcalf from the Seahawks trading jerseys with Julio Jones of the Falcons after a hard fought game. The jersey swap doesn't mean they are the same. It doesn't mean that they like everything about the other. It doesn't mean that they'd rather be on the other team or have the other team win. It just means that the players recognize the goodness, the gifts and talents of the other. They recognize and respect each other and so they swap jerseys. Real recognizes real.

When Jesus gives us the command to love one another, he is calling us to this "real recognizes real" encounter. Jesus is calling us not to just like one another, or to be the same as the other. He is calling us to recognize that we are beloved by God and so is the other person. This beloved-ness is not dependent on anything we have done. In the Second Reading St. John says, "In this is love: Not that we have loved God, but that He loved us." God loves us first. We are called, commanded really, to recognize that God loves us. And God loves them, whoever they are, in the same way. Real recognizes real. Beloved recognizes beloved. Jersey swap!

Do you know who is the best at doing this? At least in my life, it was my mom. When I was about 10 years old, I was standing in our yard outside of what we called the breakfast room. I had just watched my mom wash the windows. There was snow on the ground and I decided it was a perfect time to throw a snowball at the window! When that snowball hit the just-washed window, my mom looked at me, the kindest, sweetest, most unselfish person I have ever met, in my mind a saint, and said, "You stupid jerk!" She never said stuff like that, but it definitely fit in this situation. Did this irreparably harm our relationship? Heck, no. Because Moms are the best at loving. They love us despite what we do because their love is deeper than our actions. They love us first. They recognize our beloved-ness and nothing can take that beloved-ness away, no matter how hard we try. This is the kind of love that Jesus is commanding us to have for each other. The love a Mom has for her children. The love that God the Father has for Jesus. The love that Jesus has for us.

This week, recognize your beloved-ness. Jesus says, "As the Father loves me, so I love you." Jesus says that to you! Sit with that. Feel it. Believe it. Then, remember that Jesus says that to every person you will encounter this week. Every single one. In each encounter you have with another person this week, with your family (even if some of them are stupid jerks!), with people at work or school, or in the store or on the road, remember you are beloved of God and so are they. You don't have to like everything they do to love as God loves, because God loves first. Let real recognize real. Let beloved recognize beloved. Jersey swap!

Peace and Love,
Fr. Matt

For all Mothers

Mary, on this day when we honor all mothers, we turn to you. We thank the Lord whom you serve for the great gift of motherhood. Never has it been known that anyone who sought your intercession was left unaided by grace. Dear Mother, thank you for your "Yes" to the invitation of the angel which brought heaven to earth and changed human history. You opened yourself to God's word and the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us.

Dear mother, intercede for all of our mothers. Ask your Divine Son to give them the grace of surrendered love so that they could join with you in giving their own "Fiat." May they find daily strength to say yes to the call to the sacrificial love - the very heart of the vocation of motherhood. May their love and witness be a source of great inspiration for all of us called to follow your Son.

On this Mothers day, Mother of the Word Incarnate, pray for us who have recourse to you...

Amen

Catholic Question Corner

Have you ever wondered why we do certain things the way we do? Welcome to Catholic question corner where we aim to answer some common Catholic questions.

This week’s question: Why do we kneel at Mass?

Answer: Kneeling began more as a posture of penance for our sins, but in the history of the Church, it has become more a posture of reverence and solemn prayer. The times we kneel at Mass are tied to the consecration of the holy Eucharist. We kneel in anticipation of what will occur and in awe of what has taken place: Jesus Christ becomes truly present to us under the guise of bread and wine. The profoundness of this event has over time led the Church to mandate in the current General Instruction of the Roman Missal that kneeling is the only posture allowed during this time. The sheer awesomeness of the holy Eucharist leads us to fall to our knees in wonder and thanksgiving.
