The Power of Humility

Humility isn't a popular virtue! In fact, among the Greeks and the Romans it wasn't considered a virtue at all. In a sixth-century BC list of 147 wise maxims, humility isn't even mentioned. For the ancient Greek or Roman, obtaining and defending honor was more a goal than humility ever could be.

Yet the Jewish faith values humility, as seen in Old Testament texts like the one we read today. The humble strength of conducting affairs quietly and justly makes you more loved—more so than someone who gives many gifts. Parents should reflect on this.

As Christians following a Savior who was great through his service, humility is not only recommended but becomes the ideal. Let the first be last. Let the greatest be the servant. Humility is simply living the truth of who you are. You are both great and insignificant. We can and should use all our knowledge and strength to sow the fields of creation, as in this painting. But only God gives growth.

Humility is favored by true self-knowledge. We are creatures and not the Creator. We don't make the rules of life or define right and wrong. We discover, accept, and love these laws. A healthy awareness of our limitations doesn't enslave us. It sets us free. A humble knowledge of the truth is empowering.

We are amazingly talented people, each uniquely loved and gifted by God. Each of us can achieve, and should strive for, the greatness he offers us. Humility makes us capable of true and lasting greatness—just look at Christ.

—Fr. Mark Haydu, LC

For Reflection

How well do I know myself—both my strengths and weaknesses?

Do I see everything as a gift and respond with humility?

My son, conduct your affairs with humility, and you will be loved more than a giver of gifts.

Sirach 3:17

La humildad no es una virtud popular! De hecho, entre los griegos y los romanos no se consideraba una virtud en absoluto. En una lista del siglo VI BC de 147 máximas sabias, ni siquiera se menciona la humildad. Para los antiguos griegos o romanos, obtener y defender el honor era más un objetivo que la humildad. Sin embargo, la fe judía valora la humildad, como se ve en textos del Antiguo Testamento como el que leemos hoy. La humilde fuerza de dirigir los asuntos en silencio y con justicia te hace más amado, más que alguien que da muchos regalos. Los padres deben reflexionar sobre esto. Como cristianos que siguen a un Salvador que fue grande a través de su servicio, la humildad no solo se recomienda sino que se convierte el ideal. Deja que el primero sea el último. Que el más grande sea el sirviente. La humildad es simplemente vivir la verdad de quién eres. Ambos son geniales e insignificantes. Podemos y debemos usar todo nuestro conocimiento y fuerza para sembrar los campos de la creación, como en esta pintura. Pero solo Dios da crecimiento. La humildad se ve favorecida por el verdadero autoconocimiento. Nosotros son criaturas y no el Creador. No hacemos las reglas de la vida ni definimos lo correcto y lo incorrecto. Descubrimos, aceptamos y amamos estas leyes. Una conciencia saludable de nuestras limitaciones no nos esclaviza. Nos libera. Un humilde conocimiento de la verdad es empoderado. Somos personas increíblemente talentosas, cada una de las cuales es amada y dotada por Dios. Cada uno de nosotros puede lograr, y Mi hijo, conducir sus asuntos con humildad, y será amado más que un donante de regalos. Cada uno de nosotros puede lograr y debe luchar por la grandeza que nos ofrece. La humildad nos hace capaces de la grandeza verdadera y duradera: solo mira a Cristo.

Reading 1	Reading 2	Gospel
SIR 3:17-18, 20, 28-29	HEB 12:18-19, 22-24A	LK 14:1, 7-14
Our First Reading explains humility as understanding the talents God has given us and accepting the limits of our abilities.	Our Second Reading contrasts the Israelites gathered at Mt. Sinai with the followers of Jesus gathered in the heavenly Jerusalem. The blood of Jesus is contrasted with the blood of Abel who was killed by his brother, Cain.	For every one who exalts himself will be humbled, but the one who humbles himself will be exalted."
