But do not overlook this one fact, beloved, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. 2 Peter 3:8

There are multiple words for time in Greek. One is chronos and one is kairos. The first signifies chronological time and the latter means the appropriate time. We live in chronological time. God does not. God is outside of time as we understand it. So why do we expect God to adhere to our concept of time? We think we know when we need what we want. But God sees the bigger picture. God knows what we really need and when we will need it. If we rely on the judgment of God, we will get what is necessary for us to follow the will of God. It may not always be what we want or when we want it, but we can rest assured that it is what is truly appropriate.
