But for me it is good to be near God;
I have made the Lord GOD my refuge, that I may tell of all your works. Psalm 73:28

Staying close to God is the best way to remain focused in faith. How can we do that? The first way is to form an actual relationship with God through prayer. But we also have a communal relationship through our union with the Church. When we come together as the Body of Christ, we are fed by Word and by Sacrament so that we can both strengthen our bond with God and carry the message of the Gospel from that gathering place to those who need to hear it. If we are not truly excited about our relationship with God, how can we excite others to seek that same relationship?
