

Deacon's Beacons

For my thoughts are not your thoughts,
neither are your ways my ways, declares the LORD.
For as the heavens are higher than the earth,
so are my ways higher than your ways
and my thoughts than your thoughts. Isaiah 55:8–9

Why do we think that we should know better than God what is best for us? Why do we even think we should question God? Do not get that wrong. If we are in a relationship with God, we should be able to ask why things happen. But in the end, God knows far more than we do. God sees all from the perspective of eternity so He knows all as if it was just happening. We forget that. If we really trust in God, then we should surrender to His will because His will knows all and is only able to do good. God's will is never about evil happening to us. But God also does not interfere with humanity and the effects that sin has wrought. Following the will of God is the best way to find the best outcome in anything. It takes trust and abandonment. Both are difficult for us at times.
