But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves of God, the fruit you get leads to sanctification and its end, eternal life. Romans 6:22

Being slave to anything does not sit well with us as modern Americans. But what is presented here is a choice to be a slave to sin or to the will of God. The path of slavery to sin is death. The path of being a slave to God's will is eternal life. What we choose makes a difference. Our Baptism has set us free from sin. The Sacrament of Reconciliation sets us free. But we have to strive continually to avoid sin and change our habits. That is how we choose to be slaves of God.
