“No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money.”
Matthew 6:24

We need money to be able to live and provide for our basic needs. But that is not the point here. The point is that we can have money for living or we can live to have money. Those are very different things. One means that we are responsible for earning a living to survive. The other means that our living is our identity and the end all. Love of God allows us to embrace the former. Love of money is what the latter is all about. Choose wisely.
