

Deacon's Beacons

September 15, 2025

“Come now, let us reason together, says the LORD:
though your sins are like scarlet,
they shall be as white as snow;
though they are red like crimson,
they shall become like wool.” Isaiah 1:18

This is the beginning of the Book of Isaiah. The Prophet foretells the forgiveness of sins. But it is only through the Blood of Christ that this can be achieved. Taking this verse by itself is not sufficient. It cannot be fulfilled without the Passion. So, it could be confusing to look at it by itself. However, all Scripture is the eternal Word of God. That being said, all Scripture exists outside of time because it is eternal and eternity exists outside of time. So the fulfillment of the verse extends beyond the limits of time to all time, before and after the writings of the Prophet.
