Solemnity of the Most Holy Trinity

I have a problem. For the first time in my wildly extroverted life, I find myself creating too much time alone. Why? Because I'm scrolling through the internet, reading every single soul-deadening news story. No wonder I'm on the verge of tears most of the time.

This temptation to overuse the internet ramped up considerably when I finally got a Smartphone. It's such heaven to load up a bunch of books on my phone, and then sit out on the porch, reading 'til my eyes fall out.

And now, the most addicting part of all: did you know you can watch movies on your phone? When did watching movies become the thing you do by yourself? Driving alone, living alone, watching movies alone...it's an increasingly seductive lifestyle. It's killing our souls, and further degrading the environment, when everyone wants their own apartment, and the privacy of driving everywhere alone.

In the beginning, says John Kavanaugh, SJ, there was community. Community. You remember that. Sitting out on the porch on summer nights, drinking iced tea and enjoying conversation. You remember that. It's when folks relax into the safe place of long friendships and share the highs and lows of the day.

I'm so glad I remember the deep joys of conversation, and so glad I have many touchpoints of community in my life. I can come back from the brink of isolation because I know that true redemption lies in community, not in knowing every single detail of every tragedy in the world.

In the beginning, there was the Trinity. Three Persons. It's that eternal community, that eternal conversation, that created the world, and us in Their Image.

Are there places of isolation in your life that are bad for your spirit?

Solemnidad de la Santísima Trinidad

Tengo un problema. Por primera vez en mi vida salvajemente extrovertida, me encuentro pasando demasiado tiempo sola. ¿Por qué? Porque me estoy desplazando por Internet, leyendo todas las noticias que matan el alma. No es de extrañar que esté al borde de las lágrimas la mayor parte del tiempo.

Esta tentación de abusar del Internet aumentó considerablemente cuando finalmente obtuve un teléfono inteligente. Es un paraíso bajar un montón de libros en mi teléfono y luego sentarme en el porche a leer hasta que se me caigan los ojos.

Y ahora, la parte más adictiva de todas: ¿sabías que puedes ver películas en tu teléfono? ¿Cuándo se convirtió ver películas en algo que haces solo? Conducir solo, vivir solo, ver películas solo... es un estilo de vida cada vez más seductor. Está matando nuestras almas y degradando aún más el medio ambiente, cuando todos quieren su propio apartamento y la privacidad de conducir solos a todas partes.

Al principio, dice John Kavanaugh, SJ, había comunidad. Comunidad. Si recuerdas eso. Sentarte en el porche en las noches de verano, beber té helado y disfrutar de una conversación. Si te acuerdas. Es cuando te relajabas en la seguridad que brindan tus viejos amigos y comparten entre ustedes los altibajos del día.

Me da mucha alegría recordar el gozo enorme de una buena conversación, y tan contenta de tener muchos puntos de contacto de comunidad en mi vida. Puedo volver del borde del aislamiento porque sé que la verdadera redención está en la comunidad, no en conocer cada detalle de cada tragedia en el mundo.

En el principio, estaba la Trinidad. Tres personas. Es esa comunidad eterna, esa conversación eterna, la que creó el mundo y a nosotros a Su Imagen.

¿Hay lugares de aislamiento en tu vida que son malos para tu espíritu?
